

THE NAPANEE

Vol. LII] No 10 -E. J. POLLARD, Editor and Proprietor.

NAPANEE, ONT., CANADA-FRI

Drain Tile For Sale

JOY & SON

Having installed a power machine for the manufacture of all sizes of Drain Tile, are prepared to fill all orders AT ALL SEASONS OF THE YEAR. Send in your orders and haul your tile during the winter.

SEWER PIPE, All Sizes, constantly on hand.

Also a full stock of Cement Brick and Blocks. Pressed and Colored Brick a specialty.

JOY & SON.

Office and Factory near the G. T. R. Bridge.

THE DOMINION BANK

SIR EDMUND S. OSLER, M.P., PRESIDENT. W. D. MATTHEWS, VICE-PRESIDENT.
C. A. BOGERT, General Manager.
Capital paid up $4,900,000. Reserve Fund $5,900,000. Total Assets $73,000,000.

Farmers' Banking Needs

have always received the closest attention from the Dominion Bank.
Sales Notes Discounted or Collected on most favorable terms.

NAPANEE BRANCH: G. P. REIFFENSTEIN, Manager.

What Shall I Buy For Dinner To-day?

Our suggestion is

HAMBURGER

But not the Hamburger in the accepted reputation of the word. We don't mean ground up scraps that are gathered up and placed on sale in some shops and called Hamburger.

We mean sure enough Hamburger, prepared from Choice Cuts of Meat ground right before you on our Sanitary Hobart Electric Meat Chopper.

Home-made Sausage—fresh to-day.
Ground Bones for Chicken.

Our Motto:

"QUALITY and CLEANLINESS."

TENDERS WANTED!

Sealed Tenders will be received by the undersigned up to

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 17th

1913

for the caretaking of the Harvey Warner Park for the year 1913. Tenders must include all work in connection with the park, including the turning on and off of the lights.

R. J. DICKINSON,

Chairman Town Property Committee.

AUCTION SALE!

—OF—

HOLSTEIN COWS

NEW CHANCEL AND VESTRY

Of St. Patrick's Church,
Napanee

COMPLETED AND DEDICATED

The improvements to St. Patrick's Church, Napanee, begun in July last have been successfully completed, and the new portion of the Edifice dedicated on Sunday last. By the erection of the new chancel, not only has the appearance of the structure been materially improved, but an additional seating capacity of six rows of pews has been added to the church, as well as a large, roomy sanctuary and a comfortable vestry.

The plans of the work were prepared by Mr. H. P. Smith, architect of Kingston, who at various times came to direct and overlook the construction. The contract for the masonry and plastering was fulfilled by the firm of Alex. McCartney, of Kingston; the carpenter work by A. S. Raymond, Napanee; and the heating by Boyle & Son, Napanee. The electrical arrangements were installed by the Seymour Power Co., under the direction of Mr. Chas. Walters. The painting was done by McCabe & Shaver, while Mr. F. Maracle was responsible for the decoration of the altar. The altar itself was constructed in the shops of R. Light & Son, Napanee, after the design prepared by Mr. H. P. Smith, Kingston, and is certainly a credit to the above firm. It was built and completed by Mr. Wm. Greer. The decoration of the chancel walls will not take place till the new plaster is thoroughly set, but that of the church will be placed in the hands of competent men within the next few months.

The magnificent stained-glass windows which are so greatly admired by all who have seen them, were furnished by the firm of Mayer & Co., Munich, Germany. The three rear ones—those of the Ascension of Our Lord, the Madonna and child, and St. John, the Evangelist, were the gift of Mr. John F. Walsh whose munificent generosity otherwise, had made the whole work possible. Those of the Apparition of the Sacred Heart, and the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin, came from the Estate of the late Mrs. Ellen McNeill; and that of St. Ann and the child from the late Miss M. A. Blewett. The work was materially interfered with at times by inclement weather, and delay in the arrival of material. But thanks to the efforts of the energetic committee in charge, it has been successfully completed, and stands to-day a credit to the parishioners of St. Patrick's parish, who have so generously contributed towards it, both by cash donations and various articles of statuary and decoration. Especial mention, however, is due the devoted pastor, Rev. T. P. O'Connor, at whose suggestion the work was begun, and

ILLUSTRATED LEC

Prof. Lawson Caesar, Pro-mology, Ontario Agriculture, Guelph, will give an illustration on "Injurious Insect Pests and Orchard" and "Sprays and Ing" in the Historical Hall, Wednesday evening, Feb. 13, 8 o'clock. All interested are a cordial invitation to be present. For further information a

G. B. Curran
Agricultu
Na

W. S. Herrington,
Pres. Napanee Horticulture

BELL ROCK.

No snow! No snow is the of the farmers and others will get up their wood for another

W. Brooks cut a fine pile for Sagriff Bros. last week.

Mrs. E. James is recovering from severe attack of rheumatism. James Porter, an aged farmer near the village, was seriously injured by a fall on the ice last week. Genge, Verona, is in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gramouth, are visiting friends here. A. Myers and daughter Vivi N. Y., are spending the winter at Poneroy's; Miss Leona Verona, at C. D. Yorke's.

ODESSA.

John Jones has disposed of his residence on Factory street, Kingston Clark.

The remains of the late Henry Smith were placed in the vault last Monday.

The funeral service for Filetta Hamilton was held at the Methodist church on Sunday.

The proprietors of the skating rink have a fine sheet of ice in the pond and it is in fine condition for coming carnival.

William Milsap, one of the ship's much respected residents, with a serious accident last week, falling on the ice, causing a fracture of the brain, and, owing to the age, it is likely to be fatal.

E. H. Peters has disposed of his interests in his furniture business to R. H. Wright. Mr. Peters moved to his farm south of C.

The dance in the village on the evening was an enjoyable number from a distance at

The township auditors have completed their work and found it satisfactory. The auditors were Asselstine and L. L. Clark.

DESERONTO ROAI

Mr. Harold Thompson, who has been in California, expects to reside for some time in Napanee, greatly missed by the young people. Messrs. Thos. Dowling and Amey are already moving such as they can store on their quired possessions and expect some shops and called Hamburger.

We mean sure enough Hamburger, prepared from Choice Cuts of Meat ground right before you on our Sanitary Hobart Electric Meat Chopper.
Home-made Sausage—fresh to-day.
Ground Bones for Chicken.

Our Motto:
"QUALITY and CLEANLINESS."

A. KELLY, Prop
Prompt delivery. Phone 135.

GET READY FOR HOUSE CLEANING

While the assortment of WALL PAPER is complete.
While PAPER HANGERS may be had.
Before the rush of Spring Work is on.
While you can enjoy the brightness
of your new walls.

PAPER YOUR HOUSE OUR NEW Stock is in.
The Styles are Up to the Minute.

The assortment include Velours, Gills, Tile, English and American make, and the very choicest line of Canadian Paper on the market.
Having travelled for Wallpaper for the last four years I have been able to not only get the latest designs, but to get them at the bottom price.
Call and examine our stock.

A. E. PAUL,
Paul's Bookstore

Black Diamond Tools . . .

Every Black Diamond Tool is backed by the BLACK DIA-MOND GUARANTEE, which is

"Money Back if Not Satisfactory."

We Have Black Diamond

Hand and Rip Saws
Nail Hammers
Nail Sets
Chisels
Screw Drivers
Adzes
Hatchets
Squares Levels
Breast Drills

In fact we have Black Diamond Carpenter Tools of every description.

M. S. MADOLE,

Napanee's Leading Hardware Store.
Phone, 13.

AUCTION SALE! —OF— HOLSTEIN COWS

The sale of Horses, Cows, Young Cattle, Hogs, Farm Produce, Farming Implements, Wagons, etc., belonging to Wm. Dillon, will take place at his farm (between Centreville and Enterprise) Lot No. 34, in the 6th Concession of the Township of Camden, on

THURS. FEB. 20th, 1913, at 1 p. m., Sharp.

For further particulars (see bills posted) or apply to

J. E. MADDEN, Napanee, Vendor's Solicitor.

GEO. GREER, Esq., Bailiff. 9b

EXECUTORS' NOTICE TO CREDI- TORS.

In the estate of Mary A. Empey, deceased.

Notice is hereby given pursuant to Chapter
26, of the Statutes of Ontario, 1911, Section 53, and amending Acts, that all persons having any claims or demands against the estate of Mary
A. Empey, late of the Township of Ernestown
in the County of Lennox and Addington, widow, deceased, who died on or about the 21st day of January, A.D. 1913, are required to deliver or send by post prepaid to Herrington Warner & Grange, Napanee, Ontario, solicitors for John B. Blanchard, executor of the last will and testament of the said Mary A. Empey, deceased, on or before the 10th day of March,
A.D. 1913, their christian and surnames,
addresses and descriptions, with full particulars of their claims or demands duly verified, and the nature of the security, if any, held by them.

And further take notice that after the said
10th day of March, A.D. 1913, the said executor
may proceed to distribute the assets of the said estate amongst the parties entitled thereto,
having regard only to the claims or demands
of which he shall then have received notice,
and shall not be liable for the said assets,
or any part thereof so distributed, to any person or persons of whose claims or demands
he shall have not received notice at the time of the distribution thereof.

HERRINGTON WARNER & GRANGE,

Solicitor for the said Executor.

Dated this 1st day of February, 1913. 9-d

In Years Gone By

Glasses were worn only to assist the old folks in reading and sewing. To day we find many more uses for glasses, relieving near sight, far sight, neuralgia, headaches,
cross eyes, dizziness, etc.
Have your eyes properly tested, nothing gained by waiting, and a lasting benefit derived from glasses rightly fitted,
and rightly made.

Have your eyes examined by
H. E. SMITH,

Smith's Jewelry Store

committee in charge, it has been successfully completed, and stands to-day
a credit to the parishoners of St.
Patrick's parish, who have so generously contributed towards it, both by cash donations and various articles of statuary and decoration. Especial mention, however, is due the devoted pastor, Rev. T. P. O'Connor, at whose suggestion the work was begun, and to whose capable direction and active co-operation, its happy completion is in a large measure due. It is the earnest hope of not only his parishoners, but also of his fellow-townsmen, in general who have come to appreciate his worth as a citizen, that he will long remain in Napanee to enjoy the Edifice that he has been instrumental in raising.

In connection with the church improvements mention might be made of the parish hall, which has also been erected on the church property. Besides giving the people an opportunity of coming together occasionally for social purposes, it serves also to house
a well-stocked little library recently established by the pastor, and which is such an important factor in the parish life.

The new chancel was dedicated Sunday last by the most Rev. M. J.
Spratt, Archbishop of Kingston, before a congregation of both catholics and non catholics that filled the church to over-flowing. High Mass was celebrated by the pastor, Rev.
Father O'Connor. The choir lately organized under the direction of Mrs Jas. McGrath rendered the Mass with good effect. At the conclusion of the service His Grace addressed the congregation in his usual parental manner.
He complimented the people on the result of their labors during the past few months, and paid a glowing tribute to Father O'Connor whose zeal and energy had been, from the beginning, the inspiration of the whole work. He drew a beautiful picture of the magnificent temple of King Solomon, the details of which were dictated by Almighty God Himself. Consequently they give us some conception of what should be the beauty and the excellence of God's temple to-day where He is present, not in figure but in reality. In conclusion he thanked the people for the generous manner in which they had contributed towards and co-operated in the improvements. He assured them that they would be rewarded a hundred-fold for the zeal they had displayed in the adorning of God's house,
and he expressed the hope that the beautiful surroundings in which they now worshipped, would prove an incentive to urge them on to still greater devotion in His service.

BEE KEEPER'S CONVENTION

Prof. Morley Pettit, Provincial Apiarist, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, will hold a Bee Keeper's Convention in Napanee,

Thursday, February 27th.

IN THE AFTERNOON Prof. Pettit will give a practical demonstration
and talk on bees at the Town Hall.
An educational exhibit of bee keeper's supplies is being sent out through the courtesy of the Ham & Nott Co., Brantford.

In THE EVENING at 8 o'clock
there will be an illustrated lantern lecture in the Historical Hall, on
"Bees and Their Work" by Prof.
Pettit. All Bee-keepers are cordially invited to be present at both meetings.
For fuller information apply to,

G. B. CURRAN,
Agricultural Office,
Napanee, Ont.

Mr. Harold Thompson, w
Monday for California, wh
pects to reside for some tin greatly missed by the youn Messrs. Thos. Dowling an Amey are already moving st
as they can store on thei quired possessions and expe moving in March.

The hay pressers hav pressing for Mr. Sandy Re having the hay loaded in C eronto. Mr. Russell, of C
the buyer.

Owing to the absence of farmers on this road have pelled to haul their wood o which necessitates a lot of ing.

Mr. Robert Rennie purc week a fine bunch of cattle intends to feed for spring b

The owners of ice house
menced cutting and filling crop for summer use. tak out just west of Unger's Is crkes average from ten inches in thickness.

Mr. Ernest Rendell spen
under the parental roof.

Parties seem to be the rag much to the enjoyment of young.

Mr. Walker, of Thurlow few days visiting relative road. He had been down the funeral of his cousin, M of Newburgh.

Rumor says a wedding so

Sprays and Spray produce clean fruit Caesar's illustrate ture in Historical
Feb. 19th, at 8 o'clock

REPORT SPECIAL COMM LOYST vs. COUNTY

To the Warden and Coun cillors,

We your committee who pointed to defend the action Loyst against the County o
and Addington beg leave to follows:

We met at the Clerk's Tuesday December 10th, Messrs. Longmore, Ryan and Wartman went to Kingston cured legal advice from J. L.
Esq., K. C., and on January Messrs. Hambly and Paul in Clerk's Office and made affito what took place when the Provincial Secretary and In-Prisons and Public Charities Department at Toronto. M man the Warden came to the December 18th, 1912 to pu-fence. On January 25th, 191
Ryan, Hambly and Paul Belleville and interviewed Porter, K. C., and procured l in writing and from the ad-received from the two lawye
mentioned we your commit-
come to the conclusion we on and defend the suit as th assures us that we are on side.

M. Ryan, C
G. A. Wart
Robert W.
C. W. Har
R. W. Lon

W. G. Wilson, Coun

Adopted January 20th, 1913.

Don't feed cattle and let th them up. Our "Lice Kill" p guaranteed. 25c per pound at —Napanee's Largest Drug St

NEE EXPRESS

$1 per Year in advance: $1.50 if not so paid.

NADA—FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 14th, 1913

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE

Lawson Caesar, Prof of Entomology, Ontario Agricultural College, will give an illustrated lecture on "Insect Pests of Garden and Sprays and Spraying" at the Historical Hall, Napanee, on Friday evening, Feb. 19th, at 8 o'clock. All interested are extended an invitation to be present.

Further information apply to G. B. Curran, Agricultural Office, Napanee.

Arrington, Napanee Horticultural Society.

BELL ROCK.

What! No snow is the lament of many and others who wish to see wood for another season. It looks cut a fine pile of wood of Bros. last week.

James is recovering from a tuck of rheumatism.

Porter, an aged farmer living in village, was seriously injured on the ice last week; Dr. Crona, is in attendance.

Miss Mrs. Harold Grant, Porter's visiting friends here; Mrs. and daughter Vivian, Rome are spending the week at J. S.; Miss Leona Trousdale, at C. D. Yorke's.

ODESSA.

One has disposed of his fine on Factory street, to Wel-lark.

Remains of the late William Smith were placed in the Wil-lard Monday.

General service for the late Hamilton was held in the church on Sunday.

Proprietors of the skating rink are sheet of ice in the drill it is in fine condition for the arrival.

On Milsap, one of the town's respected residents, met an accident last week, by the ice, causing concussion of the head, and owing to his advanced age is likely to be fatal.

Peters has disposed of his in his furniture business here Wright. Mr. Peters has re-located his farm south of Odessa.

Ice in the village hall the night was an enjoyable affair. From a distance attended. Township auditors have concluded work and found everything right. The auditors were N. A. and L. L. Clark.

DESERONTO ROAD.

Gold Thompson, who left last for California, where he ex-pects for some time, will be missed by the young people. Thos. Dowling and Wallace already moving such articles in store on their newly ac-

CALL TO COMPLETE UNDER- STANDING.

Bath, Feb. 4th, 1913.

Editor Express:

Sir,—The subject of education given in in high and continuation schools is of very great interest to everyone.

There is now before the County Council a petition concerning the Bath Continuation school. There is an idea back of this which is correct and a good one, and that is, that the cost of maintaining this should in some way be partly borne by the people of the district outside of, and adjacent to, the corporation of Bath, whom it serves, and has so well served.

It is also correct as a principle that this should be in the form of a rate or tax generally imposed, rather than as money particularly given by individual persons, whose number varies from year to year.

I signed that petition, taking exception however to several things. I said that, considering that several pupils (from the outside district) would yearly board in Bath, and so leave a certain amount of money there, the rate of tax there should be (for that purpose) higher than in the outside district. Also I thought that the amount of money asked to be raised was somewhat higher (by about a quarter of the amount) than was necessary. Also it was told to me that we in Ernesttown were taxed to support the continuation in Odessa, and that this tax would undoubtedly and absolutely be taken off, if we were taxed to support a continuation school in Bath.

I was told it was too late to change the form of the petition, and rather than have no continuation school at Bath, I signed it.

There should be a continuation school at Bath, well equipped and of a high standard, just as well as there should be one at Odessa, or Newburgh, or Napanee. The need is just as forcible, as urgent and as imperative. And it should be supported in the same way (as in those other places).

If the County Council gives yearly a grant of money to those other schools, (and I am told that they do,) there is every reason that the Council should do the same to Bath. I was told that the petition was thrown out; later that it was laid over to be considered at its next meeting. I was told that it was a mistake that we in Ernesttown were specially taxed to support the continuation school in Odessa; and that there would be no tax taken off us in Ernesttown, if we took on us the tax to support the school in Bath, (which is true).

Now there are two courses open; let the County Council create continuation districts for the schools at Newburgh, Napanee, Odessa and Bath, (each district having a tax levied in itself to support its own school, and no other); or let the Council give a stated grant to the schools in all those places. Or if they would not do this, let them specially exempt the people in the Bath continuation district from the rate of tax which would raise the amounts granted to Napanee, New-

DAFOE & WALLER

Lumber, Shingles, Lath, Posts, Sash, Doors,
Mouldings, Etc.

AGENTS for Canadian Fairbanks Gas and Marine Engines.

AGENTS for Ruberoid Roofing and Flooring.

FACTORY next to the Big Mill. 'Phone 14

C. A. HOWARD, M. D., C. M.

Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur.
Phone 185. Donald St., Napanee.
Smith Block, cor Dundas and John St.

G. F. RUTTAN, K. C.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, ETC.
Office—Merchants Bank Chambers, Napanee.
Money to loan.
Telephones—Office 93, Residence 132.

Dr. J. P. Campbell

Graduate with honor standing Toronto University.

Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur.
(Successor to late Dr. Ward.)
East St., Napanee. 'Phone 60. 40

WANTED—Roomers, with or without board. Apply at G. W. SHIBLEY'S

WANTED—General Servant—Good wages. Apply MRS. G. P. REIFFEN-STEIN, East Street.

WANTED—An experienced girl for housework, no washing or ironing, good wages. Apply to MRS. CARTWRIGHT, John Street.

BEEES FOR SALE—Having more colonies than I care to handle this season. Will sell 20 or 25 good colonies, 8 frame hives. Call or write L. S. EVANS, Moscow, Ont.

FOR SALE—Seed Store, on Dundas Street, also Store House and Fruit Evaporator, foot of West Street, apply to THOS. SYMINGTON, Owner, Napanee, Ont.

FARM FOR SALE—One hundred acres, being the west half of Lot No. 14, in the Township of Richmond, 2 1/2 miles from Napanee. Well watered and fenced. Buildings in good repair. For further particulars apply on premises to MRS. R. G. BIRRELL, or Napanee P. O.

FOR SALE OR TO LET—A square 200 acre farm of first-class clay loam, 190

DOXSEE & CO.

ONE MONTH'S SALE
WINTER MILLINERY

Everything in Trimmed Hats—Half Price.

All Felt Shapes at 50c and $1.00
Black and Colored Velvet Hats—Half Price.

Children's Hats and Bonnets at less than Half Price.

Fancy Wings and Sprays—Half Price.

SPECIAL PRICES

in Nett and Silk Blouses, Tailored Waists in Linen and Linenette, Gloves, Hosiery and Corsets.

Novelties in Neckwear.

The Leading Millinery House

MERCHANTS' BANK OF CANADA.
ESTABLISHED 1864.

Capital, Paid Up$6,747,680
Rest and Undivided Profits$6,559,478
Total Deposits$62,446,479
Total Assets$81,112,000

Thompson, who left last for California, where he expects for some time, will be missed by the young people. Thos. Dowling and Wallace are already moving such articles as a store on their newly acquisitions and expect to finish in March. The pressers have finished for Mr. Sandy Reed, who is being loaded in cars at Des Moines. Mr. Russell, of Napanee, is to the absence of snow, the road has been commended their wood on wagons, necessitates a lot of heavy lifting.

Robert Rennie purchased last a bunch of cattle which he feeds for spring beef. The owners of ice houses have commencing and filling in their summer use, taking the ice west of Unger's Island. The average from ten to twelve thickness. The nest Rendell spent Sunday on parental roof. It seems to be the rage just now the enjoyment of old and Walker, of Thurlow, spent a day visiting relatives on this side. He had been down attending to the funeral of his cousin, Mr. S. Sager. The wedding soon.

Ice and Spraying to Clean Fruit, Prof. J. S. illustrated lecture in Historical Hall, 9th, at 8 o'clock.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE re OYST vs. COUNTY.

The Varden and County Council, a committee who were appointed to defend the action of Gaoler against the County of Lennox and Addington beg leave to report as follows:

At the Clerk's Office on December 10th, 1912, and on January 10th, 1913, and on January 16th, 1913, Messrs. Varden and Paul met at the office and made affidavits as to the place when they met the Secretary and Inspector of the Public Charities in the City of Toronto. Mr. Varden came to the Clerk on January 18th, 1912 to put in a declaration. On January 25th, 1913, Messrs. Varden and Paul went to the office and interviewed E. Gus C. and procured his advice and from the advice we from the two lawyers above we your committee have reached the conclusion we should go forward with the suit as the advice is that we are on the safe

M. Ryan, Chairman
G. A. Wartman
Robert W. Paul
C. W. Hambly
R. W. Longmore
G. Wilson, County Clerk.
January 29th, 1913.

ed cattle and let the lice eat. Our "Lice Kill" powder is 1. 25c per pound at Hooper's Largest Drug Store.

the support of our school, and no other; or let the Council give a stated grant to the schools in all those places. Or if they won't do this, let them specially exempt the people in the Bath continuation district from the rate of tax which would raise the amounts granted to Napanee, Newburgh and Odessa; and then those people, thus exempted, would raise the amount for Bath. Otherwise it would be grossly unfair. And then, let the petition, as amended, go through.

Yours truly,
M. R. ROWSE.

Dust Dustless Dusters, Mops, Floor Brushes, absorbs dust. Dust cloths, all black with yellow cord at BOYLE & SON'S.

DENBIGH.

We have had fairly good sleighing lately, though the roads have been, and are yet, very icy and slippery, and our farmers have made good use of them, for a number of them have made business trips to Eganville. Renfrew or Arnprior, lately.

Our local Merchants are replenishing their stock in trade, Mr. Ed. Petzold, the Proprietor of our gristmills, has been kept busy nearly day and night with his assistant to attend to his customers, some of whom come with their grists a distance of nearly thirty miles, and Mr. J. S. Lane has engaged a number of teams to draw lumber from his sawmill to Caldwell station and to haul raw material to his mill.

Mrs. S. Perry, of North Bay, who enjoyed a couple of months visiting with her friends and relatives here at her old home, has returned to Town.

Mrs. Thos. Wilson, of Melville, Sask., who also had a good visit with her numerous relatives here in her native home, has also left for her present home in the far west.

Mr. Chas. Marquardt and his daughters, Wanda and Vera, from Raglan, paid a week end visit at Mr. and Mrs. P. Stein, of the Denbigh House.

Herman Berndt, Victor Wienecke, Otto Klien and Albert Falk, who have been engaged in one of the Lumber camps in New Ontario, arrived home again this week.

Rev. Hall, of Plevna, conducted service in the Methodist Church last Sunday forenoon and quarterly meeting in the afternoon.

Rev. P. Kleine, Pembroke, is to conduct services in the Lutheran Church next Sunday.

The face and hands are at the mercy of the cold winds at this season. The best in Massage Creams, Cold Creams, Hand and Face Lotions, Talcum Powders, Perfumes and all toilet articles at The Medical Hall—Fred L. Hooper.

Well, Why Shouldn't YOU Make a Will ?

Do you think you have nothing to leave? You are wrong. Do you think it is too expensive? Again, you are wrong. No matter if you have only a few trinkets, jewelry or money to leave, it is your duty to see that the division of these after your death does not cause quarrels and lifelong enmity among your family and friends. Also, you probably have certain definite wishes of your own you wish to carry out. Make sure that what you leave goes into the hands of those you desire to receive it.

You can do this in your own home for the sum of 35c. Ask for a Bax Legal Will Form with full directions and sample will at A. E. Paul's to-day or write the Bax Will Form Co., Room 232, 280 College St., Toronto.

Township of Richmond, 2 1/2 miles from Napanee. Well watered and fenced. Buildings in good repair. For further particulars apply on premises to MRS. R. G. BIRRELL, or Napanee P. O. 61f

FOR SALE OR TO LET—A square 200 acre farm of first-class clay loam, 190 acres of which is work land and ten acres of timber. This farm is well watered, well fenced, clear of foul weeds, free of stone, and under good cultivation. Good orchard. Post office, blacksmith shop, and general store on corner of farm. Quarter mile from Marysville station, close to school and churches. Good brick house, and three frame barns and drive house. Apply to BERNARD MCGUINNIS, Marysville, Ont. 57dp-t-f

PRESSED HAY AND STRAW
WOOD OF ALL KINDS.
The Best in Groceries
Flour, Feed, Etc.
S. CASEY DENISON.

Centre Street, North. 'Phone 101

W. A. ROSE Agent for the SPRAMOTER CO'Y.

of London and Buffalo, who manufacture the most up-to-date and perfect sprayer on the market. Suitable for spraying fruit trees, potatoes, gardens, and for killing harrick. Have a large assortment to choose from.

Every farmer should have one.

OFFICE :
Next Door to H. M. Deroche's Law Office, Napanee.

Call and see, or write for particulars. We guarantee to kill any field of harrack with these machines without injury to grain, at a cost of 80c per acre for material.

10tf
Amateur photographers will find it to their interests to use the "Anso" film. It gives the picture you want. At Hooper's, Napanee's Largest Drug Store.

Parasitine for lice on cattle, 15c a pound. Get it at Jessop's.

NORTHERN CROWN BANK

Head Office, - Winnipeg.
Capital, (Authorized) $6,000,000. Capital, (Paid Up) $2,706,519
Total Assets over $21,000,000

DIRECTORS :
President - Sir D. H. McMillan, K.C.M.G.
Vice President - Capt Wm. Robinson
Jas. H. Ashdown H. T. Champion Frederick Nation
Hon. D. C. Cameron W. C. Leistikow Sir R. P. Roblin, K.C.M.G.
General Manager - Robt. Campbell
Supt of Branches - L. M. McCarthy.

Bills of Exchange, Drafts and Orders on all Countries bought and sold Canadian Bankers' Association Money Orders sold.
Collections made in all parts of Canada, and in foreign countries.
Branches distributed throughout all Canada.

R. G. H. TRAVERS, - Manager Napanee Branch

ESTABLISHED 1864.

Capital, Paid Up$6,747,680
Rest and Undivided Profits$6,559,478
Total Deposits$62,446,479
Total Assets$84,116,907

Savings Bank Department.

Deposits of $1.00 and upwards received and interest at best current rate paid.
Farmers' Business Solicited and General Banking Business transacted.

Napanee Branch, E. R. CHECKLEY Mgr.
Yarker Branch, F. W. CLARKE, Mgr.

THE REASON WHY

You should buy your Seeds, Seed Grain, Flour, Feed, Bran, Shorts, Potatoes, etc., wholesale and retail, from us, is that I buy in car lots for cash, and give reasonable credit to responsible parties, and I will not be undersold.

A car of Seed Corn and a car of Feed Corn coming, and several cars Western and Local Oats on hand, a few Seed Peas.

Thirteen cars Bran, Shorts and Feed here and arriving before March 1st.

Car New Brunswick Potatoes now here. Car lots a specialty.

Will book orders and guarantee prices.

Also pleasant, cosy rooms and apartments with steam heat, hot and cold water, bath and modern conveniences. Electric light and gas for cooking, to rent cheap.

Phone 175 or write
FRED. A. PERRY,
DUNDAS STREET.
Opposite Campbell House.

Use our Want Advt. Column for Results.

The Napanee Express

E. J. POLLARD.

EDITOR and PROPRIETOR

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY.

All local reading notices or notices announcing entertainments at which a fee is charged for admission, will be charged 5c. per line for insertion, if in ordinary type. In black type the price will be 10c. per line each insertion.

E. & J. HARDY & CO.

Advertising Contractors and News Correspondents.

Fleet Street, London, E. C., England.

A file of this paper can be seen free of charge by visitors to London, to whom advice gratis will be given, if required.

W. M. CAMBRIDGE,

Baker and Confectioner.

To Our Patrons:

We wish to thank you, one and all, for your generous patronage during the year Nineteen Hundred and Twelve, and especially for the Christmas season. Our Christmas trade this year has excelled by far that of any previous season; and this gives us great pleasure for it shows that our efforts, to give to our customers the best quality of goods at the most reasonable prices, have not been unrewarded.

Hoping that we shall continue to receive your patronage for the year Nineteen Hundred and Thirteen, and wishing you all a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

I remain, yours respectfully,

W. M. CAMBRIDGE,

Next door Robinson Co.

Phone 96.

Napanee.

SEEDS

For field and garden of all kinds, of first quality, and at reasonable prices.

STOCK FOODS

Bibby's, Blatchford's, etc.

Poultry Supplies

Egg Mash, Grit, Oyster Shells, etc.

—at—

Thos. Symington.

15 Cases of Granite

NEWS TOPICS OF WEEK

Important Events Which Have Occurred During the Week.

The Busy World's Happenings Carefully Compiled and Put Into Handy and Attractive Shape for the Readers of Our Paper—A Solid Hour's Enjoyment.

WEDNESDAY.

Niagara Falls, Ont., will send a deputation to the Government seeking enlargement of the city limits.

Capt. G. T. Evans has been appointed district inspector of weights and measures in Toronto, succeeding W. C. Stratton.

The engines and three coaches of the C.P.R. local from Sudbury to Toronto, were derailed at Roderick yesterday.

The first levee of this season was held by King George at Buckingham Palace yesterday. His Majesty appeared in good health.

Struck on the head by the bucket of a crane in a gravel yard in Little York, near Toronto, W. Forsyth was killed yesterday afternoon.

The River Seine continues to rise at Paris, France, and now lacks only 40 centimeters of the 4.79 meters stage which experience has shown is the danger level.

Three men were killed and six seriously injured late yesterday, when a ten-ton gate dropped into a trench where the men were working at Charlevoix and Garland avenues, Detroit.

Sir Donald Mann, vice-president of the C.N.R., interviewed in Winnipeg yesterday, said money was very scarce and that the efforts of his company would be concentrated on the main line west.

Little Annie Yozzimasek was severely burned yesterday morning at her home in Toronto while playing with matches. She is now in the Sick Children's Hospital in a dangerous condition.

A general meeting of the Canadian Waterways Union, will be held in Berlin on Feb. 14. A statement setting forth the Welland Canal-St. Lawrence route will be prepared for presentation at the meeting.

THURSDAY.

The Island Guardian of Charlotte-town, P.E.I., has been purchased by Conservatives for $40,000.

Montreal Methodists propose to raise a quarter of a million dollars in a week for a new theological college.

Almon Hampton, a farmer near Gananoque, was crushed to death under his binder while preparing for a sale.

Carmillo Angelo, aged 42, was found dead on the C.P.R. tracks near Guelph yesterday. He was struck by the train from Toronto.

Skating on thin ice near the Kingston hosiery mill, Joseph Knott, aged 12, broke through and was drowned. The body was recovered.

Thomas Riley was committed for trial at the spring assizes yesterday by Magistrate Jelfs at Hamilton on the charge of murdering his wife.

David McLaughlin, 40 years of age, was found dead in a shed in Kingston yesterday. Dr. Sands, coroner, found he had died from accidental strangulation.

Mr. B. A. MacNab of Montreal has increased the amount of damages for alleged libel he claims from Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes from $10,000 to $25,000.

Chippewa the port at head of the proposed new Welland Canal.

The German navy aviators, Lieut.-Commander W. Janetzky and Machinist's Mate Diekmann were drowned yesterday in the Gulf of Danzig through the collapse of the aeroplane in which they were flying.

The British suffragettes have begun a campaign of cutting telephone and telegraph wires. Thirty telephone wires were cut yesterday near Dumbarton, Scotland, and many telegraph wires between Birmingham and Coventry.

MONDAY.

The Hamburg-American liner Imperator, biggest steamship afloat, will make her first trip from Hamburg on May 23.

Just as fresh as if they were laid yesterday a consignment of eggs were received in Boston from Denver by parcel post.

John E. Gow, district inspector of inland revenue, has been appointed inspector of bonded manufactories for the Dominion.

Two persons were killed and another fatally injured by a Philadelphia & Reading express train at Roelofs Station, N.J., on Saturday.

Dr. Manuel E. Araujo, president of the Republic of Salvador, who was wounded by the bullets of an assassin on Feb. 4, died yesterday.

The allied trades and labor association of Ottawa has launched a campaign against the employment of white girls in Chinese restaurants.

Leo Gignac, a young switchman, was fatally crushed between a car and a shed door at Windsor, making the fifth Windsor man killed this year.

It was announced at the apostolic delegation in Ottawa yesterday that a new Roman Catholic diocese had been created in Southern Alberta, with the see at Calgary.

Magistrate Munson of Dauphin, Man., remanded John Baran, murderer of Chief of Police Rooke, to stand trial at the Portage la Prairie spring assizes Saturday.

Hon. George E. Foster has left for Vancouver, from which place he will sail on the 19th for Australia to attend the meetings of the Imperial Trade Commission in Australia and New Zealand.

It is understood the Prince of Wales has so greatly enjoyed his first term at Oxford and benefited so much in knowledge and experience that the advisability of extending the one year's residence to two is under discussion.

TUESDAY.

A divorce from James T. (Tod) Sloan, the former jockey, was obtained by his wife, who is Julia Sandersan in the theatrical world.

Mr. E. G. Porter, K.C., M.P., will on Feb. 21, be signally honored by the Conservatives of West Hastings, which constituency he represents.

Joseph Grant, a brakeman from Sarnia Tunnel, on way freight No. 72, was instantly killed in the Grand Trunk yards at Wyoming, Ont., yesterday.

The main building of the St. Germain Hotel, the rendezvous of commercial travelers at Rimouski, Que., was completely gutted by fire yesterday morning.

Severe fighting has occurred in the attempt of the Montenegrins to capture Scutari. The Montenegrins have last 2,500 men killed or wounded, and the Turks 4,000.

Prof. Alex. Johnson, B.A., M.A., LL.D., a distinguished educationalist, of Montreal, died suddenly on the plaza in front of the G.T.R. station, Ottawa, last night.

Mrs. Grover Cleveland, widow of the

SCOTT HAS PER

Explorer and Four Men turning From South

Terra Nova Returning to New Brings Word of the Deal Five Men Who Reached th Jan. 18, 1912 — Scott's Found In Tent Beside H Terrible Privations.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—Capt. Scott, the Antarctic explorer, four of his companions have after a successful dash to the Pole, which they reached on 1912.

The suspense of yesterday, ed with the receipt of autl messages from Christchurch, land, yesterday afternoon, story of the death of the int plorers has cast a deep glo the whole scientific world.

Early in the day word was in London that the explorer Terra Nova had reached ci with the story of the death of ing scientist and an unknown ber of his comrades. As the ed further despatches supp the story. The various news following their custom in i polar stories have carefully c ed their despatches, but the authentic facts may be glea the mass of rumor and conje

The British explorer with f Dr. E. A. Wilson, chief of th fic staff; Lieut. H. R. Bower Royal Indian Marine; Capt. Oates, of the 6th Enniskill goons, and Seaman Edgar Ev ty officer, reached the pole or 1912, found Amundsen's tent cords, and, after taking obs began their return journey. 17, when the party reached more Glacier, Seaman Eves from exposure and concussio brain. Capt. Oates died fro ure on March 17. Twelve ds when the three remaining m Scott, Dr. Wilson and Lieut. were about 150 miles from i winter camp, where they w been safe, they were overcoo posure in a blizzard and per

In the meantime those who at the depot at Cape Eva formed a link with the out were having a hard time. and Demetri were sent in the of the pole to render assista after reaching One Ton Dep 144 miles south of Cape Eva had to return because the d giving out. They could not to the main depot, but stoppe Point.

In October, 1912, three pa to search for those who were the dash. The party comma Wright, a Canadian, finally Scott's tent. Inside were th of Capt. Scott, Dr. Wilson ar Bowers. Among their kit wer cords of the dash to the poi notes told of the successful the ill-fated return. First to Evans, then Oates, then tl leaders.

Oates died like an English and a gentleman. He had su tense agony from frozen li finally one morning he walke the tent into the waste nev seen again.

The blizzard which proved doing of the other three las days and their food gave on 15 Cases of Granite Just in from Scotland.

MORE TO FOLLOW.

New and Elegant Designs
Some plain, all polished.
Few are beautifully carved

I have the largest stock ever shown in Napanee.
Will save you travelling expenses and commission.
Our patrons have confidence and look for us.

V. KOUBER, Napanee

60 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS & C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communication strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms for Canada, $4.75 a year, postage prepaid. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & CO, 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

After the Honeymoon

is the time when domestic help becomes pressing. A Want Ad.
in our paper will solve the problem.

Desirable people who want employment appreciate its value and consult the "Help Wanted" ads.

Copyright 1911 by E. W. Goddard

Private Greeting Cards.

Leave your order at Wallace's Drug Store for private cards. A large book of samples to choose from.

yesterday. Dr. Sands, coroner, found he had died from accidental strangulation.

Mr. B. A. MacNab of Montreal has increased the amount of damages for alleged libel he claims from Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes from $10,000 to $50,000.

Bradley Martin of New York died in London, Eng., yesterday. He was in his 72nd year. His daughter Cornelia was married in 1893 to the Earl of Craven.

Application was made by the city of Ottawa to the Hydro-Electric Commission for another 1,000 horsepower.
Ottawa now consume 3,300 h.p., but it is likely that the new agreement will call for 5,000 h.p.

FRIDAY.

York County will spend $100,000 for good roads.

A theatre to seat 3,000 people will be built on Yonge street, Toronto, by the Loew syndicate.

Ambassador Bryce has been appointed a member of the permanent court of The Hague Tribunal.

Robt. Healey is disqualified from holding the reeveship of Kingsville,
and a new election is ordered.

A national fair of farm products was favored by the Clydesdale Association
at its convention in Toronto yesterday.

London coal stocks are growing lower, and consumers are in peril of serious discomfort in view of the Grand Trunk embargo at Niagara Falls.

Dr. C. O. Fairbank of Petrolea was unanimously nominated for the Federal Parliament by the Liberals of East Lambton in convention at Watford.

A new army bill increasing the strength of the German military forces, is expected to be introduced into the Imperial Parliament after the Easter recess.

The ice harvest is in full swing at Orillia. The ice on Lake Couchiching is fifteen inches thick, with from six to eight inches of clear blue ice, and is getting thicker every day.

A deputation from Toronto and surrounding municipalities asked Premier Borden and the Minister of Railways for a subsidy of $6,500 a mile for the Toronto, Uxbridge & Port Perry Railway.

"Jack" Rose, the former gambler and police informer, whose testimony played so important a part in the conviction of Charles Becker, appealed yesterday in New York to be declared a bankrupt.

SATURDAY.

Ralph Morden was killed at Melrose
by a falling tree yesterday.

Aurora local option stands on recount by a fraction of a vote.

A structural steel plant is to be erected at St. Thomas, to cost $100,000 and to employ 160 men.

Mr. E. L. Smith of Ingersoll, proprietor of The Oxford Tribune, died of hemorrhage of the brain.

King George and Queen Mary held their first court of the season last night at Buckingham Palace.

Mr. John Morgan, postmaster at Ailsa Craig for fifteen years, has been dismissed and Mr. A. C. Stewart appointed in his place.

Desirous of making his name and fame, Peter Langgaard, who claims to be "an experienced sailor," of Detroit, is anxious to shoot the Whirlpool Rapids at the Falls in a motorboat.

Niagara Falls and the village of Chippewa will send delegations to Ottawa Tuesday to urge upon the Government the desirability of making the Turks 4,000.

Prof. Alex. Johnson, B.A., M.A., LL.D., a distinguished educationalist, of Montreal, died suddenly on the plaza in front of the G.T.R. station, Ottawa, last night.

Mrs. Grover Cleveland, widow of the former U. S. President, and Thomas Jex Preston, jr., were married yesterday by President John G. Hibben of Princeton University.

Judge Beaudin, in the police court at Montreal yesterday decided that a member of Parliament cannot be forced to attend a court as a witness while the House is in session.

Ten persons are dead and a score wounded as a result of a battle yesterday between strikers and authorities near Mucklow, W.Va., in the Kanawha coal strike district.

A bill forbidding the intermarriage
of whites with negroes, Chinese, Japanese or Malays in the District of Columbia was passed yesterday by the U. S. House of Representatives.

NEVER DENOUNCED IT.

German Doctors Deny Attack on Dr.
Friedmann's Serum.

BERLIN, Feb. 11.—There is no foundation for the report published in America that the Berlin Medical Society has denounced Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann's remedy for tuberculosis.

Dr. Friedmann has been absent from this city since Saturday night, and his whereabouts are unknown. He has refused to accept the German Government's offer to try out his remedy for tuberculosis at the Government institute of experimental therapeutics at Frankfort-on-the-Main, under the supervision of Dr. Paul Ehrlich, according to a statement issued by the department of the interior yesterday.

Dr. Friedmann insists that he himself must apply the remedy in hospitals designated by the Government.

The Government has rejected a tentative offer to buy the remedy.

Women Smash Club Windows.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—Militant suffragettes yesterday raided the west end district known as "Clubland." A number of women threw pieces of lead and hard fire clay balls through the windows of the Carlton, the Reform and other political and society clubs in Pall Mall.

Several windows were broken also at the residence of Prince Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, a relative by marriage of King George.

He Didn't Know Art.

"Where did you get that marble statuette, my dear?"

"Why, at Martino's. Isn't it lovely?
And such a bargain! It was marked
'half off.' Didn't you see the tag?"

"Yes, but I thought the tag referred to the clothing."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Unsophisticated.

"Darling," said the fond youth, producing a ring, "which is the right in-ger?"

"For goodness' sake, (Algy)" responded the maiden. "Don't you know?
Nineteen years old and never been engaged to a girl before!"—Chicago Tribune.

Easy.

Lucy—How can I bring the count to his knees at my feet? Nelly—Drop a dime on the floor.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

tense agony from frozen
finally one morning he wa
the tent into the waste r seen again.

The blizzard which prov doing of the other three days and their food gave perished only eleven mile Ton Camp, where there wa
ply of provisions and fuel.

Scott's last words in his an appeal to the British pu generously with the fami dead comrades. The exp said, had been carefully
but the unavoidable risi turned out badly.

Surgeon Atkinson and gathered the records and the dead men, read the bu
over their bodies and erec
and cross to their memor inner tent in which they b

The record of the findi bodies was left attached to The party then searched miles south, endeavoring the body of Capt. Oates. I found, but another cairn were left in the vicinity
mory.

WRIGHT FROM TOR

Youth Mentioned In De
Graduate of "Varsit

TORONTO, Feb. 11.—Mr.
Wright, the Toronto young went with the Scott party found the bodies of the th perish, was born here 26
and graduated in physics f to University in 1907. He in England taking a pos course at Cambridge when the Scott expedition. His
Mr. Alfred Wright, 60 Ore

Charles S. entered Upp College in the fall of 1899,
five meritorious and pri years, passed out in 1904 as During his school days he prominent among the athle college, playing on the fo
other teams.

Taking the scientific cou
University of Toronto, wh
tered in 1904, he won each class honors, graduating a of his class, and rounded o
liant career with the high in his course, the 1861 Scholarship, worth $750 years at Cambridge Unive land.

Mr. Wright entered Cai
Cambridge, in the fall of 1
ing physics under Sir J. J.
and his life there was even cessful than at Toronto Popular among his fellow s
the fore in both study and he was awarded the Scholarship by the Caml
thorities, which is worth $6 num.

Woodrow Wilson has d grant an audience to former Castro of Venezuela.

Good Time Coming

"I tell you, Binks," said t aire, with great gusto, "talk fun! There's none to equ earning a million, dollar by
"By ginger," said Little B a lot of fun there is ahead Harper's Weekly.

Pretty Meek.

Slobbs—Henpeckke alway me of a mouse. Slobbs—Not he was anything like a mouse
would be afraid of him.—P Record.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

HAS PERISHED

and Four Men Die Re-ng From South Pole.

a Returning to New Zealand Word of the Death of the len Who Reached the Pole on 18, 1912 — Scott's Records
In Tent Beside His Body—le Privations.

N, Feb. 11.—Capt. Robert F. e Antarctic explorer, and e companions have perished successful dash to the South
ch they reached on Jan. 18,

pense of yesterday was end-
the receipt of authoritative
from Christchurch, New Zea-terday afternoon, and the
he death of the intrepid ex-
as cast a deep gloom over scientific world.

a the day word was received
n that the exploration ship
va had reached civilization story of the death of the dar-tist and an unknown num-comrades.* As the day passr despatches supplemented

The various news agencies their custom in regard to ies have carefully copyright-despatches, but the following facts may be gleaned from of rumor and conjecture.

tish explorer with four men,
Wilson, chief of the scienti-Lieut. H. R. Bowers, of the lian Marine; Capt. L. E. G.
the 6th Enniskillen Dra-
d Seaman Edgar Evans, pet-reached the pole on Jan. 18,
d Amundsen's tent and reid after taking observations, ir return journey. On Feb.
the party reached Beard-acier, Seaman Evans died sure and concussion of the
apt. Oates died from expos-arch 17. Twelve days later, three remaining men, Capt.
Wilson and Lieut. Bowers, at 150 miles from the main mp, where they would have they were overcome by ex-
a blizzard and perished.

seantime those who were left spot at Cape Evans, that link with the outer world, ing a hard time. Garrard tri were sent in the direction
le to render assistance, but hing One Ton Depot, about south of Cape Evans, they turn because the dogs were
t. They could not get back in depot, but stopped at Hut

ber, 1912, three parties left for those who were making

The party commanded by Canadian, finally sighted
nt. Inside were the bodies
Scott, Dr. Wilson and Lieut.
Among their kit were the rethe dash to the pole. The of the successful trip and ed return. First to go was en Oates, then the three ied like an English soldier tleman. He had suffered in-ny from frozen limbs and e morning he walked out of

into the waste never to be n.

zard which proved the un-
the other three lasted nine their food gave out. Then

A GREAT EXPEDITION.

The Scott Party Was the Finest Ever Sent on Quest.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The Scott expedition was the finest ever sent into the southern region. It consisted of 28 officers and scientists and a crew of 23 picked men from the navy. It was in October, 1909, that Capt. Scott made public his project for reaching the pole to a Mansion House meeting.
In support of his scheme Scott gave a detailed statement of the objects of the expedition. The amount he asked was $200,000, in addition to a sum for wages, salaries and ship expenses.

Capt. Scott planned to divide his expedition in two parties, one in the west setting out toward the pole from McMurdo Sound, and a second, from 400 miles east of it, exploring King Edward's Land.

The Terra Nova carried the largest scientific staff ever taken on such an expedition, it being the avowed purpose of Capt. Scott, irrespective of his success in reaching the pole itself, to bring back a wealth of accurate data.

Capt. Scott had with him 20 Siberian ponies, 30 dogs, and two motor sleds. The ponies, dogs, and motor sleds were to be used alternately for transport across the distance between the landing place and the pole, which was about 1,500 miles.

It was arranged to cover ten miles
on an average daily, and it is apparent that this scheme was carried out up to the moment they reached, on Jan.
18, the south pole, from which they were fated never to return.

The British Government and the British people subscribed $200,000 for the adventure, largely under the stress of the emotions aroused by Shack-leton's great trip. When Scott sailed, he had no idea that there would be another explorer in the field at the same time, for when the Amundsen expedition was fitted out it was announced that it would visit northern waters for the purpose of exploration, Peary having already seized the chief prize. It was a surprise to Scott to learn that Amundsen was at the other end of the world and on the same quest as himself. It was Scott's own ship, the Terra Nova, that discovered Amundsen on the Fram coasting the great ice barrier near McMurdo Sound, and Amundsen then made no attempt to disguise the purpose of his visit.
When the news reached England there was some criticism of the Norwegian, but it does not appear that he took any unfair advantage of his rival.

Capt. Scott was born in Outlands, Devonport, England, June 6, 1868, and entered the navy in 1882. He was torpedo lieutenant of the Majestic, flagship of the Channel squadron in 1898-1899, was made commander in 1900, and captain in 1904. He commanded the British Antarctic expedition in 1900-04.

His achievements in the Antarctic won him medals from the Royal Geographical Society, Royal Scottish Geographical Society, and American, Sweden, Danish and Antwerp Geographical Societies.

Capt. Scott's first Antarctic expedition sailed on the ship Discoverer in 1901. He established winter quarters in the ice barrier and led a sledge expedition to 82 degrees, 17 minutes,
the most southerly point reached up to that time. He was brought back by a relief expedition on the steamship Morning, in January, 1903.

MRS. SCOTT AT SEA.

Widow of Explorer Sailing to Meet

Whooping Cough

SPASMODIC CROUP ASTHMA COUGHS
BRONCHITIS CATARRH COLDS

ESTABLISHED 1879
A simple, safe and effective treatment for bronchial troubles, avoiding drugs. Vaporized Cresolene stops the paroxysms of Whooping Cough and relieves Spasmodic Croup at once. It is a BOON to sufferers from Asthma. The air carrying the antiseptic vapor, inspired with every breath, makes breathing easy;
soothes the sore throat and stops the cough, assuring restful nights. It is invaluable to mothers with young children. Send postal for descriptive booklet.

ALL DRUGGISTS.
Try CRESOLENE
ANTISEPTIC THROAT
TABLETS for the irritated throat. They are simple, effective and antiseptic.
Of your druggist or from us, 10c. in stamps.
Vapo Cresolene Co.
31 Carlisle St., N.Y.
Leeming Mills Building
Montreal, Can.

DIAZ IS HOLDING BACK

Revolutionary General Strongly Fortified in Arsenal.

Only Rumors Can Be Gleaned In the Mexican Capital Regarding the Forces of the Federal and Rebel Leaders, But Both Are Awaiting Reinforcements—Diaz Has Not Bombarded Palace.

MEXICO, Feb. 11.—Gen. Diaz, whose bold stroke Sunday almost overthrew the Madero administration, held his army in leash yesterday. Nor did the scattered Government forces dare to attack him in his fortified positions in and about the arsenal. Still hoping that he might attain complete control without further loss of life or destruction of property, Gen. Diaz surprised the capital by refraining from turning his heavy guns upon the National Palace.

The Government's position has not materially altered since yesterday,
although a few of Blanquet's soldiers, not more than 500, have arrived, and a small detachment of rurales have ridden into the city. The forces of Gen. Diaz were not materially augmented either, but the proximity of the Zapatistas and the promised early arrival of rebels from the State of Vera Cruz under Gaudencio de la Llave appear to have strengthened his hand. Although almost incomprehensible, it has been impossible for the residents of the capital to ascertain the truth regarding the movements of a general whom the Government expects to come to the aid of Gen. Huerta, the newly-appointed post commander. Officially it has been announced that both Gen. Blanquet and Gen. Angeles are in the city, but this is denied in quarters equally trustworthy.

No one has been found who has actually seen these generals. The people, keyed to the highest pitch of expectancy, swallow with greediness scores of rumors of a most alarming character.

BUILDINGS GUTTED.

Half-Million-Dollar Conflagration In Toronto Outskirts.

W. G. WILSON,
BARRISTER,
Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer, Etc.
P. O. Box 620. Telephone No. 83.
OFFICE—North Side Dundas Street
Napanea, Ont.

DR. C. H. WARTMAN
DENTIST.

It will be impossible for me to continue th
out of town visits, but if our friends at Yark
and Tamworth will do me the favor of comin to my office in Napanea, I will do my to please them. All work guaranteed
class.

HERRINGTON, WARNER & GRANGE
Barristers, etc.
MONEY TO LOAN AT LOW RATE
Office—Warner Block, Opposite Post Office.

T. B. GERMAN,
Barrister and Solicitor,
MONEY TO LOAN AT LOWEST RATES.
OFFICE: Grange Block, 60 John Street
26m Napanea

R. A. LEONARD, M.D., C.P.S.
Physician Surgeon, etc.
Late House Surgeon of the Kingston General Hospital
Office—North side of Dundas Street, between West and Robert Streets, Napanea. $5.17

DEROCHE & DEROCHE.
H. M. Deroche, K. C., C. C. A.]
H. M. P. Deroche, B. A.
Barristers Etc.
MONEY TO LOAN
Mr. H. M. P. Deroche will be in Tam-worth every Wednesday.

D. R. BENSON
Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, has opened and office second door south of Express Printing Office, where he may be consulted on all diseases of Domestic Animals. All latest veterinary sciences.
Residence: West Street, near Madden's grocery.

Kingston Business College

(Limited)
Kingston, Canada.
Canada's Highest Grade Business School offers superior courses in Book-keeping, Shorthand, Civil Service and all commercial subjects.
Our graduates secure best positions. Particulars free.
H. E. METCALF, Principal.

streams are trickling over the precipice, none of them being as large as a respectable creek. It is possible to walk from the mainland to Green Island on the ice-encrusted river bottom. No attempts to accomplish this feat have yet been made, however.

The ice jam formed during Sunday night. A strong wind blowing up the river held back the water, and the great quantities of ice coming down from the upper lakes formed a solid dam reaching from Goat Island to the mainland.

From the Canadian side of the river
the American Falls present the appearance of a great wall of rock, with a few little streams of water trickling dam reaching from Goat Island to the mainland.

zzard which proved the un-
the other three lasted nine their food gave out. They only eleven miles from One
p, where there was a big sup-visions and fuel.

last words in his diary were to the British public to deal
y with the families of his rades. The expedition, he been carefully organized,
unavoidable risks had all
at badly.

Atkinson and his party
the records and effects of men, read the burial service bodies and erected a cairn
to their memory over the
in which they buried them.
word of the finding of their
is left attached to the cross.
y then searched for twenty
th, endeavoring to discover of Capt. Oates. It was never it another cairn and record
in the vicinity to his me-

3HT FROM TORONTO.

mentioned In Despatches a graduate of "Varsity."

TO, Feb. 11.—Mr. Charles S. he Toronto young man who
the Scott party and who bodies of the three last to as born here 26 years ago
ated in physics from Toron-sity in 1907. He was over nd taking a post graduate Cambridge when he joined expedition. His father is d Wright, 60 Crescent road, S. entered Upper Canada
the fall of 1899, and, after itorious and prize-winning sed out in 1904 as Head Boy.
is school days he had been among the athletics of the laying on the football and ns.

the scientific course at the
of Toronto, which he en-904. He won each year first ors, graduating at the head s, and rounded off this bril-
er with the highest reward course, the 1861 Exhibition ip, worth $750 for three Cambridge University, Eng-

ight entered Caius College,
e, in the fall of 1903, study-
s under Sir J. J. Thomson, fe there was even more suc-
an at Toronto University.
mong his fellow scholars, to n both study and athletics, awarded the Wollaston
p by the Cambridge au-which is worth $600 per an-

Wilson has declined to audience to former President Venezuela.

Good Time Coming.

ou, Binks," said the million-great gusto, "talk about your re's none to equal that of million, dollar by dollar."
er," said Little Binks, "what in there is ahead of me!"— Weekly.

Pretty Meek.

Henpeckke always reminds ouse. Slobbs—Nonsense! If ything like a mouse his wife afraid of him.—Philadelphia

by a freight expedition on the steamship Morning, in January, 1903.

MRS. SCOTT AT SEA.

Widow of Explorer Sailing to Meet
Her Husband.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—A pathetic figure in the south polar tragedy is the woman who is on her way to New Zealand to meet the party.

Mrs. Scott, now tragically the widow of the British Antarctic explorer, though she is yet probably unaware of his fate, sailed from San Francisco Feb. 5 for New Zealand, expecting to meet her husband there.
Just before her departure, she said in an interview that she had not heard from him in eighteen months,
but was confident he would reach
New Zealand safely.

Mrs. Scott sailed on the Aorangi, whose first port of call is Papeete, Tahiti. As there is no cable to that point, and as the ship will not touch at any cable point until she reaches the Antipodes, it is improbable that Mrs. Scott will learn of her husband's death until she reaches New Zealand, although efforts are being made to reach the Aorangi by wireless.

SENT 700,000 LETTERS.

Mine Promoters Preferred Graduates of Colleges.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—The so-called "sucker list" of the alleged mining companies promoted by Julius Hawthorne was compiled from 400 college catalogues, and contained 700,000
names. So testified Freeman yesterday under cross-examination by Government counsel. A check for $20,000, one of a bundle of several hundred introduced by the prosecution, was shown Freeman, who conceded it was one of his own. It was drawn, he testified, to cover the expense of making the list of names of persons to whom literature was sent.

Six Persons Killed In Tokio Riots.

TOKIO, Feb. 11.—Six persons were killed and sixty-five seriously injured in the political rioting here yesterday. The situation is serious.

The Premier of Japan, Prince Katsura, was stoned by a mob in the streets. His resignation has been demanded by the people. Mobs attacked the offices of the bureaucratic newspapers and threatened the dwellings of the Ministers. They burned and wrecked police stations, tram cars and private buildings.

Cupid In a Palace.

BERLIN, Feb. 11.—It is regarded here as certain that the engagement of the Princess Victoria Luise, only daughter of the German Emperor and Empress, to Prince Ernst August, son of the Duke of Cumberland, will be proclaimed to-day, according to a statement published by the official news agency.

Good Reason.

"What on earth made you buy that comfortable when we have more now in the house than we need?"

"I guess it was because I saw it marked 'down.'"—Exchange.

It is a great mistake to try to live tomorrow or even yesterday today.

Shiloh's Cure
QUICKLY STOPS COUGHS, CURES COLDS,
HEALS THE THROAT AND LUNGS. 25 CENTS

BUILDINGS GUTTED.

Half-Million-Dollar Conflagration In Toronto Outskirts.

TORONTO, Feb. 11.—Half a million dollars damage was caused on Dundas street, near Conduit, by a fire which broke out shortly before 12 o'clock last night, and was still burning at an early hour this morning. The blaze broke out in the building at 1,240 Dundas, owned and occupied by the Bowman Gas Range Co. It spread quickly to the factory next door, which formerly was occupied by the Dominion Waist Co. This concern, however, moved away a year ago, and since then a firm which winds arma-tures for the Toronto Electric Light and Toronto Railway Co. has occupied the building.

Several explosions occurred in the factories, which caused the flames to spread. Fanned by a strong east wind, the flames leaped across Dundas street and set fire to a row of stores and houses on the west side of the street. The illumination from the fire could be seen in all parts of the city,
and a large crowd of spectators soon gathered.

The houses and stores from 1,225 to 1,237 Dundas street all were either badly damaged or entirely gutted by the fire. Luckily the occupants of the houses had been awakened by the explosions in the factories across the street and were able to jump into some clothing and get out on to the street before the flames spread to their places.

FALLS HAVE GONE DRY.

American Side at Niagara Checked by an Ice Jam.

NIAGARA FALLS, Feb. 11.—The American Falls is practically dry today, an ice jam at the head of Goat Island holding back the water in the American channel. Three small

Every Woman
is interested and should know about the wonderful Marvel Whirling Spray
Douche

Ask your druggist for
it. If he cannot supply the MARVEL, accept no
other, but send stamp for illustrated book—sealed. It gives full particulars and directions invaluable to ladies. WINDSOR SUPPLY CO., Windsor, Ont.
General Agents for Canada.

Germany Suspicious.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—A cable to
The Tribune from London says:

The declaration by Admiral von Tirpitz that Germany would accept the British claim to a 50 per cent.
superiority in naval power has aroused intense interest throughout Europe, an interest which has risen to excitement in France.

In Germany Great Britain is still suspected, and German nationalists declare that a margin of 60 per cent.
can be accepted only if the warships which are being built by the British dominions and colonies are included.

Another Galt Hotel Going.

GALT, Feb. 11.—Another Galt hotel was placed on the market yesterday.
The proprietor of the Albion, at the corner of Water and Queen streets, has inserted an advertisement offering the property for sale.

Thirteen Below Zero at Kingston.

KINGSTON, Feb. 11.—Kingston had the coldest snap of the season yesterday, the thermometer showing 13 degrees below.

"What's Your Name?"—"What."

A guild of godparents to save children from incongruous names is being suggested. The late Canon Bardsley, author of a book on English names,
told the story of what was probably the most idiotic name ever bestowed upon an unfortunate infant. A woman had her son baptized What, for no other reason than to cause amusement in future years when, being asked his name, he should reply "What."
—London Chronicle.

Medical Note.

"Hello, Jones! I hear you were sick."

"Yes; I was threatened with a fever,
but the doctor succeeded in arresting it."

"Ah, he arrested it for making threats, I suppose."—

BUILDING MATERIAL

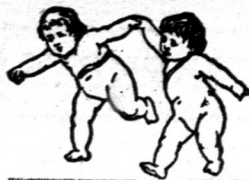

Lumber, Shingles
and Lath.

Yellow Pine and Cypress Finish for Interior work.

Spruce and Pine Flooring and Siding always in stock

ROBERT LIGHT, - NAPANEE, ONT.

That Wonderful Event

IF THERE is a time above all times when a woman should be in perfect physical condition it is the time previous to the coming of her babe.

During this period many women suffer from headache, sleeplessness, pains of various description, poor appetite, and a host of other ailments which should be eliminated in justice to the new life about to be ushered into this world.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

is a scientific medicine carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to the needs and requirements of woman's delicate system. It has been recommended for over forty years as a remedy for those peculiar ailments which make their appearance during "the expectant" period. Motherhood is made easier by its use. Thousands of women have been benefited by this great medicine.

Your druggist can supply you in liquid or tablet form, or you can send 50 one-cent stamps for a trial box of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription Tablets, to Dr. Pierce, at Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo.

It is your privilege to write to Dr. Pierce for advice, and it will be gladly given free of charge. Of course all communications are confidential.

A BARREN SESSION.

Although Parliament has been sitting since November 21st, and it thus well into its third month, it would puzzle an expert mathematician to figure out what it has accomplished in that time. The pages of Hansard has been accumulating and the expense increasing, but apparently Premier Borden has been so preoccupied with his own emergencies that the business of the country has almost dropped out of sight. It was a pretty meagre bill of fare forshadowed in the Speech from Throne, but that was rich compared with what has since been accomplished. About the only effective piece of legislation passed so far has been the Act to authorize the purchase of the G. T. P. bonds, which was put through because the Opposition came to the rescue of the Government. The spectacular feature of the Session, the Naval Bill was presented by Premier Borden with such evidence of emergency that the Speaker of his own choice was compelled to point out his irregular method of procedure, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier had to help Mr. Borden out by agreeing to a temporary waiving of the rules.

Since then the Government has drifted like a rudderless ship, as might be expected from such a coalition of Jingoists and Nationalists banded together under an emergency. The Naval discussion became desultory when the Premier found that his British ally, Bonar Law, could not lead the Unionists in the paths of tariff "reform" along the line of taxing food, and the emergency died a well deserved death.

The Bank Act amendments were brought down with a flourish of trumpets by Hon. W. T. White, but his Bill bore such palpalable marks of the influence of his friends the "interests" that even the Tories rebelled, and a pretty battle will soon be on in the Banking and Commerce led by Conservatives who won election by promising an impossible reimbursement to those who lost by the wreck of the Farmers' Bank.

The West Indian Trade Agreement had not much trouble, since it was a legacy from the late Liberal Government, a part of their wider markets programme. Only within the past few days has Hon. Martin Burrell produced his Bill for an appropriation of $10,000,000 for aid to agriculture, spread over the next ten years. Although the principle of the measure is not objected to the bill is likely to

"But in spite of all that has been said, does the country—do the House of Commons, do any of us—believe there is danger and vital danger? I confess that I have the greatest difficulty in believing it myself."

Evidently Bonar Law had not heard Borden or Pelletier on the Emergency at that time.

And later the Prime Minister, Mr. Asquith, spoke. He said: "The history of the past eight years is a history of mutual understanding, freedom from friction and difficulty, and of growing cordiality. But when I say that of the powers between whom and ourselves intimate relations exist I must add that our friendships with them are not in any sense exclusive. I say deliberately that we have not any cause so far as I know for quarrelling with any country in any part of the world."

MORE TORY DECEPTION.

Further evidence of word juggling and reckless efforts to spoil a great national undertaking were brought to light recently, when after much trouble, Hon. G. P. Graham succeeded in getting the correspondence proving that the government intended to de-grade the National Transcontinental. It has shown that the present plan provided in places for increasing the grades from 4-10 of 1% to a full 1%. But Hon. Frank Cochrane does not call this de-grading. The polite Tory phrase is "revised momentum grades"—that is grades by which a train runs down so fast that it coasts up the other side. At the same time a number of steel bridges are to be changed, and wooden trestles put instead.

These changes will of course reduce the cost of the road, and still more decrease its usefulness. The papers showed that this de-grading had been assented to on June 20th, 1912.

Yet last October, when publicly taxed with this by Hons. G. P. Graham and Charles Murphy Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Ontario tour, Hon. Mr. Cochrane declared that: "Nothing would be done which would materially injure the use of the road." And at this very time he had agreed to this change, exactly opposite to the practice of every great railroad, all of which are spending millions to reduce grades and improve bridges and curves. And at the same time Hon. Mr. Cochrane knew that President Chamberlin of the Grand Trunk Pacific had written the Chairman of the Transcontinental Commission that if this change were made "it will not be in compliance with the Agreement, not satisfactory to this Company, and cannot be accepted."

During the long debate on the Trans-

FOOLED THE OFFICIAL.

Clever Trick a Daring Dacoit Played Upon an Englishman.

It was years ago in Burma. The English government was having trouble with a certain princely recalcitrant named Boh Toh, "the most daring and enterprising of the Dacoits." A heavy price had been set upon the rebel's head, but still Boh Toh was cunningly elusive.

At last, hard pressed, Boh Toh tried a new tack. He walked straight into the office of the commissioner.

"I am Boh Toh," he said simply. "I have come to surrender."

Exactly what he had counted on now happened. Fourteen years' experience with eastern subtlety and intrigue had taught the commissioner to be wary.

"Thank you," he said. "We will now proceed to discover who you really are and what you really want. Tell me, what do you expect to get out of this?"

"Ten thousand rupees," said the Boh quietly.

The commissioner, although a cool man, was a little staggered. "I don't quite follow," he murmured.

"Yet it's quite simple," whispered the Boh: "The government promises 10,000 rupees to the man who brings you the head of Boh Toh. I give it to you."

"Capital," was the wary answer. "But as you lose your head what good does the money do you?"

"My wife and children get the money."

"Pretty good, my man, but not quite good enough. Ten thousand rupees will be nothing to Boh Toh."

"If it were not I should not be here. I have been deserted and robbed. I am sure to be captured. My family might as well have the money while I can still command it."

"But why shouldn't I keep the money? I hand your head over, you know."

"Because you are an English gentleman. I chose my man, you see."

The commissioner mused awhile. Then he broke silence. "Look here, I know you are not the Boh. That is quite clear. I don't care who you are. But tell me frankly what you want."

The Burman hesitated awhile. Then he said: "You are right. But my life is worth as little as the Boh's. I have betrayed him and robbed him. He has sworn revenge. Give me an escort as far as Mandalay. Here, take these notes for 1,000 rupees—he had laid them on the table—and keep them if in twelve days' time I do not tell you how and when you can capture the Boh. Keep them till the Boh is caught if you prefer."

The commissioner thought hard and in silence for quite two minutes.

"I agree," he said at length.

So the Boh was safely escorted to Mandalay. Later the commissioner received a letter from him.

"You may keep those rupees," it ran, "which I, Boh Toh, left with you twelve days ago. I told you the truth. You would not believe me. The English government likes truth, and it likes money, but they never want both. I think, at the same time."—Youth's Companion.

The Most Crowded Street.

The supreme sensation of New York's east side is the sensation of the astounding populousness. The most

SCARES IN LO

When Cranks Predicted destruction of the

TERROR RULED THE

Bell, a Lunatic, Had the Elation in a Frenzy of Fear the End by Earthquake in River Thames Panic of 15

Men, it has been well said, herds. It will be seen that in herds, for instances can be given of a suddenly shaking off the reason and running wild or in a panic of some impending

A panic terror of the world spread over London the prophecy of the famous who predicted that the world would be destroyed on Oct. 13 in Crowds of people went out pointed day to Islington, Hampstead and the interval to witness the destruction which was to be the "begin end."

Again in the year 1701 the London were plunged into by two earthquake shock prophecy of a third, which stroy them altogether. These shocks was on Feb. 8 down several chimneys; was on March 8. Public directed to the fact that the month's interval between two shocks, and a crack in low named Bell was so imp the idea that there would be the forthcoming month the streets predicting the of London on April 5.

As the awful day approached became intense, numbers of credulous people to all the villages within twenty miles, there to await of London. Blackheath, Highgate, Hampstead and were crowded with panicky fugitives who paid exorbitant for accommodations in these treats. Such as could not afford lodgings at these places in the surrounding fields.

As is usual in panics, it came contagious, and hum had laughed at the prediction before packed up their good tells when they saw other and hastened away. The thought to be a place of great and accordingly all the available vessels and barges were with people, who passed between the 4th and 5th on every moment to see the totter and the towers of the abbey rock and fall amid dust. But on the following greater part of the fugitive convinced that the prophecy was false one. A few months Bell was confined in a lunatic where he died.

Great consternation was London in 1524 by a prediction the 1st day of February the regime. Only within the past few days has Hon. Martin Burrell produced his Bill for an appropriation of $10,000,000 for aid to agriculture, spread over the next ten years. Although the principle of the measure is not objected to the bill is likely to meet criticism as to the manner in which this large sum is to be expended, so as to ensure it from being made an instrument for electoral corruption as was the case with the Highways' Aid Bill of last session.

For the rest the Government is to-day just about where it was when Parliament opened, save that it has weakened by continual exposure from a vigorous Opposition, while it is every day more clear that although Mr. Borden is Premier, the real leader of the House is Sir Wilfrid Laurier. But the apparent manner in which the government is drifting with the Tory hope that it will "muddle through somehow" is having a bad effect upon the House, and there is a marked falling off in attendance on the Government side, save when the vigorous work of the Opposition galvanizes the members into new life. Unless Mr. Borden succeeds in getting his varicolored following into better working order the country's business will suffer while his colleagues will be detained in the Green Chamber this summer instead of enjoying the trips abroad at the country's expense which have been so popular since 1911.

A SLEEPING EMERGENCY.

In the meantime the Emergency lies dormant and the British Empire is trying to worry along until Mr. Borden borrows his $35,000,000 to settle it. Orders have gone forth to the Government supporters to keep quiet. The official gag is on the debate, and Mr. Borden has determined to rely upon his brute majority rather than reason to impose his will upon the people. He has evidently recognized the impossibility of defending the theory that Great Britain is in a tight hole and must have that $35,000,000 donation or go to the wall. Mr. Borden's difficulty is that he made his emergency in Canada, uncorked it in England, brought it back to Canada for exploitation—and then found himself faced with explicit denials by all leading British statesmen of either party that such an emergency existed. It is pretty hard to raise a big loan for an ungrateful country that will not cry poverty. Every leader in the British Parliament has been quoted to show that Mr. Borden's position is absolutely wrong, and rather than face so unequal a debate he has fallen back upon what Mr. Thompson of Qui'Appelle called an "epidemic of dumbness."

This however has not checked the debate, and the Liberals have continued to shower proof upon proof of the impropriety and unnecessary haste of the Borden plan, while showing how exactly Laurier naval programme is in line with the recommendations of the Imperial authorities.

In answer to Mr. Borden's declamations regarding rumbling thunders and lightnings on the horizon it is interesting to note what British and other statesmen have said.

With regard to the German peril Mr. Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, said last July: "We are spending £45,000,000 ($225,000,000) this year and we are going to spend more next year. We are raising the personnel of the navy to 151,150 by 1913, and to 146,000 in 1914. As regards construction Germany is laying down one extra and we two. This year Germany is laying down two small cruisers and we are laying down eight. Germany in the course of the next 18 months is laying down 21 destroyers, we 43. THERE IS NO CAUSE FOR PANIC OR ALARM."

On the same day, during the same debate, Bonar Law—Mr. Borden's secret ally—Leader of the Unionists, said:

Chairman of the Transcontinental Commission that if this change were made "it will not be in compliance with the Agreement, not satisfactory to this Company, and cannot be accepted."

During the long debate on the Transcontinental in 1903, when the whole project was so violently opposed by the Tories, one of the more important speeches was made by the late Hon. Charlton, who pointed out that one of the greatest advantages of the road would be that its low grades of 4.10% would enable its locomotives to pull enormous trains, thus at once solving the problem of getting out the western wheat crops.

Is the Government deliberately trying to spoil the usefulness of the Transcontinental, and deprive the West of this tremendous aid in getting out its wheat?

CHANCE FORECASTS.

Writers of Old Who Dimly Pointed to Modern Inventions.

Chance phrases in the literary works of other days describe with uncanny exactness inventions of far later times. For instance, we find in the "Prolusions" of Strada the Roman, which were published in the year 1617, what might be held to embody a crude description of wireless telegraphy.

Strada represents two friends as carrying on a correspondence by means of a "certain loadstone which has such virtue in it that, if it touches two needles when one of the needles begins to move, the other, although at ever so great a distance, moves at the same time and in the same manner."

In 1674 Robert Hooke published a work wherein he observed that as glasses improve the vision so ways might be found to improve our other senses. "It is not impossible," says he, "to hear a whisper a distance of a furlong, and perhaps the nature of the thing would not make it impossible although that furlong should be ten times multiplied." This seems to be a fair forecast of the telephone.

In "Gulliver's Travels" Swift causes his hero to relate in the voyage to Laputa that the astronomers there "have likewise discovered the two lesser stars or satellites which revolve about Mars." This has been held to constitute a satire on sham science. Nevertheless Professor Asaph Hall a few years ago discovered the two tiny satellites.

It was more than 1,700 years ago that Lucian gave an account of the manner wherein the inhabitants of the moon drank "air squeezed or compressed into a goblet" so that it formed a kind of dew. This clearly suggests liquid air.

The same writer in "Vera Historia" humorously and at some length describes an aerial ship the sails of which were inflated by a whirlwind, thus impelling it through space to the moon.

Catarth Cannot be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATION, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarth is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarth Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarth Cure is not a quick medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarth. Send for testimonials free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists price 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Companion.

The Most Crowded Street.

The supreme sensation of New York's east side is the sensation of the astounding populousness. The most populous street in the world—Livingston street—is a sight not to be forgotten. Compared to this, an uptown thoroughfare of crowded middle class flats in the open country is an uninhabited desert! The architecture seemed to sweat humanity at every window and door. The roadway were often impassable. The thought of the hidden interiors was terrifying. Indeed, the hidden interiors would not bear thinking about. The fancy shunned them—a problem not to be settled by sudden municipal edicts, but only by the efflux of generations.—Harper's Magazine.

Heroism of an Indian.

A few years ago in northern Mexico a truck carrying a load of dynamite for use at a mine was suddenly discovered to be on fire at a village station. The risk was imminent, so the driver of a locomotive engine picked the truck up and ran it away into the country at all the speed he could put on. He bade the brakeman jump off and save himself, adding, "I go to my death." When he had got a mile away the dynamite exploded. Every window in the village was broken, and he was blown to atoms, but the inhabitants were saved. He was a pure blooded Indian—"South America," by James Bryce.

SYSTEMS IN GAMBLING.

Monte Carlo Just Smiles at Them and Keeps on Winning.

There are only two games played at Monte Carlo—roulette and a simple card game called trente et quarante. One is assured that these games are played quite fairly and that the percentage in favor of the bank is 61 to 60. Whatever it may be, this certain percentage in favor of the tables overcomes all systems that human ingenuity can work out by any law of averages. M. Blanc will permit you to play any way you like, and to double your bet as often as you like until it reaches 6,000 francs at roulette or 20,000 francs at trente et quarante. Then you must begin over again, for it is quite clear that if one were permitted to double indefinitely it would only be a question of time and sufficient money to put M. Blanc out of business.

Thus it happens that M. Blanc, who takes no chance, wins against all those who are permitted to take any sort of chance they like. Sir Hiram Maxim disposed of all systems when he shattered a popular delusion in these words:

"If red has come up twenty times in succession it is just as likely to come up at the twenty-first time as it would be if it had not come up before for a week. Each particular coup is governed altogether by the physical conditions existing at that particular instant. The ball spins round a great many times in a groove. When its momentum is used up it comes in contact with several pieces of brass and finally tumbles into a pocket in the wheel which is rotating in an opposite direction. It is a pure and unadulterated question of chance, and it is not influenced in the least by anything that has ever taken place before or that will take place in the future."—Melville Davison Post in Saturday Evening Post.

false one. A few months later Bell was confined in a lunatic where he died.

Great consternation was in London in 1524 by a prediction the 1st day of February the Thames would overflow the city of London and wash away houses. The prophecy was believed, and many families their goods and removed into Essex. As the time drew numbers of these emigrants. In January droves of workmen were seen, followed by their children, trudging on foot ladders within fifteen or twenty feet of the catastrophe. People of the higher class were also to be seen in vehicles bound on a similar errand.

By the middle of January 20,000 persons had quitted the city, leaving nothing but the ruins of their homes to be swept by the impending floods. Many of the wealthier class took up their abode in the heights of Hampstead, and Blackheath, and some even as far away as Waltham Abbey north and Croydon on the south of the Thames.

On the fateful morning the rising crowds were astir at an early hour to watch the rising of the water. It was predicted that the rising would be gradual, not sudden. They expected to have plenty of time to escape as soon as they saw the water rise beyond the usual mark.

The day grew older, and the water flowed on quietly as of yore. It ebbed at its usual hour, flowed to its usual height and then ebbed again. As if twenty astrologers had predicted their word to the contrary.

Blank were their faces as they approached, and as blank faces of the citizens to think that they had made such fools of themselves. Night set in, and the obnoxious water would not lift its waters away even one home out of 10,000. Still, however, the people were afraid to go to sleep. Many of the dregs remained up till dawn next day, lest the deluge should come upon them like a thief in the night.

On the morrow it was serious. It was serious whether it would not be able to duck the false prophecy. Luckily for them the water of an expedition which had been popular fury. They asserted an error they had fixed their eyes on this awful inundation a century ago. The present generation of cockneys were safe and London was washed away, not in 1524.—London Family Herald

There is no witness so trustworthy as the accuser so powerful, as the accuser Polybius.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root

are made according to a formula used nearly a century ago among the Indians, and learned from them. Dr. Morse. Though repeated attempts have been made, by chemists and scientists, it has been impossible to improve the formula. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are a household remedy for all the world for Constipation, all Kidney and Liver trouble act promptly and effectively.

Cleanse the System

RES IN LONDON

Franks Predicted the Destruction of the City.

R RULED THE PEOPLE.

unatic, Had the Entire Population in a Frenzy of Fear Awaiting and by Earthquake in 1761—The Thames Panic of 1524.

has been well said, think in it will be seen that they go herds, for innumerable in-an be given of a whole people shaking off the trammels of id running wild under the de-some impending calamity. c terror of the end of the read over London in 1736 by hesy of the famous Whiston, licted that the world would yed on Oct. 13 in that year. if people went out on the ap-day to Islington, Highgate, ad and the intervening fields is the destruction of London, is to be the "beginning of the n the year 1761 the citizens of were plunged into excitement earthquake shocks, and the of a third, which was to de-m altogether. The first of cks was on Feb. 8 and threw veral chimneys; the second March 8. Public notice was to the fact that there was ex-month's interval between the ks, and a crack brained feld Bell was so impressed with hat there would be a third in coming month that he com-est his senses and ran about ts predicting the destruction a on April 5.

awful day approached the ex-became intense, and great of credulous people resorted villages within a circuit of illes, there to await the doom on. Blackheath, Islington, Hampstead and Harrow dowed with panic stricken who paid exorbitant prices modations in these secure re-uch as could not afford to pay igs at these places encamped rounding fields.

usual in panics, the fear be-tagious, and hundreds who hed at the prediction a week cked up their goods and chat-n they saw others doing so ened away. The river was o be a place of great security, dingly all the available mer-sels and barges were packed le, who passed the night be-e 4th and 5th on board, ex-very moment to see St. Paul's d the towers of Westminster ck and fall amid a cloud of art on the following day the of the fugitives returned, l that the prophecy was a . A few months afterward confined in a lunatic asylum, died.

consternation was caused in 1524 by a prediction that on 1524 by a prediction that on

His Fellow Passenger

A Railroad Episode

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Burnell boarded the train at the Grand Central station and walked slowly through the crowded coaches until he found a vacant seat. There was only one, and the other occupant was a woman, young and slender and deeply veiled. He paused irresolutely, and the woman drew aside her skirts and made room for him. With a murmured word of thanks he flung his grip into the rack and settled himself behind the evening paper.

The train drew out of the station and into the stifling atmosphere of the tunnel. The dim light made reading impossible, and Burnell turned his eyes toward his fellow passengers. There were the usual aggregation of home going commuters, a sprinkling of shoppers and a number of travelers who had made themselves thoroughly comfortable for a longer journey. He shot a glance at the other occupant of his seat and was startled into a prolonged stare.

She had thrown back her veil and revealed such a profile as Burnell had dreamed of. She was young, perhaps twenty-one, with delicate coloring and pale golden brown hair parted above a low, white brow, her nose was perfect, and her mouth adorable.

As the train glided out of the tunnel into the pale afternoon light the girl made a little movement, and the purse in her hand slipped to the floor. Burnell bent to pick it up, and as he restored it to her she thanked him with a smile and a flash of sea blue eyes that fairly made him dizzy.

He looked wistfully at his painting kit in the rack above and wished that he was going to Boston to paint a picture of this girl. Instead of that of a wealthy Back Bay spinster whose generous fee would support him for a year.

"Will you please stop the sandwich boy?" she asked timidly.

The artist whistled sharply and when the boy came she bought a package of chicken sandwiches and a couple of oranges. Burwell winced as he saw her carefully counting the money from her shabby purse.

"It is the curse of everything!" he thought savagely, remembering some of his own shattered illusions. Then he returned to his newspaper, while the girl ate her lunch daintily by his side. After that she drew down her veil and leaned back in her corner, and Burnell thought she slept.

Hour after hour the train thundered through the night; occasionally they stopped at a brilliantly lighted station, and the car was gradually emptied of its passengers. After they had left Providence behind and were whirling on toward Boston Burnell left his seat and took a vacant one just behind it,

Mrs. H. VON RODEN of LYNDON, KY.

Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for Backache, Nervousness, Headaches.

Lyndon, Ky.—"I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for headaches, neuralgia pains, backache, nervousness and a general run down condition of the system, and am entirely relieved of these troubles. I recommend your remedies to my friends and give you permission to publish what I write."

—Mrs. H. VON RODEN, Lyndon, Ky.

When a woman like Mrs. Von Roden is generous enough to write such a letter as the above for publication, she should at least be given credit for a sincere desire to help others suffering women, for we assure you there is no other reason why she should court such publicity.

Canadian Woman's Experience: Windsor, Ont.—"The birth of my first child left me a wreck with terrible weak spells, but I am glad to tell you that I do not have those weak spells and I feel like a new woman since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now well and strong and can do my own housework. I do not take medicine of any kind. It was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that restored me to health."

—Mrs. ROBERT FAIRBAIRN, 72 Parent Avenue, Windsor, Ontario.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

will find us anything but cheerful company under the circumstances." He threw himself into a chair. "As you will see more or less of my family, I may as well take you into my confidence. At present we are in great trouble."

Burnell looked interested as he lighted the cigar Mr. Ridgely offered him.

"I have a daughter, an only child, a beautiful girl," said Mr. Ridgely, his voice trembling with emotion. "She has been reared with the greatest care, and my sister has been a second mother to Frances. Four weeks ago you can imagine how shocked we were when my daughter—she is only eighteen—confessed that she wanted to marry her music master, a young German, clever enough in his way, but of whose antecedents I know nothing. I forbade the match, of course, until the man could give some account of himself, but he must have exerted some influence over my daughter, for a few days after her confession of love for the musician Frances left home, taking only a small sum of money with her. She left a note saying that she would go away and earn her own living until not long afterward he married a rich widow who was passionately fond of music.

Robert Burnell painted Miss Ridgely's portrait, but he did not meet Frances, who immediately went abroad with her father for change of scene after her escapade. But he never gave up his hope of one day knowing her and transferring to canvas her beautiful face.

When she finally returned he renewed his acquaintance with her, and after her first embarrassment in his presence wore off he was overjoyed to receive a commission to paint her portrait.

So successful were the sittings that in the end the painter gave Mr. Ridgely the exquisite painting in exchange for the original, and his fellow passenger for life proved to be the same girl he had met on the train and assisted to elope with another man.

He sang to her under the window,
He told of the peaceful night;
He sang, "How serenely quiet
Is all 'neath the stars so bright!"
But just as he reached the stanza
That ended with "silver moon"
Her father appeared at the window,
And he instantly changed his tune.
—Lippincott's Magazine

Pouting Wife—You used to call me the light of your life.

Hub—So I did, but I had no idea the meter was going to register such a cost.
—Boston Transcript.

The small boy's growing rather glum.
He's anxious as he waits.
It seems the time will never come
For him to put on skates.
—Fun Magazine.

One Lawyer to Another—You are the biggest fool I ever saw!

Judge—Order, order! You forget that I'm in the room!—Pittsburgh Dispatch

A wild and uncivilized Sioux
Once asked a Chinese for a chloux.
No "baccy" he had.
It made him so mad
He cut off the Chinaman's quioux.
—New York American.

Mrs. Goodley—Mrs. Bloomer seems to keep her youth still.

Miss Chellus—Well, she keeps her age quiet—Catholic Standard and Times.

"Nothing ventured, nothing gained"
Is a motto that has cost.
The safest way to put it is "Nothing ventured, nothing lost!"
—Judge.

"So your engagement to Miss Jor-ricks is broken?" said Dubbleigh.

"Yes," sighed Higgins. "Her mother said she was a first class cook, and I saw at once I'd never be able to keep her."—Harper's Weekly.

Talk is rather cheap, and why?
Because, you understand,
There's nearly always a supply
Exceeding the demand.
—Washington Herald.

First Suffragette—So those horrid college students broke up your parade?
Second Suffragette—Yes. In a parade they had the night before ours was scheduled they broke every plate glass window in town.—New York Times.

He was a saving cuss for fair,
But carried it too far;
To save his brand new shoes from wear
He bought a motorcar.
—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A few months afterward confined in a lunatic asylum, died.

Consternation was caused in 1524 by a prediction that on 5 of February the waters of y would overflow the whole London and wash away 10,000. The prophecy was implicitly and many families packed up and removed into Kent and as the time drew near the of these emigrants increased. y droves of workmen might followed by their wives and trudging on foot to the vil- in fifteen or twenty miles to catastrophe. People of a ss were also to be seen in ound on a similar errand.

In middle of January at least sons had quitted the doomed ig nothing but the bare walls omes to be swept away by iding floods. Many of the class took up their abode on ls of Hampstead, Highgate heath, and some erected tents ly as Waltham abbey on the Croydon on the south of the fateful morning the wonder- s were astir at an early hour the rising of the waters. It icted that the inundation gradual, not sudden, so that cted to have plenty of time as soon as they saw the wa- yond the usual mark.

grew older, and the Thames quietly as of yore. The tide its usual hour, flowed to its ht and then ebbed again, just ty astrologers had not pled- ord to the contrary.

vere their faces as evening d, and as blank grew the e citizens to think that they such fools of themselves. n, and the obstinate river t lift its waters to sweep n one home out of the 10- , however, the people were go to sleep. Many hun- ained up till dawn of the lest the deluge should come i like a thief in the night. morrow it was seriously dis- urther it would not be advis- ck the false prophets in ckily for them they thought pedient which allayed the ry. They asserted that by they had fixed the date of d inundation a century too e present generation of were safe and London would d away, not in 1524, but in don Family Herald.

s no witness so terrible, no o powerful, as conscience.—

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

According to a formula in ly a century ago among the and learned from them by rse. Though repeated at- have been made, by physi- d chemists, it has been found le to improve the formula or . Dr. Morse's Indian Root a household remedy through- world for Constipation and ey and Liver troubles. They aptly and effectively, and stopped at a brilliantly lighted station, and the car was gradually emptied of its passengers. After they had left Providence behind and were whirling on toward Boston Burnell left his seat and took a vacant one just behind it, where he alternately dozed and meditated. The girl in black slept soundly.

Use the System

At 10:30 Burnell slipped his watch back in his pocket just as the girl in front awoke with a little start, looked about her in bewilderment and then at the empty seat at her side. She turned in the seat and lifted her veil, and her face brightened visibly as she met the artist's interested glance.

"Ten-thirty," he said pleasantly.

"Why, what time shall we arrive in Providence?" she asked, with a carefully suppressed yawn.

"Providence! Why, madam, we will be in Boston in exactly thirty minutes." A look of terror leaped to her eyes.

"Oh, no, no; it cannot be," she cried.

"I must have made a mistake. I wanted to go to Providence, not Boston! What shall I do?"

"That is easily remedied," said Burnell kindly, laying a strong hand on her trembling little fingers, "for you can take a train to Providence as soon as we arrive or wait until morning. Have you any friends in Boston?"

"Too many!" she shook her head doubtfully. "And, besides, I haven't any money. I spent the last for sandwiches. You see, Felix was to meet me in Providence and"—she flushed crimson and drew back in the seat as if she had divulged some secret.

Burnell's hand sought his pocket and withdrew a ten dollar note. It was half of all he had in the world until the portrait should be finished. "Take this. You can repay it when you join your friends. Here is my card." He thrust them into her hands.

"Oh, you are so kind. I shall never forget it," she murmured in a relieved tone. "I suppose I am horrible to accept assistance from a stranger, but if you only knew!"

"It is sufficient for me that you happen to be in need of it," returned Burnell, with his rare smile as he reached for his overcoat. "If you will permit me I will find out about the Providence train for you and see that you are safely aboard."

"Thank you, but I am sure that I can make the connection all right now." She pulled down the disguising veil and preceded him down the aisle of the car, for they were drawing into the Union station. The young painter saw his fellow traveler safely aboard the Providence train, and when the lights of the end car had disappeared in the darkness he walked thoughtfully back to the subway for a car to his hotel.

The next morning he called upon Leander Ridgely, the brother of the lady whose portrait he was to paint. He found the great shipping magnate pacing restlessly about his beautifully appointed office.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Burnell," said Mr. Ridgely, as he shook hands with the painter and bade him be seated, "but my sister, Miss Malinda Ridgely, who was to sit for her portrait, is quite indisposed today and cannot see you. I trust she may be able to talk to you tomorrow."

"I trust her illness is not serious," remarked Burnell, rising to go, but the other waved him back into his seat.

"Don't go. I would be happy if you will dine with us tonight, though you days after her confession of love for the musician Frances left home, taking only a small sum of money with her. She left a note saying that she would go away and earn her own living until Felix could afford to marry her.

"You can imagine our grief and consternation. Of course I put detectives on her track immediately, and she has been under surveillance ever since. It seems the fellow went to Providence to play in some orchestra there, and Frances has seen him only once since she went to New York. She has been working in a department store until yesterday afternoon; then I received word from my agent that she had left the employment of the firm and had told her landlady she was going to Providence to be married. Somehow Alden, my agent, lost sight of her, and she has slipped off to meet this fellow."

"If I only could catch her. I am sure she would listen to reason, for she loves us dearly, but her Ridgely pride has been roused, and I have been letting her fight it out alone, hoping she would tire of it and come back to us. But I let it go too long. This German chap undoubtedly is after her money as well as herself."

"I think I can help you out, Mr. Ridgely," exclaimed Burnell. "I believe your daughter came down on the train with me last night." And he related his adventure to the impatient father.

"It is Frances!" cried Mr. Ridgely, reaching for his hat. "I thank you a thousand times for your kindness to my child, Mr. Burnell. Now, if Alden will only come along we can get that 10:03 and reach Providence in time to prevent their marriage."

In five minutes the detective arrived, and as they hastened down to the station Mr. Ridgely told the story of Burnell's meeting with the girl in black and his knowledge of her having gone to Providence.

Burnell afterward learned from Mr. Ridgely's own lips what had happened. It seems that his daughter had grown somewhat disillusioned concerning her German lover, but her pride forbade that she give in, though her tender heart was breaking for a reconciliation with those whom she had loved and from whom she was now parted for the first time in her life.

Her correspondence with the young German was desultory and only served to emphasize the difference in their upbringing. At the end of three weeks Frances Ridgely admitted to herself that she was completely cured of this fatal fascination for her music master, but just then he wrote to her and urged that they be married at once. He had a steady position and could support them. His endearing epithets recalled once more the bliss of their first lovemaking, and the girl was momentarily stirred by his appeal and consented to go to Providence and marry him.

Mr. Ridgely and his agent arrived just in time to halt Felix Hermann on the steps of the girl's boarding place. She was standing in the doorway, gowned in that same shabby black dress in which Burnell had seen her. When she saw her father she fainted in his arms, and afterward they learned it was from pure joy at her release from her engagement.

Felix Hermann seemed to be relieved of a great responsibility when Frances returned to her father, and

He was a saving cuss for fair,
But carried it too far;
To save his brand new shoes from wear
He bought a motorcar.
—Cincinnati Enquirer.

"How did you like our new medicine almanac?"

"It was simply great."

"Ah! And will you give us a testimonial?"

"Sure. You may say that the jokes are the kind I have always used."—Toledo Blade.

He'd always borrow trouble, and
He acted like a jack,
For when he had a stock on hand
He couldn't pay it back.
—Washington Star.

"Is your son an optimist?"

"No, sir. No eye doctors in this family."—Baltimore American.

A cop's range of language is spacious,
A ball player's blue and pugnacious,
A conductor can cuss,
A stage driver is wuss,
But as for a sailor—good gracious!
—Judge.

Wife—Be sure to advertise for Fido in the next morning papers.

Next day the wife read as follows in the newspapers.

"Lost.—A mangy lap dog, with one eye and no tail. Too fat to walk. Answers to the name of Fido. If returned stuffed $15 reward."—Tit-Bits.

Twinkle, twinkle, lovely star!
How I wonder if you are
When at home the tender age,
You appear when on the stage!
—St. Louis Dispatch.

He—Would you rather be beautiful or clever?

She—Beautiful, I think. You see, there are lots of stupid men, but only a few blind ones.—Boston Transcript.

There was a young doctor named Ledd, Whose last case was checked off as "dead."

When asked why he scowled
He grumbled and growled.
"I'm all out of patients," he said.
—Cincinnati Enquirer.

"Own up, now. Who's the head of your family?"

"My wife used to be," admitted Mr. Enpeck, "but since my daughters are grown up we have a commission form of government."—Washington Herald.

Oh, Eden's garden was a place
Where man might rest contented!
No piano ka-thumped next door.
They had not been invented.
—Houston Post.

Minerva—Isn't it strange, mother, that all the heroines in novels marry poor men?

Mater—Yes, my dear; but that is fiction.—Judge.

Of all things hateful
Most to me
Is he who uses Etc.
—Milwaukee Sentinel.

"Why did she break the engagement with Tom?"

"She advised him to be economical, and he started by getting her an imitation diamond."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

"And are you sure she is not in?"
He asked, unsatisfied.
"I have her word for it," was all
The little maid replied.
—Judge.

BOVRIL

BOVRIL promotes the growth of flesh and muscle. It imparts strength and stamina to the whole system.

3-2-12

The Reliable Match--- Match it with any other match and you will see that the quality of the DOMINION is unmatchedable.....

The Dominion Match Co., Limited, Deseronto, Ont.

W. S. MORDEN, President. C. J. ANDERSON, Manager.

Why not Install Electric Lighting in your place THIS FALL instead of putting it off again.

It is worth all you pay each month for convenience and safety alone, say nothing of the light you get.

Let us quote you a price on wiring your house. You can pay for the wiring by the month if you wish.

The Seymour Power & Electric Co., Limited.

CHAS. A. WALTERS, Local Manager.

MEXICAN BRIGANDS.

Pleasant Sort of People That Merely Robbed Travelers.

"I was once for some weeks at a sugar plantation, near a small provincial town in Mexico," wrote the late Mr. Labouchere in 1879. "In the town lived a brigand. He was highly esteemed by his neighbors, and I passed many a pleasant evening with him and his family. His daughter was a 'beauty,' and this estimable parent was amassing a little fortune for her.

"His habit was to ride at night to the road between Mexico and Vera Cruz with two or three associates and to levy contributions on the diligence. When I left the town I wanted to strike this road, and I went with him and his friends. We reached it at about 6 in the morning. Having partaken of chocolate, the brigands posted themselves behind some rocks, and I looked on. Soon the diligence was seen approaching. The brigands emerged, the coachman stopped, the passengers were requested to descend and were politely eased of their money.

"The passengers then took their places again in the coach, and it drove off, while the brigands courteously bowed to them. So honest were they in their peculiar way that they wished me to take my share in the spoil, but this, of course, my standard of morality being different from theirs, I declined, and I wished them goodbye.

"Riding on to Puebla I dined at a table d'hôte that evening with the despoiled travelers and was greatly amused to hear them recount the valorous manner in which they had defended themselves and how they at last had to succumb to numbers."

QUEER BURIAL SERVICE.

How Adaman Islanders Protect Their Dead From Evil Spirits.

Strange is the burial service among the Adaman Islanders. It is the custom of the Islanders to drop the bodies of their parents into the sea at the end of ropes and leave them there until nothing remains but the bones, which they then gather and hang from the roofs of their huts.

It is a common custom for a relative to sit by the hour and watch the bones of some relative. This is the way they bave of showing their love and respect.

The bodies are treated in this fashion so that the evil spirits cannot tease and pinch them. All that is left are the dried bones, and these are placed high so that if the evil spirits wander into the huts they will have a hard time to find them. If a bone is carried away it means some bad spirit has seized it, and this means that some terrible calamity will befall the family.

In the Katanga district of central Africa when a chief and his wife dies there is great feasting and celebrating. Some of these festivals last three or four days. After the bodies are laid to rest with dancing and rejoicing because they are going to rule over a higher sphere their relatives and friends do not depart until they leave one or more chairs and a supply of clothes. This is done because the souls are expected to come out and wander about their graves.—Chicago Tribune.

Whole Sharks

Fa's are Destructive.

A 25 cent bottle of Wall paste will rid your house of mice. It eats them up, bones. Sold only at Walla Store.

W. C. T. U.

On Thursday evening, Feb. 21, Napanee W. C. T. U. held meeting at the home of Mrs. Luven, Centre street. The was particularly well attended and was pronounced by all a most success from every point of view. New members and four members were enrolled during the evening. There was an musical programme rendered by Metzler, Mrs. Joyner, of Van Luven, Miss Nesbitt Lovelace. Dr. Howard speaker of the evening and address on Temperance was course of which he mentioned sirability of forming a Association in any community concerted work along the part of the clergymen. dress was followed by a discourse to what could be done by the T. U. in Napanee to help in Option campaign. Rev. M. lead the discussion and address on formation of committees and holding of open meetings and distribution of Temperance Literature. followed by Mr. M. S. Macdonald what Mr. Sellery spoke of the work of the W. in different towns and cities. Geo. Gibbard also spoke, addressing formation of a business association to work for the Local campaign. At the close of the programme, the guests were opportunity for some social while the hostess served the dainty refreshments. Decided may judge by the numbers present the interest shown through evening, these parlor meetings proving a great success.

FOR BALD HEAD

A Treatment That Costs Nothing.

We want you to try the bottles of Rexall "93" Hair our personal guarantee that will not cost you a penny if it give you absolute satisfaction. proof of our faith in this remedy it should indisputably demonstrate that we know what we are about when we say that Rexall Hair Tonic will retard baldness come scalp and hair ailments any human agency can achieve this result, it may also be recommended to promote a new growth of hair.

Remember we are basing our claims upon what has been accomplished by the use of Rexall Hair Tonic, and we have the assurance that what it has thousands of others it will do. In any event you cannot lose by giving it a trial on our guarantee. Two sizes, 50c. Remember, you can obtain Remedies in this community our store—The Rexall Store Wallace, druggist.

SLAVES OF THE DE

A Lashing Taken With Grace by the Emir's Servants.

Abd-er-Rahman wore a head that boded ill for some one, as he caressed his rawhide k

The Napanee Express

Job Department

The Napanee Express

Job Department

EXECUTES HIGH-CLASS PRINTING

Commercial Printing

of all kinds

Telephone 134

A Representative will call for your Orders and Instructions.

TRY SOLACE AT OUR EXPENSE

Money Back for any case of Rheumatism, Neuralgia or Headache that SOLACE Fails to Remove.

SOLACE REMEDY is a recent medical discovery of three German Scientists that dissolves Uric Acid Crystals and Purifies the Blood. It is easy to take and will not affect the weakest stomach. It is guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drugs Law to be absolutely free from opiates or harmful drugs of any description.

SOLACE is a pure specific in every way, and has been proved beyond question to be the surest and quickest remedy for Uric Acid Troubles known to medical science, no matter how long standing. It reaches and removes the root of the trouble (Uric Acid) and purifies the blood.

THE SOLACE CO., of Battle Creek are the Sole U. S. Agents and have thousands of voluntary testimonial letters which have been received from grateful people SOLACE has restored to health. Testimonial letters, literature and FREE BOX sent upon request.

R. Lee Morris, President of the First National Bank of Chicago, Texas, wrote the Solace Company as follows:

"I want you to send a box of Solace to my father in Memphis, Tenn., for which I enclose $1. This remedy has been used by some friends of mine here and I must say its action was wonderful."

(Signed) R. L. Morris.
It's Mighty Fine to be Well and You Can be so by Taking SOLACE. "No special Treatment Schemes or Fees." Just SOLACE Alone does the work. Write today for the free box, etc.

SOLACE REMEDY CO.
Battle Creek, Mich.

MANY young men and women are now preparing for the splendid positions that are awaiting them when they are ready.

During the winter is the best time to prepare. You may enter

Belleville Business College
Limited.

any time and be sure of an excellent training. Write the Principal for our new Catalogue.

T. W. Wauchope, Principal.

Cambridge's Bakery and Confectionery

Fresh Chocolates and Bon Bons

We have a large assortment of these in bulk, and in boxes all sizes and designs, which we will sell at reduced prices so as to make room for our Easter display. We guarantee all Box Chocolates, also bulk, strictly fresh and best quality.

Ice Cream

We have been appointed sole agents
of Napanee for The Toronto City Dairy Ice Cream and will receive a fresh supply daily of Bricks, all flav-ours, and we can assure our patrons prompt delivery for all orders entrusted to us.

CAMBRIDGE'S

Phone 93.

The Great Jenner.

An Englishman had occasion to go often to an eminent physician and said to Jeames, "You will be tired of opening the door for me." "Not at all, sir," was the gracious reply. "You are but a hunit in the ocean."

Another Jeames was accustomed to say during his master's occasional absences: "You had better try hop-posuite. There's a very respectable man hopposuite as we often sends to when Sir William is absent. His name is Jenner."—London Mail.

one or more chairs and a supply of clothes. This is done because the souls are expected to come out and wander about their graves.—Chicago Tribune.

Whale Sharks.

While whales are the largest of marine animals, yet certain fish grow to almost as gigantic size. The largest of true fishes are found among the sharks and the largest of these formidable fishes are the whale sharks.
These huge fish occur in the waters of India, Japan, South America, Panama, California and the West Indies. The nose is very broad and blunt and the mouth, although very wide, is armed only with minute teeth. It is a dark colored creature, marked with small,
whitish spots and is perfectly harmless to man, feeding exclusively on small fish. It's huge bulk makes it dangerous when wounded. This great fish reaches a maximum length of seventy feet.

Beware of Cousins!

Cousins are not as simple as they seem. The very fact of being a cousin, or having a cousin, is complicated.
The laissez faire of cousinship is both eluding and deluding. Cousins will be cousins, even if you did not choose them. They can borrow money from you, visit you without being asked, tell people they belong to your family, contest your will, even fall in love with you—and a cousin once removed is twice as apt to. Never completely trust a cousin. Never depend on his not doing any of these things. Never take him for granted. The "cousinly kiss" may or may not mean what it means. And cousins always do kiss.
It's part of being cousins.

(Not that cousins need necessarily prove perilous. Once in a blue moon they invite you to Europe or leave you money, but that almost always takes an aunt or an uncle.)—Atlantic.

Cod Liver Oil From Sharks.

Shark spearing is a profitable industry in Malaysia, though attended by an element of danger and no little excitement. The chief value of the fish is its liver, which yields an oil that is refined in Europe and sold as cod liver oil. In October the ocean sharks come into the lagoon, between the barrier reef and the atolls, to pair. At this time they can be speared in large numbers by people skilled in catching them.
There are several species of these sharks, and they ordinarily run from seven to fifteen feet in length. The liver of a shark of this size gives about five gallons of oil. The sharks are found in pairs, and the harpooners try to kill the male first, for they are then able to spear the female also, as it does not desert its mate.

Not a Total Wreck.

"What have you done with your play?"

"It didn't go as a farce, so I had some music composed and tried it as an opera, but it fell flat. Then I bottled it down into a vaudeville sketch, but nobody would touch it."

"Too bad. A total loss, eh?"

"Not total. There's one good job in it; I can sell that for 50 cents."— Louisville Courier-Journal.

Everything in hardware, special attention to quality, at responsible prices, above the average.

BOYLE & SON.

A Lashing Taken With Gr
the Emir's Servant

Abd-er-Rahman wore a be that boded ill for some one, s gers caressed his rawhide l
he watched the camels be When all was ready to star out four names, and four de ing Arabs answered shame
the summons.

The emir spoke to them
ately, as one might speak to and then, tossing his koorl nearest of the four culprit him lay on a dozen of the
he watched and criticised e with grim earnestness.

It was not a pleasant sigh
and I thought it policy to but the rest of the caravan enjoyed the exhibition and g
well laid blow with approval

When the punishment was each of the culprits in turn ward and kissed the emir's
ing him for his mercy and c to witness that they were
do with as he wished.

From their subsequent con
no reason to believe that t
mean every word they said, the time I was skeptical. I ery day that one learns suc
lesson in humility and feuds

White Robed Blacksm

Extraordinary precautions
by the Korean blacksmith attempts to shoe any Ko
which is noted for its bad t
likely to flourish its heels curely tied up first. Sight the small poules trussed heavy timber framework is however, and in a way may
"horseshoeing on the safety pl costumes would look out of blacksmith's use almost any but in Korea all men wear ments. Young men also hair screwed up in hard kn
top of their heads as a sig married.

Marriages in Burm.

A curious idea among the
that people born on the sa
the week must not marry a they defy the fates their un marked by much ill luck. 't
these disastrous marriages carries a record of her birth name, each day of the week letter belonging to it, and a
are called by a name wh
with that letter.

SALLOW SK Liver Spots, Pimple Circles Under Eyes.

are all signs of the system be
ed. The Liver and Bowels a and the Stomach is weak f
gested foods and foul gases.

FIG PILLS

the great fruit remedy, will feel like a new person.

Winnipeg, Ju
After taking three boxes
Fig Pills for stomach and liv
I feel strong and well and a my own work.

Mrs. A. H. S
Sold at all dealers in 25 and boxes or mailed by The Fig St. Thomas, Ont.

attractive.
A bottle of Wallace's rat rid your house of rats and eats them up, flesh and bone only at Wallace's Drug

Friday evening, Feb. 6th, the W. C. T. U. held a parlor at the home of Mrs. E. Van-stre street. The meeting ularly well attended and united by all a most decided every point of view. The members and four honorary were enrolled during the
There was an excellent ogramme rendered by Mrs.
rs. Joyner, of Yarker, Mrs.
Miss Nesbitt and Mr.
Dr. Howard was the
the evening and gave an Temperance work, in the
which he mentioned the deof forming a Ministerial in any community to inter work along this line on the clergymen. This addressed by a discussion as uld be done by the W. C.
upanea to help in a Local ampaign. Rev. Mr. Sellery discussion and advised the
of the committees and the holding meetings and distribution ance Literature. He was Mr. M. S. Madole, who that Mr. Sellery said and the work of the W. C. T. U. t towns and cities. Mr.
rd also spoke, advising the
of a business man's Ass work for the Local Option
At the close of the pro-
the guests were given an y for some social chatting, hostess served them with ashments. Decidedly, if one by the numbers present and st shown throughout the these parlor meetings are great success.

R BALD HEADS
nt That Costs Nothing If It Fails.

it you to try three large Rexall "93" Hair Tonic on al guarantee that the trial
it you a penny if it does not solute satisfaction. That's r faith in this remedy, and indisputably demonstrate ow what we are talking
we say that Rexall "93"
will retard baldness, over-
and hair ailments, and if a agency can accomplish
it may also be relied upon a new growth of hair.
er we are basing our staten what has already been ed by the use of Rexall "93"
and we have the right to at what it has done for
of others it will do for you.
it you cannot lose anything
it a trial on our liberal
Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00.
you can obtain Rexall
a this community only at The Rexall Store. T. B.
uggist.

OF THE DESERT.
Taken With Gratitude by e Emir's Servants.
human wore a heavy scowl
lli for some one, and his fined his rawhide koorbag as

ELLISON & SON
Fall and Winter Boots
in all the new styles and Leathers,
Black and Tan.

RUBBERS
Snag Proof Rubbers and Socks.
Men's Knee Rubber Boots.
Best quality. Everything is new.
No old stock.

REPAIRING
in our fully equipped repair shop
takes but a short time.

ELLISON & SON
Opposite Campbell House.

COUNTY COUNCIL.
REPORT OF D. A. NESBITT, P.S.I.
To the Warden and Members of the County Council for Lennox and Addington.
Gentlemen:—I have the honor to submit for your information the following statistics regarding the schools for 1912.
I may state that the efficiency of the schools and the interest in Education are much improved and the prospects are, I think, bright for a more rapid improvement
in the near future.
The scarcity of qualified teachers has been a menace to the best interest of the schools
but with better salaries and more congenial and healthful surroundings in the way of buildings and equipment, this difficulty will disappear.
This report is not so elaborate as that of last year, as many details would of necessity be similar, and I omit what may be found in that.
All of which is respectfully submitted.
(Sgd.) D. A. NESBITT.
Total number of schools and departments Rural and Urban, 105; Urban 15, Rural 90; males 8, females 97.
Number who attended—Normal School or College, 35.
Provincial First Class..... 7
Provincial Second Class..... 28
Third Class..... 30
Districts..... 4
Temporary..... 36

SALARIES.
Highest Salary paid (Rural).....$650 00
Average Salary of Male Teachers..... 416 00
Average Salary of Female Teachers. 418 00
The Highest Salary Paid in 1910. 600 00
Average Salary paid Male Teachers. 377 00
Aver. Salary paid Female Teachers. 371 00
This comparison shows an improvement.

| Libraries. | Value. | Number of Volumes. | Average Attendance. | Number of Pupils. | Balance. | Expenditure. | Receipts. |
|------------|----------|--------------------|---------------------|-------------------|-----------|--------------|-----------|
| | | | | | | | |
| | $ 97 15 | 220 | 54 | 114 | $ 392 26 | $ 2275 76 | 368 02 |
| | 111 30 | 317 | 72 | 147 | 594 22 | 2393 67 | 987 69 |
| | 493 90 | 1184 | 418 | 757 | 5905 66 | 13427 84 | 335 50 |
| | 304 19 | 750 | 286 | 543 | 6255 23 | 10665 14 | 20 37 |
| | 297 14 | 638 | 134 | 250 | 3175 66 | 4777 10 | 652 76 |
| | 145 70 | 342 | 109 | 210 | 2822 42 | 3902 57 | 24 99 |
| | 318 37 | 827 | 251 | 461 | 3082 59 | 10113 83 | 96 42 |
| | | | 94 | 52 | 145 50 | 1170 50 | 316 00 |
| | | | 56 | 95 | 242 43 | 1305 25 | 347 68 |
| | | | 353 | 515 | 80 73 | 9243 03 | 323 76 |

DIVINE JUSTICE
IN THE DELUGE
The Deluge, Rightly Understood,
Was an Act of Mercy.

Pastor Russell's Interpretations. Unlock Bible Mysteries — Lucifer by Rebellion Became Satan—How His Evil Example Was Permitted To Test the Loyalty of Holy Angels.

Dayton, Ohio.
February 9.—Great crowds heard Pastor Russell to-day
at Memorial Hall.
He spoke twice. We report his discourse on the Deluge, from the text, "The flood came and took them all away."
(Matthew 24:39.)
Speaking without notes, he said:
I continue to-day
my subject of a week ago at Brooklyn. I am confident that many of you keep in touch with my weekly discourses through the newspapers. Last Sunday we considered the physical causes which led to the Deluge, and found them most reasonable, in full harmony with history and geology. Today we consider the Deluge from a different standpoint. We shall show from the Bible why God permitted the Deluge, and that He was fully justified in blotting out humanity, except Noah and his family.
The Pastor showed that Adam,
created perfect, could have maintained
that perfection by continued obedience to his Maker. When Satan obsessed the serpent and guided it to eat the forbidden fruit, he produced a temptation. Eve saw that the serpent was not poisoned by the fruit, but that it was the wisest of the animals. She reasoned that increased wisdom would make her husband and herself like gods.
Only the Divine command stood between her and the highest ideals. She partook of the fruit and recommended it to Adam. He knew that death would surely follow disobedience; but he preferred to die rather than be separated from Eve.
Disobedience led to expulsion from Eden, and the gradual execution of the sentence, "Dying, thou shalt die."
Adam died within the thousand-year
Day in which he ate—nine hundred and thirty years old. His race inherited his dying tendencies. Humanity is under the curse of death, said the Pastor. Whatever, therefore, cuts human life short is no injustice to mankind; for whatever life is enjoyed is thus more than it has title to. Hence the Deluge was merely a quick means of executing the death sentence imposed sixteen centuries before.
The Deluge a Deliverance.
Pastor Russell proceeded to show that according to the Bible the Deluge was a blessing in disguise. Mankind had gotten into slavery, and would have been wiped out by a new race,
most peculiarly intruded upon humanity. The Bible states that this race consisted exclusively of males, propagated by the human female. These were giants, "men of renown."
The fallen race, he continued, were unable to cope with the superior

THE MARKETS

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 10.—The steadier American cables on Saturday caused lighter offers at the opening, and values were unchanged, with the undertone steady. Following the opening, there was realizing on the rain in India, continued liberal world's shipments, and the increase in the amount on passage, and prices declined. There is a less urgent demand for Plate wheat, and cargoes are more freely offered. The decline was checked by the decrease in stocks here and firmer Australian offerings, with an improved demand for spot.
Corn opened unchanged for American,
and Plate 1/4d higher, and, following the opening, further advanced. Shorts covered on the scarcity of Plate offerings and firmer American offerings, and the firmness of Plate holders. The American grade later declined on the liberal American shipments to Liverpool.
CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Wheat prices
took a down turn today owing to rain reports from India and because of mild weather and of promised moisture in the United States winter crop belt. The close was easy at 1-8 to 1-2c net decline. Corn finished 3-8 to 5-8c off, oats unchanged to 1-8c lower and provisions dearer by 5 to 22 1-2c.

WINNIPEG OPTIONS.

| | Open. | High. | Low. | Close. | Prev. Close. |
|------------|--------|--------|--------|--------|--------------|
| Wheat— | | | | | |
| May | 88 3/4 | 88 3/4 | 88 | 88 | 88 1/2 |
| July | 89 1/4 | 89 1/4 | 89 1/4 | 89 1/4 | 89 1/2 |
| Oats— | | | | | |
| May | 36 1/4 | 36 1/4 | 36 1/4 | 36 1/4 | 36 1/2 |
| July | 37 1/4 | 37 1/4 | 37 1/4 | 37 1/4 | 37 1/2 |

TORONTO GRAIN MARKET.

| | |
|---------------------------|------------------|
| Wheat, new, bushel..... | $9 95 to $9 97 |
| Wheat, goose, bushel..... | 0 34 |
| Barley, bushel | 0 68 |
| Peas, bushel | 1 00 |
| Oats, bushel | 0 39 |
| Buckwheat, bushel | 0 53 |
| Rye, bushel | 0 65 |

TORONTO DAIRY MARKET.

| | | |
|----------------------------|----------|------|
| Butter, separator, dairy.. | 0 28 | 0 30 |
| Butter, creamery, lb.rolls | 0 32 | 0 34 |
| Butter, creamery, solids. | 0 30 | |
| Butter, store lots..... | 0 24 | |
| Eggs, new-laid | 0 27 | 0 23 |
| Eggs, cold storage, doz. | 0 18 | 0 22 |
| Cheese, new, lb..... | 0 14 | 0 15 |
| Honey, extracted, lb..... | 0 12 1/2 | |
| Honeycombs, dozen | 2 75 | 3 00 |

MONTREAL, Feb. 10.—Business in Manitoba spring wheat over the cable was very quiet, owing to an easier tone, at a decline of 1 1/4d, and a smaller demand, but the bids received for flaxseed were in line with exporters' views, and sales of several loads were made. The local demand for coars grains continues slow,
and the market is quiet, with no change in prices to note. Flour is steady, with a fair trade passing for local account,
but the export demand is slow. Millfeed is quiet. Butter steady, with a fair demand for small lots. Cheese firmer and more business doing over the cable at higher prices. Eggs fairly active and steady. Provisions stronger, with dressed hogs 25c per 100 pounds higher.
Corn—American, No. 2 yellow, 62 1/2c.
Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 41 1/2c to 42c; do., No. 3, 40 1/2c to 41c; extra No.
1 feed, 41c to 41 1/2c; No. 2 local white, 38c; No. 3 local white, 37c; No. 4 local white, 36c.
Barley—Manitoba feed, 53c to 54c;
malting, 76c to 78c.
Flour—Manitoba, spring wheat patents,
firsts, $5.40; seconds, $4.90; strong bakers', $4.70; winter patents, choice, $5.35;
straight rollers, $4.85 to $4.90; straight rollers, bags, $2.25 to $2.30.
Rolled oats—Barrels, $4.50; bags, 90
lbs., $2.12 1/2.
Millfeed—Bran, $20; shorts, $22; middlings, $27; mouillie, $30 to $35.
Hay—No. 2, per ton, car lots, $13.50 to $14.
Cheese—Finest westerns, 13c; finest easterns, 12 1/2c to 12 3/4c.
Butter—Choicest creamery, 28 1/2c to 29c;
seconds, 28c.
Eggs—Fresh, 35c to 37c; selected, 23c
to 25c; No. 1 stock, 21c to 22c; No. 2 stock, 15c to 16c.
Potatoes—Per bag, car lots, 65c to 75c.
Dressed hogs—Abattoir killed, $13 to $13.25; country, $11.75 to $12.75.
Pork—Heavy Canada short cut mess, barrels, 35 to 45 pieces, $28.50; Canada
short cut backs, barrels, 45 to 55 pieces, $27.50.

...taken from the Emirs' Servants.
 Mahman wore a heavy scowl
 ill for some one, and his finshed his rawhide koorbag as
 as the camels being laden.
 was ready to start he called ames, and four dejected look-answered shamefacedly to ons.
 spoke to them dispassion-
 one might speak to one's dog, tossing his koorbag to the
 the four culprits, he bade
 a dozen of the best, while and criticised each stroke earnestness.

not a pleasant sight to watch,
 ought it policy to turn aside,
 st of the caravan thoroughly exhibition and greeted each blow with approval.
 ie punishment was completed
 ie culprits in turn came, thank-for his mercy and calling Allah
 s that they were his dogs to s he wished.
 elr subsequent conduct I have to believe that they did not ry word they said, though at was skeptical. It is not ev-at one learns such an object humility and feudal service.

the Robed Blacksmiths.
 linary precautions are taken orean blacksmith before he to shoe any Korean horse voted for its bad temper and flourish its heels if not ad-up first. Sight of one of poules trussed up to the ber framework is ludicrous,
 and in a way may be termed ing on the safety plan." White would look out of place for a
 's use almost anywhere else,
 rea all men wear white garounting men also wear their ed up in hard knots on the ir heads as a sign they are

Marriages In Burma.
 s idea among the Burmese is e born on the same day of must not marry and that if the fates their union will be much ill luck. To prevent strous marriages every girl record of her birthday in her day of the week having a nging to it, and all children
 by a name which begins letter.

LOW SKIN pots, Pimples, Dark
 cles Under the Eyes.

is of the system being cloggiver and Bowels are inactive
 omach is weak from undi-ls and foul gases.

FIG PILLS

ruit remedy, will make you
 new person.
 Winnipeg, June 27, 1911
 ing three boxes of your
 or stomach and liver troubles
 g and well and able to do ork.
 MRS. A. H. SAULTER
 ll dealers in 25 and 50 cents
 all by The Fig Pill Co., s, Ont.

| Township. | Number of Schools. | Average Assessment. | Average Salary. | Receipts. |
|---------------------|-----------------------|------------------------|--------------------|------------|
| Adolphustown. | 4 | $ 920.45 | $ 377 | $ 2668 02 |
| Amherst Island. | 6 | 77494 | 488 | 2987 69 |
| Camden. | 26 | 85909 | 431 | 19333 50 |
| Ernestown. | 20 | 105256 | 456 | 16920 37 |
| N. Fredericksburgh. | 9 | 75429 | 411 | 7052 76 |
| S. Fredericksburgh. | 7 | 98154 | 483 | 6724 99 |
| Richmond. | 18 | 51842 | 402 | 13196 42 |
| Bath. | 3 | 34000 | 525 | 1316 00 |
| Newburgh. | 2 | 31445 | 475 | 1547 68 |
| Napanee. | 10 | 50000 | 590 | 9323 76 |

| Entrance Examination for 1912. | |
|------------------------------------|--------|
| Passed | Failed |
| 120 Candidates wrote at Napanee | 54 |
| 100 Candidates wrote at Newburgh | 59 |
| 33 Candidates wrote at Bath | 20 |
| 28 Candidates wrote at Tamworth | 11 |
| 3 Candidates wrote at Denbigh | 1 |
| Out at a total of 284, 145 passed. | |

| Estimates of Teachers for 1913. | | | |
|---------------------------------|------|--------|--------|
| | Male | Female | Totals |
| First Class | 1 | 6 | 7 |
| Second Class | 0 | 28 | 28 |
| Third Class | 4 | 37 | 41 |
| Districts | 1 | 3 | 4 |
| Temporary | 6 | 19 | 25 |
| | 12 | 93 | 105 |

REPORT SPECIAL COMMITTEE RE LOYST VS. COUNTY.

To the Warden and County Councillors.
 We, your Committee, who were appointed to defend the action of Gaoler Loyst against the County of Lennox and Addington, beg leave to report as follows:
 We met at the Clerk's Office on Tuesday December 10th, 1912, and Messrs. Longmore, Ryan and Warden Wartman went to Kingston and procured legal advice from J. L. Whiting, Esq., K.C., and on January 16th, 1913, Messrs. Hambly and Paul met at the Clerk's Office, and made affidavits as to what took place when they met the Provincial Secretary and Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities in the Department at Toronto. Mr. Wartman, the Warden, came to the Clerk on December 18th, 1912, to put in a defence. On January 25th, 1913 Messrs. Ryan, Hambly and Paul went to Belleville and interviewed E. Gus Porter, K.C., and procured his advice in writing, and from the advices we received from the two lawyers above mentioned, we, your Committee, have come to the conclusion we should go on and defend the suit as the advice assures us that we are on the safe side.

M. RYAN, Chairman.
 G. A. WARTMAN.
 ROBERT W. PAUL.
 C. W. HAMBLY.
 R. W. LONGMORE.

Adopted January 29th, 1913.
 W. G. WILSON,
 County Clerk.

Special Prices, Red Hot Water Bottles.
 2 qt red rubber bottle, 98 cents.
 2 qt red rubber bottle, guaranteed for one year, $1.40.
 2 qt red rubber hot water bottle, guaranteed for 2 years, $1.65.
 JESSOP'S PHARMACY.

S. S. NO. 7, HAYBURN.

Class V—Margaret Magee, Mary Dickson.
 Class IV—Edith Magee, Hazel Thompson.
 Class III Sr.—Elsie Magee, Myrtle Dickson, Clara Brooks, Leone Thompson.
 Class III Jr.—Lula Lloyd.
 Class II—Bernice Thompson, George Dickson, Allie Lloyd.
 Class I Sr.—Fred Dickson, Anabella Dickson, Aubrey Brooks, Kenneth Dickson, Harold Magee.
 Class I Jr.—Ida Brooks, Victoria Soules, George Soules.
 Primer—Charlie Soules.
 MARION MAGEE, teacher.

consisted exclusively of males, propagated by the human female. These were giants, "men of renown."
 The fallen race, he continued, were unable to cope with the superior strength of the intruders. Robbed of their wives and daughters, and compelled to drudge for their new masters, mankind found life a burden. The new race was vicious, brutal, immoral. The Bible declares "The earth was filled with violence." Noah, however, was of pure Adamic stock—"perfect in his generations." See Genesis 6:4-11.

Whence the Race of Giants.

The Pastor declared that we have not studied the Bible carefully enough. Th origin of the giants is clearly told there. Satan, a glorious angel, deflected to sin because of ambition, thought to establish a separate empire on earth. If he could become master of the first pair, their children would be his subjects.

When Satan perceived humanity growing weaker under the curse, he formulated a new plan. To the angels permission had been given to help humanity. These possessed the power to materialize. Satan suggested the begotting of a new race, with human mothers. To these, the angels could impart their own virility.

The Pastor then showed that the children of this illicit union were giants, renowned at a time when mankind rarely reached maturity earlier than a century. He quoted Genesis 6:4 in proof of his assertions. These bestial giants filled the earth with violence, oppressing and enslaving Adam's posterity.

Hope For the Antediluvians.

Pastor Russell pointed out that these giants cannot be included in the redemptive work of Jesus, who died only for Adam's posterity. (1 Corinthians 15:22.) The antediluvians of Adam's race have the same hope of a resurrection that the remainder of mankind have. This means, he said, a hope of Restitution, to the perfection lost in Eden. This hope rests on God's promise that all the families of the earth shall be blessed in Abraham's Seed, "which Seed is Christ"—Jesus, the Head, and the Church, the members.

In the Messianic Kingdom the Seed will accomplish the blessing foreordained. St. Paul says, "If ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's Seed, and heirs according to the promise." Next Sunday Pastor Russell will show what penalty Divine Justice has imposed upon Satan and his angelic rebels. Those not in touch with any of the hundreds of newspapers publishing his sermons are invited to drop him a card to Washington Temple or Brooklyn Tabernacle, if they desire further reading matter.

Russian Footwear.

There is more handsome footwear worn in Russia than anywhere else in the world.

Silver pie knives, berry spoons, cold meat forks, butter knives, carving sets and all kinds of cutlery, ladies' work baskets and a full line of brass goods, all suitable for Xmas gifts, at the up-to-date Hardware store, BOYLE & SON'S.

Forty years in use, 20 years the standard, prescribed and recommended by physicians. For Woman's Ailments, Dr. Martel's Female Pills, at your druggist.

Potatoes—Per bag, car lots, 65c to 75c. Dressed hogs—Abattoir killed, $13 to $13.25; country, $11.75 to $12.75.
 Pork—Heavy Canada short cut mess, barrels, 35 to 45 pieces, $23.50; Canada short cut backs, barrels, 45 to 55 pieces, $27.50.
 Lard—Compound, tierces, 375 lbs., $3.25; wood pails, 20 lbs., net, $9.75; pure, tierces, 375 lbs., $14.50; pure, wood pails, 20 lbs., net, $15.

CATTLE MARKETS

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

MONTREAL, Feb. 10.—At the Montreal Stock Yards west end market, the receipts of live stock for the week ended Feb. 8 were 1400 cattle, 200 sheep and lambs, 2300 hogs and 400 calves, while the offerings on the market this morning for sale amounted to 1100 cattle, 150 sheep and lambs and 250 calves.

There was no important change in the condition of the market for cattle, as compared with this day week, prices being firmly maintained, owing to the fact that the supply was not in excess of the requirements, and the percentage of the quality of the stock offered was better than it has been of late. Demand was good and trade active. Carloads of choice steers, weighing from 1050 to 1150 lbs. each, sold at $6.60 to $6.65, while good loads brought from $6.25 to $6.50, and mixed loads of good cattle, $5.50 to $5.75 per 100 pounds. The top price realized for picked lots of choice steers was $7.20 and $6 was paid for choice butchers' cows. Small meats were firm, owing to the light supply coming forward, for which demand is fair. Demand for calves was fair, and all the offerings met with a ready sale at steady prices.

The strong feeling which has characterized the market for hogs during the past two weeks still continues to be the main feature of the situation, and prices scored a further advance today of 15c per 100 pounds. The demand was good, and sales of selected lots were made at $9.40 to $9.65 per 100 pounds, weighed out cars.

Butchers' cattle, choice, $6.75 to $7; do., medium, $5 to $6; do., common, $4 to $4.50; canners, $2.75 to $3.25; butchers' cattle, choice cows, $5.50 to $6; do., medium, $4.50 to $5; do., bulls, $5 to $5.50; milkers, choice, each, $70 to $75; do., common and medium, each, $60 to $65; springers, $50 to $55.

Sheep, ewes, $5 to $5.25; bucks and culls, $4.50 to $4.75. Lambs, $7.25 to $7.50.

Hogs, f.o.b., $9.40 to $9.65. Calves, $3 to $12.

LIVERPOOL LIVE STOCK.

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 10.—John Rogers & Co. cable that there is no alteration in trade at Birkenhead today, Saturday's prices still ruling, viz., 13½c to 15c per pound for Irish steers.

Brockville Has Ice Bridge.

BROCKVILLE, Feb. 11.—The decided turn to zero weather has at last formed the ice bridge on this portion of the river St. Lawrence. With it comes the closing of the season of navigation between here and Morris-town, which is the latest date on record.

Kingston's New Armories.

KINGSTON, Feb. 11.—A site for the armories at Queen's University has been chosen. It will be 180 feet by 80 feet, and will be in the vicinity of the skating rink. One army medical corps will be established, in addition to engineering.

Still Worried.

"It used to worry me when the barber informed me that my hair was getting a little thin on top."

"But you got used to it, eh?"

"No. Now it worries me because he doesn't mention it. I must be getting old."—Philadelphia Press.

Just the Contrary.

"People in very cold climates need a heavy diet."

"No, they don't; they have to have light diet. Don't the Eskimos eat 'baidies'?"—Baltimore American.

BOWSER ON HERBS

He Goes to the Druggist to Prove That Mrs. B. Is Wrong.

BUT COMES HOME IN DISGUST.

Accompanied by a Bunch of Catnip, the Entire Feline Population and a Well Developed Grouch—He Manages to Save His Honor, However.

By M. QUAD.

[Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press.]

MR. BOWSER hadn't said anything right out, but he had come home a bit irritated and ready to find fault. There had been no opening offered, and he was wondering if he shouldn't begin on the stock subject of the gas bill when the cat entered the room and began rolling about on the rug. There was his chance, and he exclaimed:

"Now, then, what in thunder ails that old cat?"

"He acted like that this afternoon when Mrs. White was in here, and she said he wanted catnip," replied Mrs. Bowser.

"Wanted catnip?"

"Yes. You know what catnip is, don't you?"

"I've heard of a plant called catnip, but what has it to do with cats?"

"A good deal. At certain seasons of the year, particularly in the fall, cats are crazy for it. I've heard it said that they would die if they didn't get it."

"Bosh! What our old cat wants is a blamed good thumping with a club, and he'll get it if he tries any funny business around this house!"

"I meant to have got some catnip of the old man who comes along here every week selling it," said Mrs. Bowser.

"SHE WANTS SOME CATNIP."

"but he passed yesterday before I could call him. I'll be on the watch for him next Wednesday."

"Are you an idiot, or do you take me for one?"

"I don't know what you mean. What

Mr. Bowser clapped on his hat and took a walk. He knew his family butcher to be an ex-farmer, and he called at his shop and looked around and then in a casual way inquired:

"Jones, did you use to raise catnip on your farm?"

"The old woman raised a few bunches—just enough for her cats," was the reply.

"How for cats?"

"Why, cats eat it like fun, particularly about this time of year. If you have a cat over home and she is ailing just let her get at a bunch of catnip."

"And you stand there and tell me that catnip is so called because cats nip at it?"

"I have never heard any other reason."

"Then you don't know enough to come in when it rains! Cats and catnip have no more to do with each other than bulls and bulrushes. No wonder you can't tell bones from beef!"

"I can tell a jackass when I see one!" exclaimed the butcher, and after glaring at him for a minute Mr. Bowser snorted in contempt and walked out.

A farmer who had been selling potatoes to the grocer on the corner was just about starting for home, and Mr. Bowser walked up and asked him:

"Say, friend, do you grow any catnip on your farm?"

"Not as a crop," smiled the man.

"Then how do you grow it?"

"A few bunches in the garden for the cats."

"But what has it got to do with cats?"

"Everything. You could have found that out by asking your wife."

Mr. Bowser Is Beaten.

Mr. Bowser felt like calling him names and getting up a row, but the agriculturist was in a hurry and was soon driving away. An old man who was leaning against a barrel had overheard the conversation, and he now butted in with:

"You must have lived in a catless country not to have heard about catnip."

"Did I ask your opinion, sir?"

"No, but when I find a man who doesn't know catnip I feel it my duty to post him. I wouldn't wander very far from home if I were you! You might get lost!"

"You old villain! But for your gray hairs I'd—!" And Mr. Bowser put his fist under the other's nose and held it there for a few seconds and then passed on. His family druggist was a proper man to appeal to, but it was ten minutes before the searcher after information entered the store. It was another ten before he asked:

"Doc, do cats eat catnip?"

"Do cows eat grass?" answered the druggist.

"But is it really true that they do?"

"They love it. Catnip is for cats. Cats are for catnip. They are one and indivisible. You can bet your last dollar on that."

"But I never heard of such a thing."

"Probably not. I believe there are several things you never heard of. However, you can settle this thing very quickly. Here's a bunch of the stuff I bought for my cat today. She's wandered off somewhere, and you can take it along."

Mr. Bowser took the bunch and walked off. He hadn't got ten feet from the door when a stray cat meow-

REFUSED TO LAUGH.

A Joke on Himself That Mark Twain Failed to Enjoy.

When Mark Twain was a resident of Hartford, Conn., he once called at the office of Dr. Swan, a local specialist of considerable repute, to consult him regarding a trivial ailment.

The physician was inclined to be rather arbitrary in his charges, was very independent and disliked exceedingly to be consulted in regard to minor ailments. In this instance he named a fee for his services that the economically minded Clemens thought excessive.

After a little argument Mr. Clemens declared that he would not pay any such price as the physician asked, and rose to leave. Just as he turned his back on Dr. Swan a voice said distinctly:

"Go along home, you old fool, you!"

Instantly Mark Twain wheeled around, angry through and through. "What's that, sir?" he roared at the doctor. "What's that you say?"

With a smile that was cloying in its sweetness Dr. Swan pointed to a cage in the corner where his parrot was swinging and chuckling with birdish glee, and explained:

"That is the gentleman who spoke to you, sir." Somehow the explanation did not seem to reduce Mr. Clemens' anger very much, and he never entirely believed in Dr. Swan's innocence.—New York American.

THE FLY'S BALANCERS.

Without These Organs the Insect Would Tumble to the Ground.

The insects of the Diptera order, to which the common housefly belongs, have, as a rule, one pair of wings and rudimentary remnants of another pair in the form of a club shaped organ on either side of the thorax behind the wings. These organs are called "balancers" and, as experiments have shown, are indispensable in the maintenance of equilibrium.

A fly from which they have been removed cannot direct its flight, and if it tries to fly from the edge of a table will immediately take a downward course, dropping to the floor on its head about three feet away and falling over on its back. Similarly, if it tries to fly from the floor after succeeding in getting on its feet again it will rise in the air two or three inches and then again tumble, striking its head and turning over on its back as before, but only about four inches from its starting point. Horizontal and ascending flight becomes absolutely impossible.

The similarity between these artificially produced insect mishaps and many an aeroplane accident is striking, and a study of why the removal of the fly's balancers causes it to upset may go a long way toward solving the problem in aeroplane construction.—Westminster Gazette.

AN INSOLENT WRITER.

He Found He Couldn't Dictate to a Typical John Bull.

That sprouting Scotch peer, the Earl of Leven, who rebuked a ship news reporter who approached him by declaring that "no gentleman ever speaks to

The yen-bok, or dipper, a die shaped instrument, is pi opium receptacle and turned the black and sticky substa small quantity of opium ad point. It is then placed over the lamp, and, turning i the smoker rolls and cooks until it is ready for the pipe.

The tiny speck is then thru opening of the bowl, which, the lamp, slowly begins t opium fumes, which are dr the smoker through the st pipe. The "pill" lasts only f to forty seconds, and to enj smoke the same preparation be repeated.—New York Tri Humiliated Hubby.

A newly married couple i little disagreement about s which the wife had made. band complained that those l used to produce were far sup the next day the girl set be taste of hot cakes.

"Now you have achieved s ne exclaimed enthusiastically, are exactly like what moth make. How did you do it?"

"I will give you the recip the wife coldly. "I used m stand of butter, eggs a year alum in the flour and added water to the milk."—London

INSPIRED AUTHO

Ideas Come to Them, It W In Spite of Themselves

Bernard Shaw has stated once that he is "inspired. pushed," he says, "by a na to set to work to write do sations that come into my l countably. At first I hardly speakers and cannot find them. Then they become more familiar, and I learn th Finally I come to know l well and discover what it l driving at and why it is said and done the things l moved to set down."

Other writers and painters described their processes in way. William Blake was p emphatic in describing hin mere amanuensis, writing words that were audibly him, and he painted in the from a model set before bis visible to him alone. H French sculptor, gave his as same idea of models visible of the artist. Dickens said characters were actually v audible to him, and it will bered that "Kubla Khan" v ed to Coleridge while he s don Spectator.

The Curious Guanac

"Amura!" guanaco whis as they crouched low in "Kill" and he pointed to ti side me in the stern sheets. en brown of the white bren like animal stood out, a lit color, complementing strong the verdant green of the dar est side, but well out of ran seen the Indian guanaco s (cloaks) sold by the fur deale ta Arenas, but this was glimpse of the animal its can him. I'll be on the watch for him next Wednesday."

"Are you an idiot, or do you take me for one?"

"I don't know what you mean. What is there to call for such vigorous language?"

"Our old cat comes up and rolls around and meows, and you tell me he wants catnip."

"Well, what of it?"

A Lecture on Catnip.

"What of it? Are you trying to make me believe that because some idiot named a certain plant catnip cats like it or must have it? Don't attempt to get funny, Mrs. Bowser!"

"Cats love catnip, and everybody knows it," she replied. "Your mother used to raise it for her cats, and you ought to remember that she did. Would a man come along here selling the plant every week if cats didn't love it?"

"And I say that catnip is a medicinal plant and is used to make poultices of. No human being ever saw a cat taste of it or ever will. You might as well look for a cat to eat thistles or hay. When a woman of your age will believe such stuff and nonsense it's no wonder I find clothespins scattered all over the place and have to figure on how long I can keep out of the poorhouse. Catnip! Catnip! I'll catnip that old cat if he gives another yell!"

Mrs. Bowser realized that argument would be of no avail, and she had read a page or two in the magazine when Mr. Bowser returned to the attack. He wanted the catnip question settled then and there, and he wanted it settled in his favor.

"You have made certain statements about cats and catnip," he continued, "and I want you either to back them up or admit that you were guying me. I want your authority for saying that catnip is grown for cats."

"There may be other uses for it as well, but everybody knows that cats love catnip. If a cat is sick it is better after eating of the plant."

"That won't do, Mrs. Bowser; that won't do at all. I have only your unsupported word. I must have more than that."

"Then go over and ask the druggist, the butcher—ask people on the street. It's a funny thing. You were born on a farm and lived on one until you were fifteen years old, and you must have been as familiar with catnip as with burdocks."

He Goes to Prove It.

"I may have, but that proves nothing. I have also seen cats eating hay and corn and oats and fish bones. I never make a positive statement to you without being able to back it up. Can you find in the encyclopedia that cats must have catnip or perish? Is there anything bearing on the subject in the history of America? Did Columbus discover cats eating catnip when he landed on these shores? Did the pilgrim fathers bring their cats and catnip along to Plymouth rock? Woman, answer me or admit that you were trying to belittle your own husband in his own house?"

"All that I can say is that cats love catnip," she replied.

"You make that as a plain statement of fact, do you?"

"I do."

"Then I will prove that you don't know what you are talking about and need a guardian."

wandered on somewhat, and you can take it along."

Mr. Bowser took the bunch and walked off. He hadn't got ten feet from the door when a stray cat meowed at his heels. Before reaching the other end of the block the number was six. When within 100 feet of his gate it seemed as if there were twenty waiting, meowing felines around him, all making threats against his life if he did not give up that bunch, and he suddenly became panic stricken and fled.

"Well?" queried Mrs. Bowser as she opened the front door and found him on the steps breathing heavily.

But he gazed steadily at the rising moon and made no answer. He had been defeated, but he meant to save his honor.

Bound to Lose.

A fool man will blow that nobody can boss him and then go and get married anyway.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Unwonted Role.

Miss Helen Gould as hostess at a waffle luncheon at the Women's exchange in New York appeared in the new role of a cynic.

"How many men," said one of her guests, "owe their success to their wives?"

"Yes," Miss Gould retorted, "and how many more owe their wives to their success."—Buffalo Express.

Not Missing Anything.

"Great dinner, eh?"

"Yep."

"You are missing some of the brilliant repartee at the end of the table."

"Never mind. I'm getting my share of the turkey."—Washington Herald.

Illustrated.

"Why do you call yourself a tonsorial artist?"

"It's this way," explained the barber. And then he went to illustrate with a few cuts.—Pittsburgh Post.

A Good Stove Lining.

A good stove lining, one that will last two years or more, can be made from blue clay. Brick clay or one that does not contain much sand, is good also. Clay found in salt water marshes is one of the best for stove linings. The clay must be reduced to a paste about like putty. The bed for lining should be brushed clean and moistened before the clay is applied. Put on with hands, smooth with a trowel or this piece of board.—National Magazine.

Won by His Blarney.

Irish Magistrate—Haven't you been before me before? Astute Prisoner—No, yer honor; I never saw but one face that looked like yours, an' that was a photograph of an Irish king. Magistrate—Discharged! Call the next case!—London Answers.

The Way It Goes.

"I want a nice book for an invalid."

"Something religious, madam?"

"Er—no—he's convalescent."—Boston Transcript.

Truth is an honest man's statement of a fact.

typical Scotch peer, the Earl of Levon, who rebuked a ship news reporter who approached him by declaring that "no gentleman ever speaks to another without an introduction; it simply isn't done," is an old friend of James Francis Dwyer, the Australian novelist—that is, Dwyer doesn't actually know the Earl of Levon, but he knows his sweetly British sort.

"I ought to," said Dwyer. "I was broke in London and I learned to know the true Briton. Once I answered an advertisement for a literary secretary. To make certain that my letter would be read I wired the advertiser as follows:

"Do not engage a literary secretary until you have read my letter of application."

"That letter was a gem. I thought I would land the place with it sure. I was certain of it when a large, square letter directed me to appear at a named address at a given hour. It was a four penny bus ride, but I didn't care. My fortune was opening out before me. I squandered the fourpence without a miserly thought. A pompous butler ushered me into a black oak library, where the original stuffed model of John Bull sat at a table. I sat down meekly and waited to be spoken to.

"Blam! He hit the desk with his clinched hand.

"You cannot dictate to an Englishman," said this old image.

"No, sir," I said.

"I tell you," he shouted, "you cannot dictate to an Englishman!"

"Certainly not," I said.

"But you tried to," he said. "You sent me this impertinent telegram. No Englishman would have done that. It was an American trick."

"I tried to soothe him, for I wanted that job. But he got hotter and hotter. Finally he told me outright that he had hired a young man who once had worked for a lord.

"I have sent for you," said he, "and you should be grateful to me in order to teach you a proper respect for the traditions of England and for the British flag."

"You old fossil," said I, "if I had a British flag here I'd tear it in two and choke you to death with it."—Chicago News.

"COOKING A PILL."

That Is What Opium Smokers Call "Hitting the Pipe."

The opium smoker in the act of smoking is said to be "cooking a pill." Smokers of tobacco in seeing opium pipes have been misled into the belief that the large bowl of the pipe is filled with opium when really the "pill" is simply pasted over a tiny opening in the cover of the bowl. Heating of the bowl produces dense fumes, which are drawn through the bowl and the stem of the pipe into the smoker's mouth.

Neither does one pipe of opium produce stupor. A "pill" dazes only even an inexperienced smoker as a large drink would effect a person unused to alcohol. The opium users who have been pictured stretched on bunks of opium dens in utter stupor have been saturated with the drug.

Reclining on a bed, the smoker places the layout within easy reach and lights the lamp. Peanut oil, burning slowly and without evil odors or fumes, is used exclusively. The smoker is then ready to prepare his "pill."

est side, but well out of range seen the Indian guanaco (reloaks) sold by the fur dealer Arenas, but this was glimpse of the animal its thousands of which I saw in my expeditions through Tlergo and Patagonia. "You a animal, indeed," apostrophized gentine Lieutenant as he at Musters once viewed a so naco. "You have the neigh the wool of a sheep, the neck el, the feet of a deer, and ness of the devil." Yet with ful animal and at a distance red deer, though larger.—Ou

Jarred Her.

A Chicago woman was to the orient. On a trip through she was carried by four stalw in a chair suspended on p natives started out with g but as the journey progress sun beat down upon them t to chant a prayer to Allah melodious, though a bit mon constant repetition was soo the lady dozed. On awak prayer, grown more mournl despairing, was still beln Turning to her interpreter the meaning of the mysteri The interpreter pretended b but being pressed for an an ly bowed low and said:

"Madam, since you insist, that the great Allah may less fat."—Chicago Tribune.

Sacrifice!

There was only one piece (for dinner, and Mrs. Jones between her children, Ned a Ned looked first at his piece at his mother's empty plate. he said, "I don't think I c pudding while you haven't an. Ned," said the mother, muc "how unselfish you are, dear! see, my boy, there is no i ding." "I know that, mot take Grace's!"—London Mail.

One Exception.

"Where there's a winner ways a loser."

"Not always."

"Well, name an instance to trary."

"When you're playing co your girl for kisses."

Unfeeling.

Mrs. Benham—I'm afraid t bill is too high. Benham—B ed my life. Mrs. Benham—T I'm figuring on.—New York

There is no time so misern ann may be true.—Shakspe

Man's Big Mistake

According to a German man made a mistake when ago he changed himself fro rapped to a biped, the conten that many present day illa carrying the spine in an up tion when it was intended ried horizontally.

Accounted For.

"The baby's awful bald," y "Yes; they come bald on y they had hair they'd pull it a than all that hair would b said Tommy.—Philadelphia E hook, or dipper, a long, need instrument, is put into the septage and turned slowly in and sticky substance until a ntity of opium adheres to the is then placed over the flame up, and, turning the dipper, or rolls and cooks the "pill" ready for the pipe. speck is then thrust into the the bowl, which, held above slowly begins to produce nes, which are drawn in by er through the stem of his "pill" lasts only from thirty econds, and to enjoy another e same preparations have to d.—New York Tribune.

Humiliated Hubby.
A married couple had had a agreement about some cakes wife had made. The husband claimed that those his mother oduce were far superior. On lay the girl set before him a t cakes. "I have achieved something!" ed enthusiastically. "These y like what mother used to w did you do it?" give you the recipe," replied idly. "I used margarine in utter, eggs a year old, I put he flour and added plenty of he milk."—London Tit-Bits.

INSPIRED AUTHORS.

ne to Them, It Would Seem, Spite of Themselves.
Shaw has stated more than he is "inspired." "I am he says, "by a natural need work to write down conver- at come into my head unac- At first I hardly know the and cannot find names for hen they become more and har, and I learn their names. come to know them very discover what it is they are t and why it is they have done the things I have been set down." riters and painters, too, have their processes in a similar Miam Blake was positive and in describing himself as a anuensis, writing down the at were audibly spoken to be painted in the same way odel set before his eyes and him alone. Rodin, the ulptor, gave his assent to the e models visible to the eye list. Dickens said that his e were actually visible and him, and it will be remem- "Kubla Khan" was dictat- eridge while he slept—Lon- ator.

The Curious Guanaco.
"Guanaco" whispered one, crouched low in the boat. I he pointed to the side be- the stern sheets. The gold- of the white breasted, deer- al stood out, a little note of implementing strongly against t green of the dark, wet for- out well out of range. I had Indian guanaco skin capas old by the fur dealers of Pon- s, but this was my first, of the animal itself, many

A CURIOUS COURT

It Is Held Annually When France Pays Tribute to Spain.

PRICE OF AN ANCIENT PEACE.

After More Than Five Centuries Three Calves Are Still Humbly Presented Each Year to the Haughty Descendants of the Victorious Spaniards.

Every year there takes place in the Pyrenean highlands a remarkable fete. It is held at the boundary stone of San Martin, which separates the French valley Bareton from the Spanish valley of Roncal. Every year the representatives of the French peasants assemble there in order to pay the Spaniards a tribute, which consists of three calves of the same age and the same color, and the delivery of the calves is accompanied by ceremonies which sufficiently indicate that the old inhabitants of the Roncal valley were once victorious over their neighbors.

At 9 o'clock in the morning the mayors of the various villages in the Bareton valley, bravely adorned with their blue, white and red scarfs of office, march up to the boundary stone. In front of the column walks a lad, with a pike, from the point of which flutters a little white pennon as a gage of peace. The three calves are dragged in the rear of the procession at the end of long ropes. Calves and scarfs take up their position by the stone and await the arrival of the Spaniards.

They are soon visible in the distance. In front walks a man clad in sheepskins, who waves a red pennon at the end of a pike as a sign of war. Behind him walks the alcalde of Isaba, the principal village in the valley of Roncal, and following him come the alcaldes of the other villages, their staffs of office in their hands. The bulk of the procession consists of shepherds, stern looking fellows armed with old sabers and matchlocks.

The alcalde of Isaba is all glorious to behold in a long black garment fastened by gold buttons, a tall white ruff, tight fitting knee breeches, red silk stockings and buckled shoes. A sombrero covers his head, and in his hands he holds the staff adorned with silver knobs, the emblem in Spain of magisterial dignity.

As soon as the Spaniards reach the rendezvous the alcalde of Isaba steps to the front and addresses them in solemn ceremonial style:

"Are you come to pay tribute and swear friendship according to old custom and tradition?"

"That is the reason of our coming," answer the French.

Then the two standard bearers approach the boundary stone and lay their pikes crosswise upon it. After a few moments the Spaniard takes his up again, sticks it into French soil and then places it as before on the stone. On the cross formed by the two shafts the representatives of the two valleys swear to keep the pence with loyal mind.

Then follows the delivery of the three calves to the Spaniards. They are ex-

COMFORT SOAP

Comfort Soap Means "Comfort"—not just "Soap."

POSITIVELY THE LARGEST SALE IN CANADA

A HINDU IDOL.

His Strange History Caused Mme. Carnot to Order It Destroyed.

When Mme. Carnot, widow of Sadi Carnot, died and her will was read a clause in it caused considerable comment. This was to the effect that a certain small Hindu idol carved from a hard stone which would be found among her property must be taken out and crushed until completely destroyed. Many marveled at this apparently singular request, for the idol seemed a harmless, ugly little thing, but her instructions were carried out to the letter.

The idol had been presented to Sadi Carnot years before he had ever thought of the presidency of France by a friend who had brought it from India. Later he learned that there was a legend attached to it which asserted that whosoever would retain it in his possession would rise to the fullest height of power in his chosen profession, but die of a stab wound when at the zenith of his career.

M. Carnot traced the history of the idol and found that for 500 years the rulers who had possessed it had all died either in battle or by assassination from stab wounds. Yet he laughed at the story, called the facts adduced by his search a mere chain of coincidences and retained the idol. He died by a dagger in the hands of an assassin; hence Mme. Carnot's strange request.

LURE OF THE MISTS.

Curious Experience in the Clouds in an Aeroplane.

It was at Manchester. Aeroplanes were sweeping the skies in the circuit of Britain race. Vedrines had landed, and impatient at the rules that made him wait ten minutes before taking up the race, went about jabbering in French. One of the officials asked him what kind of a trip he had had. Vedrine's answer was to hold up his hands expressively.

He was quiet for many seconds, then he said:

"I was blanketed in clouds so that I could not see ten meters before me. Below me was nothing but rolling mist that gradually took on all fanciful shapes and colors. I caught myself wanting to descend, to drop suddenly into it and see what it was like. To escape this feeling I flew higher and higher, until, venturing to look down again, I saw wonderful lights and

CANADIAN NORTHERN ONTARIO RAILWAY

Bay of Quinte Ry.

NAPANEE TRAIN SERVICE
Effective Dec. 9th, 1912.

TRAINS LEAVE.

For TORONTO and intermediate points. Connection at TRENTON for PICTON and C. O. Railway Stations: x 5.45 a.m.; x 4.10 p.m.

For TAMWORTH and intermediate stations: x 10.50 a.m.

For BAYSIDE and TRENTON: x 10.30 a.m.

For BELLEVILLE, TRENTON, PICTON, COE HILL and intermediate stations: x 10.30 a.m.

For TWEED, HARROWSMITH, SYDENHAM and intermediate stations: 2.50 p.m. x

For TRENTON, BELLEVILLE, PICTON and other intermediate points, 4.10 p.m. x

TRAINS ARRIVE.

From TORONTO and intermediate stations: x 2.50 p.m., 11.05 p.m. x

From PICTON and intermediate stations: x 8.57 a.m., s 11.05 a.m. s Saturday only.

From COE HILL and intermediate stations: x 2.50 p.m.

From MAYNOOTH and intermediate stations: x 11.05 p.m.

From BELLEVILLE, DESERONTO and intermediate stations: x 8.57 a.m.; x 2.50 p.m.; x 11.05 p.m.

From SYDENHAM and intermediate stations: x 9.50 a.m.

From TAMWORTH and intermediate stations: x 3.45 p.m.

x Daily except Sunday.

For tickets, rates, folders and other information apply Depot Agent, R. E. McLean or Town Agent, E. McLaughlin.

AGENT WANTED!

For Napanee

To sell for "The Old Reliable"

FONTHILL NURSERY

Orders now being taken for Spring delivery 1913. Prospect is bright for the season's trade Experience unnecessary. We instruct our salesmen how to sell fruit stocks in the country and Ornamental trees in the town.

START NOW—and have your territory reserved. Weekly Pay. Free outfit. Write for terms.

green of the dark, wet forest, but well out of range. I had Indian guanaco skin caps old by the fur dealers of Puno, but this was my first of the animal itself, many of which I saw later during rations through Tierra del Fuego. "You are a queer indeed," apostrophized an Argentine as he and Captain once viewed a solitary guanaco have the neck of a horse, of a sheep, the neck of a camel of a deer, and the swift, deerlike. Yet with a grace and at a distance not unlike though larger.—Outing.

Jarred Her.
ago woman was traveling in. On a trip through a desert carried by four stalwart blacks suspended on poles. The journey progressed and the down upon them they began a prayer to Allah. It was a, though a bit mournful. Its repetition was soothing, and dozed. On awakening, the town more mournful, almost g, was still being intoned. to her interpreter she asked ing of the mysterious words. preter pretended not to hear, pressed for an answer finally and said: n, since you insist, they pray great Allah may make you —Chicago Tribune.

Sacrifice!
was only one piece of pudding er, and Mrs. Jones divided it her children, Ned and Grace. ed first at his piece and then ther's empty plate. "Mother," "I don't think I can eat my while you haven't any." "Why, id the mother, much pleased, selfish you are, dear! But, you boy, there is no more pud- 'I know that, mother. You ce's!"—London Mail.

One Exception.
there's a winner there's al- ber." ways." name an instance to the con- you're playing cards with for kisses."

Unfeeling.
enham—I'm afraid the doctor's s high. Benham—But he sav- e. Mrs. Benham—That's what ing on.—New York Times.

is no time so miserable but a / be true.—Shakespeare.

Man's Big Mistake.
ing to a German biologist, de a mistake when centuries -changed himself from a quad a biped, the contention being ay present day lils are due to the spine in an upright posi- en it was intended to be car- izontally.

Accounted For.
why's awful bald," and that. they come bald on purpose. If i hat they'd pull it all out, and that hair would be wasted any.—Philadelphia Record.

On the cross formed by the two shafts the representatives of the two valleys swear to keep the peace with loyal mind.

Then follows the delivery of the three calves to the Spaniards. They are examined by a veterinary surgeon and accepted, after which all present take up their stations under a shady oak, and, following the example of the Good St. Louis of France and Alfonso the Wise of Spain, the alcalde of Isaba enthrones himself among the gnarled roots of the oak and proceeds to act as a magistrate.

Shepherds and neatherds pass before him and prefer their international complaints. The judge listens to both sides, bids them bring forward their witnesses and delivers judgment without delay, inflicting a fine on one, awarding compensation to another, punishing one and affording satisfaction to his victim.

After all the quarrels are settled the alcalde undertakes the appointment of the pasture guardians for both valleys, so that he enjoys even greater authority in the township of Bareton than the president of the republic himself. Finally, they all betake themselves to Spanish soil, where a Homeric feast is set out, and till late in the night the banquet goes on, the descendants of the old warlike mountain peoples drinking together in brotherly unity in commemoration of the conclusion of the peace of 1375 and the installation of the above ceremonies.

About 300 years after this treaty had been made the French began to refuse to pay the tribute, but after some negotiations they consented to continue it. In more modern times they tried to get the tribute commuted to a sum of money, but the Spaniards declined, but agreed to forego the firing of guns in the direction of France as being a wound to French amour propre.—London Spectator.

Hard Luck.
Maud—Beatrix has lost twenty pounds lately—her new gowns are perfect successes, her sweetheart proposed to her last night, her rich uncle died yesterday and left her a million, and now she has to go to his funeral today and try to look sad.—Harper's Bazar.

Making Antiques.
An expert cabinetmaker can take a new piece of furniture and make it look as if it was 200 years old—and so can the average small boy.—Chicago News.

Robt. Light,
Napanee, Ont.

snaps and colors. I caught myself wanting to descend, to drop suddenly into it and see what it was like. To escape this feeling I flew higher and higher, until, venturing to look down again, I saw wonderful lights and shadows that never before had been revealed to me from the sky. I saw a dreamy city, a wonderful mirage, and I believe I would have forgotten everything but those exquisite colorings, released my levers, and" (He laughed.) "But I was fortunate, for I became sick—as sick as a dog—away up in the clouds."—Edward Lyell Fox in Harper's Weekly.

Cheapest Hams Ever Sold.
Sometimes an error creeps into the published announcement of a big store, due to the negligence of the proofreader or to the compositor in the printing office of the paper. It is rarely funny in its results, although it may make humorous reading when first issued. One day a department store in New York advertised "Sugar-Cured Hams at 4c a lb." Rather cheap, you say? Well, 130 odd persons thought so too, for that was the number that asked for the ham at this ridiculously low price the morning the ad. appeared. It transpired that the printed proof O. K'd by the grocery buyer and sent down to the newspaper office for insertion in the day's issue read "14c a lb." The first numeral had simply dropped out of sight; 125 sales were made at a loss of 10 cents per pound.—Woman's Home Companion.

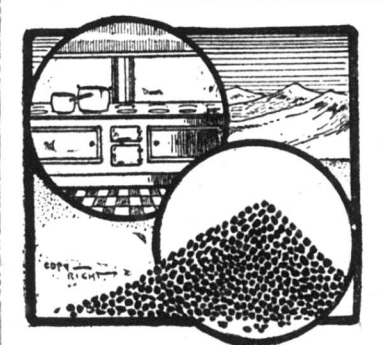

Poetry and the Child.
Read poetry to the child. Read easy, simple verse, read nonsense verse, read real poems, read sometimes such poems as "Thanatopsis" and bits of "Paradise Lost." Of course the child will not understand the thought, but he will enjoy the sound, and he will unconsciously learn the words. Poetry was never meant to be read to oneself, but always to be read aloud or recited. It is harder than prose. The order of the words is often like our everyday speech, and the words themselves are frequently different. Here especially children need help. If they find it they learn to love poetry, and there are few things that so sweeten life as a genuine love for poetry for its beauties and for the helpful lines that come to one's mind in hard places.—

Parasitine for lice on cattle, 15c a pound. Get it at Jessop's.

Building Material
A large assortment of Plank and Scantling Spruce and Pine Flooring and Siding
All Well Seasoned—Now in Stock.
Also Doors, Sash and Finish for Buildings.
ROBT. LIGHT,
Napanee, Ont.

Experience unnecessary. We instruct our salesmen how to sell fruit s'ocks in the country and Ornamental trees in the town. START NOW—and have your territory reserved. Weekly Pay. Free outfit. Write for terms.

STONE & WELLINGTON, TORONTO, ONT.

COAL FOR THE KITCHEN
should never be allowed to get too low, else you may have to go without your dinner some fine day.
WISE MEN BUY COAL AT STEVENS COAL YARD
Phone 104.

WEDDING RINGS
The reason we sell so many of these is that we are noted
For keeping a secret.
For selling Plump Good Quality.
For giving you the Latest and Newest Styles.
For giving you the correct thing as well as advice.
F. CHINNECK'S
New Jewelry Store,
Opposite Merchants Bank.

Chinese Seek Funds.
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—A fund of $400,000 is being raised by Chinese of the United States and Canada, and within a few weeks will be sent to Wo Hon Mun, governor of the Province of Canton, China, to outfit the army that is to protect Chinese interests in Mongolia, against alleged Russian encroachments. Already $25,000 has been subscribed by local Chinese, according to Wong Nagi Teng, secretary of the Chinese Six Companies.

The Woman In the Alcove

By ANNA KATHARINE GREEN,

Author of "The Millionaire Baby," "The Filigree Ball," "The House in the Mist," "The Amethyst Box," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1906, THE BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY.

"In other words, this is what you think. The Englishman, desirous of covering up his tracks, conceived the idea of having this imitation on hand, in case it might be of use in the darling and disgraceful undertaking you ascribe to him. Recognizing his own inability to do this himself, he delegated the task to one who in some way, he had been led to think, cherished a secret grudge against its present possessor—a man who had had some opportunity for seeing the stone and studying the setting. The copy thus procured, Mr. Grey went to the ball, and, relying on his own seemingly unassailable position, attacked Mrs. Fairbrother in the alcove and would have carried off the diamond, if he had found it where he had seen it earlier blazing on her breast. But it was not there. The warning received by her—a warning you ascribe to his daughter, a fact which is yet to be proved—had led her to rid herself of the jewel in the way Mr. Durand describes, and he found himself burdened with a dastardly crime and with nothing to show for it. Later, however, to his intense surprise and possible satisfaction, he saw that diamond in my hands, and, recognizing an opportunity, as he thought, of yet securing it, he asked to see it, held it for an instant, and then, making use of an almost incredible expedient for distracting attention, dropped, not the real stone but the false one, retaining the real one in his hand. This, in plain English, as I take it, is your present idea of the situation."

Astonished at the clearness with which he read my mind, I answered, "Yes, inspector, that is what was in my mind."

"Good! Then it is just as well that it is out. Your mind is now free, and you can give it entirely to your duties." Then, as he laid his hand on the door knob, he added: "In studying so intently your own point of view, you seem to have forgotten that the last thing which Mr. Grey would be likely to do, under those circumstances, would be to call attention to the falsity of the gem upon whose similarity to the real stone he was depending. Not even his confidence in his own position, as an honored and highly esteemed guest, would lead him to do that."

"Not if he were a well known connoisseur," I faltered, "with the pride of one who has handled the best gems? He would know that the deception would be soon discovered and that it would not do for him to fail to recognize it for what it was, when the make believe was in his hands."

"Forced, my dear child, forced; and as chimerical as all the rest. It cannot stand putting into words. I will go further—you are a good girl and house. I had seen it many times, but I felt that I should see it with new eyes after the story I had just heard in the inspector's office. That an adventure of this nature could take place in a New York house taxed my credulity. I might have believed it of Paris, wicked, mysterious Paris, the home of intrigue and every redoubtable crime, but of our own homely, commonplace metropolis—the house must be seen for me to be convinced of the fact related.

Many of you know the building. It is usually spoken of with a shrug, the sole reason for which seems to be that there is no other just like it in the city. I myself have always considered it imposing and majestic, but to the average man it is too suggestive of old world feudal life to be pleasing. On this afternoon—a dull, depressing one—it looked undeniably heavy as we approached it, but interesting in a very new way to me, because of the great turret at one angle, the scene of that midnight descent of two men, each in deadly fear of the other, yet quailing not in their purpose—the one of flight, the other of pursuit.

There was no railing in front of the house. It may have seemed an unnecessary safeguard to the audacious owner. Consequently, the small door in the turret opened directly upon the street, making entrance and exit easy enough for any one who had the key. But the shaft and the small room at the bottom—where were they? Naturally in the center of the great mass, the room being without windows.

It was, therefore, useless to look for it, and yet my eye ran along the peaks and pinnacles of the roof, searching for the skylight in which it undoubtedly ended. At last I espied it, and, my curiosity satisfied on this score, I let my eyes run over the side and face of the building for an open window or a lifted shade. But all were tightly closed and gave no more sign of life than did the boarded up door. But I was not deceived by this. As we drove away, I thought how on the morrow there would be a regular procession passing through this street to see just the little I had seen today. The detective's adventure was like to make the house notorious. For several minutes after I had left its neighborhood my imagination pictured room after room shut up from the light of day, but bearing within them the impalpable aura of those two shadows flitting through them like the ghosts of ghosts, as the detective had tellingly put it.

The heart has its strange surprises. Through my whole ride and the indulgence in these thoughts I was conscious of a great inner revulsion against all I had intimidated and even honestly felt while talking with the inspector. Perhaps this is what this from my improvement. When Dr. Freigh says, 'Well, well, we are getting on finely today!' I notice that he does not look less anxious, nor does he even meet these encouraging words with a smile. Haven't you noticed it? He looks as careworn and troubled about me now as he did the first day I was taken sick. Why should he? Is it because he has lost so many children he cannot believe in his good fortune at having the most insignificant of all left to him?"

"I do not know your father very well," I protested, "and cannot judge what is going on in his mind, but he must see that you are quite a different girl from what you were a week ago and that, if nothing unforeseen happens, your recovery will only be a matter of a week or two longer."

"Oh, how I love to hear you say that! To be well again! To read letters!" she murmured, "and to write them!" And I saw the delicate hand falter up to pinch the precious packet awaiting that happy hour. I did not like to discuss her father with her, so took this opportunity to turn the conversation aside into safer channels. But we had not proceeded far before Mr. Grey returned and, taking his stand at the foot of the bed, remarked, after a moment's gloomy contemplation of his daughter's face:

"You are better today, the doctor says. I have just been telephoning to him. But do you feel well enough for me to leave you for a few days? There is a man I must see—must go to, if you have no dread of being left alone with your good nurse and the doctor's constant attendance."

Miss Grey looked startled. Doubtless she found it difficult to understand what man in this strange country could interest her father enough to induce him to leave her while he was yet laboring under such solicitude. But a smile speedily took the place of her look of surprised inquiry, and she affectionately exclaimed:

"Oh, I haven't the least dread in the world, not now. See, I can hold up my arms. Go, papa, go; it will give me a chance to surprise you with my good looks when you come back."

He turned abruptly away. He was suffering from an emotion deeper than he cared to acknowledge. But he gained control over himself speedily and, coming back, announced with forced decision:

"I shall have to go tonight. I have no choice. Promise me that you will not go back in my absence; that you will strive to get well; that you will put all your mind into striving to get well."

"Indeed, I will," she answered, a little frightened by the feeling he showed. "Don't worry so much. I have more than one reason for living, papa."

He shook his head and went immediately to make his preparations for departure. His daughter gave one sob, then caught me by the hand.

"You look dumfounded," said she. "But never mind, we shall get on very well together. I have the most perfect confidence in you."

Was it my duty to let the inspector know that Mr. Grey anticipated absenting himself from the city for a few days? I decided that I would only be impressing my own doubts upon him after a rebuke which should have allayed them.

Yet when Mr. Grey came to take his departure I wished that the inspector might have been a witness to his emotion, if only to give me one of his very

"I want you to get me a room quiet hotel."

were soon on the best of terms learned that the Englishman out a valet, and, being unable to move about without one, awkwardness of his posit much. This gave Sweetwater and when he found that the of such a man were wanted for the present trip and for dling of affairs quite apart from personal attendance upon the Englishman himself, he showed such an desire to fill the place, and I to give such a good account of that he found himself engaged work before reaching C—

This was a great stroke of thought, but he little knew his stroke or into what a series of ventures it was going to lead.

Once on the platform of the station at which Mr. Grey had him to stop, he noticed two utter helplessness of the most practical matters and his extrajudicially to see all that was going on him without being himself seen was method in this curiosity, method. Women did not intrude in the least. They could pass without arousing his suspicion, but the moment a man stepped away, he shrank from him on the tray the greatest curiosity could him the moment he felt it safe and observe him. All of which convinced Sweetwater that the man's errand was in connection with man whom he equally dreaded to meet.

Of this he was made absolutely a little later. As they were leaving the depot with the rest of the train, Mr. Grey said:

"I want you to get me a very quiet hotel. This done, you hunt up the man whose name I find written in this paper, and you have found him make mind how it will be possible to get a good look at him without giving any sort of a look at me, and you will earn a week's one day."

Sweetwater, with his head on his heart on fire—for matters looking very promising in the paper and put it in his pocket began to hunt for a hotel, he had found what he wished, stalled the Englishman in the did he venture to open the memorandum and read the had been speculating over for nize it for what it was, when the make believe was in his hands."

"Forced, my dear child, forced; and as chimerical as all the rest. It cannot stand putting into words. I will go further—you are a good girl and can bear to bear the truth from me. I don't believe in your theory; I can't. I have not been able to from the first, nor have any of my men; but if your ideas are true and Mr. Grey is involved in this matter, you will find that there has been more of a hitch about that diamond than you, in your simplicity, believe. If Mr. Grey were in actual possession of this valuable, he would show less care than you say he does. So would he if it were in Wellgood's hands with his consent and a good prospect of its coming to him in the near future. But if it is in Wellgood's hands without his consent, or any near prospect of his regaining it, then we can easily understand his present apprehensions and the growing uneasiness he betrays."

"True," I murmured.

"If, then," the inspector pursued, giving me a parting glance not without its humor, probably not without something really serious underlying its humor, "we should find, in following up our present clew, that Mr. Grey has had dealings with this Wellgood or this Sears! or if you, with your advantages for learning the fact, should discover that he shows any extraordinary interest in either of them, the matter will take on a different aspect. But we have not got that far yet. At present our task is to find one or the other of these men. If we are lucky, we shall discover that the waiter and the steward are identical, in spite of their seemingly different appearance. A rogue such as this Sears has shown himself to be would be an adept at disguise."

"You are right," I acknowledged. "He has certainly the heart of a criminal. If he had no hand in Mrs. Fairbrother's murder, he came near having one in that of your detective. You know what I mean. I could not help hearing, inspector."

He smiled, looked me steadfastly in the face for a moment and then bowed me out.

The inspector told me afterward that, in spite of the cavalier manner with which he had treated my suggestion, he spent a very serious half hour, head to head with the district attorney. The result was the following order to Sweetwater, the detective:

"You are to go to the St. Regis, make yourself solid there and gradually, as you can manage it, work yourself into a position for knowing all that goes on in room —. If the gentleman (mind you, the gentleman; we care nothing about the women) should go out, you are to follow him if it takes you to —. We want to know his secret, but he must never know our interest in it and you are to be as silent in this matter as if possessed of neither ear nor tongue. I will add memory, for if you find this secret to be one in which we have no lawful interest you are to forget it absolutely and forever. You will understand why when you consult the St. Regis register."

But they expected nothing from it; absolutely nothing.

CHAPTER XVI

I PRAYED uncle that we might be driven home by the way of Eighty-sixth street. I wanted to look at the Fairbrother through my whole life and the indulgence in these thoughts I was conscious of a great inner revulsion against all I had intimated and even honestly felt while talking with the inspector. Perhaps this is what this wise old official expected. He had me talk, and the inevitable result followed. I could now see only Mr. Grey's goodness and claims to respect, and began to hate myself that I had not been immediately impressed by the inspector's views, and shown myself more willing to drop every suspicion against the august personage I had presumed to associate with crime. What had given me the strength to persist? Loyalty to my lover? His innocence had not been involved. Indeed, every word uttered in the inspector's office had gone to prove that he no longer occupied a leading place in police calculations; that their eyes were turned elsewhere, and that I had only to be patient to see Mr. Durand quite cleared in their minds.

But was this really so? Was he as safe as that? What if this new clew failed? What if they failed to find Sears or lay hands on the doubtful Wellgood? Would Mr. Durand be released without a trial? Should we hear nothing more of the strange and, to many, the suspicious circumstances which linked him to this crime? It would be expecting too much from either police or official discrimination.

No; Mr. Durand would never be completely exonerated till the true culprit was found and all explanations made. I had therefore been simply fighting his battles when I pointed out what I thought to be the weak place in their present theory, and, sore as I felt in contemplation of my seemingly heartless action, I was not the unimpeachable, adle-pated nonentity I must have seemed to the inspector.

Yet my comfort was small and the effort it took to face Mr. Grey and my young patient was much greater than I had anticipated. I blushed as I approached to take my place at Miss Grey's bedside, and, had her father been as suspicious of me at that moment as I was of him, I am sure that I should have fared badly in his thoughts.

But he was not on the watch for my emotions. He was simply relieved to see me back. I noticed this immediately; also that something had occurred during my absence which absorbed his thought and filled him with anxiety.

A Western Union envelope lay at his feet—proof that he had just received a telegram. This under ordinary circumstances would not have occasioned me a second thought, such a man being naturally the recipient of all sorts of communications from all parts of the world, but at this crisis, with the worm of a half stifled doubt still gnawing at my heart, everything that occurred to him took on importance and roused questions.

When he had left the room, Miss Grey nestled up to me with the seemingly ingenuous remark:

"Poor papa! Something disturbs him. He will not tell me what. I suppose he thinks I am not strong enough to share his troubles, but I shall be soon. Don't you see I am gaining every day?"

"Indeed I do," was my hearty response. In face of such a sweet confidence and open affection doubt vanished, and I was able to give all my thoughts to her.

"I wish papa felt as sure of this as you do," she said. "For some reason he does not seem to take any comfort him after a rebuke which should have allayed them.

Yet when Mr. Grey came to take his departure I wished that the inspector might have been a witness to his emotion, if only to give me one of his very excellent explanations. The parting was more like that of one who sees no immediate promise of return than of a traveler who intends to limit his stay to a few days. He looked her in the eyes and kissed her a dozen times, each time with an air of heartbreak which was good neither for her nor for himself, and when he finally tore himself away it was to look back at her from the door with an expression I was glad she did not see or it would certainly have interfered with the promise she had made to concentrate all her energies on getting well.

What was at the root of his extreme grief at leaving her? Did he fear the person he was going to meet or were his plans such as involved a much longer stay than he had mentioned? Did he even mean to return at all?

Ah, that was the question! Did he intend to return or had I been the unconscious witness of a flight?

CHAPTER XVII.

A FEW days later three men were closeted in the district attorney's office. Two of them were officials—the district attorney himself and our old friend the inspector. The third was the detective, Sweetwater, chosen by them to keep watch on Mr. Grey.

Sweetwater had just come to town. This was evident from the gripsack he had set down in a corner on entering; also from a certain tousled appearance which bespoke hasty rising and but few facilities for proper attention to his person. These details counted little, however, in the astonishment created by his manner. For a hardy chap he looked strangely nervous and indisposed—so much so that after the first short greeting the inspector asked him what was up and if he had had another Fairbrother house experience.

He replied with a decided no; that it was not his adventure which had upset him, but the news he had to bring.

Here he glanced at every door and window, and then, leaning forward over the table at which the two officials sat, he brought his head as nearly to them as possible and whispered five words.

They produced a most unhappy sensation. Both the men, hardened as they were by duties which soon sap the sensibilities, started and turned as pale as the speaker himself. Then the district attorney, with one glance at the inspector, rose and locked the door.

It was a prelude to this tale which I give, not as it came from his mouth, but as it was afterward related to me. The language, I fear, is mostly my own.

The detective had just been with Mr. Grey to the coast of Maine. Why there will presently appear. His task had been to follow this gentleman, and follow him he did.

Mr. Grey was a very stately man, difficult of approach, and was absorbed besides by some overwhelming care. But this fellow was one in a thousand and somehow during the trip he managed to do him some little service, which drew the attention of the great man to himself. This done, he improved his opportunity that the two he began to hunt for a hot he had found what he wished stalled the Englishman in did he venture to open the memorandum and read the had been speculating over it. It was not the one he had a but it came near to it. It was James Wellgood.

Satisfied now that he had matter to handle, he prepared with his usual enthusiasm a spection.

Sauntering out into the strolled first toward the post train on which he had just been a mail train, and he that he would find half the

His calculation was a The store was crowded with Taking his place in the line before the postoffice windowed his turn, and when it came out the name which was his man—James Wellgood.

The man behind the boxes to the name and reached toward a box unusually he but stopped halfway there. Sweetwater a sharp look.

"Who are you?" he asked.

"A stranger," that young volubly, "looking for James I thought perhaps you could where to find him. I see the ters pass through this office. "You're taking up another time," complained the postman, probably alluded to the man bow Sweetwater felt boring back. "As! Dick over there; him."

The detective was glad enough to escape and ask Dick. But he was pleased yet when Dick, a fellow a squint whose hand was the sugar, told him that Mr. would probably be in for him a few minutes. "That is standing before the drug store opposite side of the way."

So, he had netted Jones' waiter at the first cast! "Luther what he said to himself. "St

Sauntering to the door, he for the owner of that buggy. learned, as such fellows do, was a secret hue and cry very man by the New York that he was supposed by Sears himself. In this way soon he looking upon the whose steps he had followed the Fairbrother house a few fore and through whose relation he had very nearly run of a lingering death from starvation.

"A dangerous customer," the "I wonder if my instinct is far as to make me recognize ence. I shouldn't wonder. served me almost as well as times before."

It appeared to serve him

CASTOR
For Infants and Children
The Kind You Have Always

Bears the Signature of Castor

Our "Lice Kill" powder is harmless to stock and poultry is death to lice. It needs no with cement to make it reach 25 cents per pound at the Hall—Fred L. Hooper.

"to get me a room at a very quiet hotel."

on the best of terms, and he t the Englishman was with- and, being unaccustomed bout without one, felt the ss of his position very a gave Sweetwater his cue, he found that the services nan were wanted only dur- sent trip and for the han- fairs quite apart from per- dence upon the gentleman showed such an honest de- the place, and made out a good account of himself, and himself engaged for the e reaching C—a great stroke of luck, he t he little knew how big a into what a series of ad- was going to lead him.

the platform of the small which Mr. Grey had bidden he noticed two things—the ssness of the man in all atters and his extreme anx- all that was going on about t being himself seen. There in this curiosity, too much 7omen did not interest him.

They could pass and re- ut arousing his attention, oment a man stepped his rank from him only to be- eatest curiosity concerning ment he felt it safe to turn e him. All of which con- etwater that the English- d was in connection with a he equally dreaded and de- et.

was made absolutely cer- later. As they were leav- t with the rest of the arriv- y said:

ou to get me a room at a otel. This done, you are to man whose name you will i in this paper, and when ound him make up your t will be possible for me to ook at him without his get- of a look at me. Do this ll earn a week's salary in er, with his head in air and on fire—for matters were y promising indeed—took ad put it in his pocket; then hunt for a hotel. Not till ad what he wished and in- Englishman in his room ture to open the precious m and read the name he e completing over for an hour when the man finally showed himself on the crosswalk separating the two buildings he experienced a sudden indecision not unlike that of dread, and, there being nothing in the man's appearance to warrant apprehension, he took it for the instinctive recognition it undoubtedly was.

He therefore watched him narrowly and succeeded in getting one glance from his eye. It was enough. The man was commonplace—commonplace in feature, dress and manner; but his eye gave him away. There was nothing commonplace in that. It was an eye to beware of.

He had taken in Sweetwater as he passed, but Sweetwater was of a commonplace type, too, and woke no corresponding dread in the other's mind, for he went whistling into the store, from which he presently reissued with a bundle of mail in his hand. The detective's first instinct was to take him into custody as a suspect much wanted by the New York police; but reason assured him that he not only had no warrant for this, but that he would better serve the ends of justice by following out his present task of bringing this man and the Englishman together and watching the result. But how, with the conditions laid on him by Mr. Grey, was this to be done? He knew nothing of the man's circumstances or of his position in the town. How, then, go to work to secure his co-operation in a scheme possibly as mysterious to him as it was to himself? He could stop this stranger in midstreet with some plausible excuse, but it did not follow that he would succeed in luring him to the hotel where Mr. Grey could see him. Well-good, or, as he believed, Sears, knew too much of life to be beguiled by any open claptrap, and Sweetwater was obliged to see him drive off without having made the least advance in the purpose engrossing him.

But that was nothing. He had all the evening before him and, re-entering the store, he took up his stand near the sugar barrel. He had perceived that in the pauses of weighing and tasting Dick talked; if he were guided with suitable discretion, why should he not talk of Wellgood?

He was guided, and he did talk, and to some effect—that is, he gave information of the man which surprised Sweetwater. If in the past and in New York he had been known as a waiter—or should I say steward—he was known here as a manufacturer of patent medicine designed to rejuvenate the human race. He had not been long in town and was somewhat of a stranger yet, but he wouldn't be so long. He was going to make things hum, he was. Money for this, money for that, a horse where another man would walk, and mail—well, that alone would make this postoffice worth while. Then the drugs—ordered by wholesale. Those boxes over there were his, ready to be carted out to his manufactory. Count them, some one, and think of the bottles and bottles of stuff they stand for. If it sells as he says it will, then he will soon be rich, and so on, till Sweetwater brought the garrulous Dick to a standstill by asking whether Wellgood had been away for any purpose since he first came to town. He received the reply that he had just come home from New York, where he had been for some articles needed in his manufactory. Sweetwater felt all his convictions confirmed

CHAPTER XVII.

THE road was once the highway, but, the tide having played so many tricks with its numberless bridges, a new one had been built farther up the cliff, carrying with it the life and business of the small town. Many old landmarks still remained—shops, warehouses and even a few scattered dwellings. But most of these were deserted, and those that were still in use showed such neglect that it was very evident the whole region would soon be given up to the encroaching sea and such interests as are inseparable from it.

The hour was that mysterious one of the late twilight, when outlines lose their distinctness and sea and shore melt into one mass of uniform gray. There was no wind, and the waves came in with a soft plash, but so near to the level of the road that it was evident even to these strangers that the tide was at its height and would presently begin to ebb.

Soon they had passed the last forsaken dwelling, and the town proper lay behind them. Sand and a few rocks were all that lay between them now and the open stretch of the ocean, which at this point approached the land in a small bay, well guarded on either side by embracing rocky heads. This was what made the harbor at C—.

It was very still. They passed one team, and only one. Sweetwater looked very sharply at this team and at its driver, but saw nothing to arouse suspicion. They were now a half mile from C— and seemingly in a perfectly desolate region.

"A manufactory here!" exclaimed Mr. Grey. It was the first word he had uttered since starting.

"Not far from here," was Sweetwater's equally laconic reply, and, the road taking a turn almost at the moment of his speaking, he leaned forward and pointed out a building standing on the right hand side of the road with its feet in the water. "That's it," said he. "They described it well enough for me to know it when I see it. Looks like a robber's hole at this time of night," he laughed. "But what can you expect from a manufactory of patent medicine?"

Mr. Grey was silent. He was looking very earnestly at the building.

"It is larger than I expected," he remarked at the last.

Sweetwater himself was surprised, but as they advanced and their point of view changed they found it to be really an insignificant structure, and Mr. Wellgood's portion of it more insignificant still.

In reality it was a collection of three stores under one roof; two of them were shut up and evidently unoccupied, the third showing a lighted window. This was the manufactory. It occupied the middle place and presented a tolerably decent appearance. It showed, besides the lighted lamp I have mentioned, such signs of life as a few packing boxes tumbled out on the small platform in front, and a whinnying horse attached to empty buggy, tied to a post on the opposite side of the road.

"I'm glad to see the lamp," muttered Sweetwater. "Now, what shall we do? Is it light enough for you to see his face, if I can manage to bring him to the door?"

Mr. Grey seemed startled.

"It's darker than I thought," said he,

"But call the man and let us see—"

the small window in the buggy top. "Nothing." "No movement in the room above? No shadow at the window?" "Nothing." "Well, it's confounded strange!" And he went back, still calling Wellgood. The tied up horse whinnied, and the waves gave a soft splash, and that was all, if I except Sweetwater's muttered oath.

Coming back, he looked again at the window; then, with a gesture toward Mr. Grey, turned the corner of the building and began to edge himself along its side in an endeavor to reach the rear and see what it offered. But he came to a sudden standstill. He found himself on the edge of the bank before he had taken twenty steps. Yet the building projected on, and he saw why it had looked so large from a certain point of the approach. Its rear was built out on piles, making its depth even greater than the united width of the three stores. At low tide this might be accessible from below, but just now the water was almost on a level with the top of the piles, making all approach impossible save by boat.

Disgusted with his failure, Sweetwater returned to the front and, finding the situation unchanged, took a new resolve. After measuring with his eye the height of the first story, he coolly walked over to the strange horse and, slipping his bridle, brought it back and cast it over a projection of the door. By its aid he succeeded in climbing up to the window, which was the sole eye to the interior.

Mr. Grey sat far back in his buggy, watching every movement.

There were no shades at the window, as I have before said, and once Sweetwater's eye had reached the level of the sill he could see the interior without the least difficulty. There was nobody there. The lamp burned on a great table littered with papers, but the rude cane chair before it was empty, and so was the room. He could see into every corner of it, and there was not even a hiding place where anybody could remain concealed. Sweetwater was still looking when the lamp, which had been burning with considerable smoke, flared up and went out. Sweetwater uttered an ejaculation and, finding himself face to face with utter darkness, slid from his perch to the ground.

Approaching Mr. Grey for the second time, he said:

"I cannot understand it. The fellow is either lying low or he's gone out, leaving his lamp to go out too. But whose is the horse? Just excuse me while I tie him up again. It looks like the one he was driving today. It is the one. Well, he won't leave him

Englishman in his room nature to open the precious um and read the name he speculating over for an hour.
t the one he had anticipated, ie near to it. It was that of ilgood.

now that he had a ticklish
handle, he prepared for it,
sual enthusiasm and circum-

ng into the street, he st toward the postoffice. The vhich he had just come had all train, and he calculated uld find half the town there.
ulation was a correct one.
was crowded with people.
s place in the line drawn up postoffice window, he wait-
d, and when it came shouted me which was his one tal-lis Wellgood.

behind the boxes was used
ne and reached out a hand
box unusually well stacked,
d halfway there and gave r a sharp look.

er you?" he asked.
ger," that young man put in ooking for James Wellgood.
perhaps you could tell me nd him. I see that his let-through this office."

he taking up another man's taking the postmaster. He lied to the man whose eltwater felt boring into his
! Dick over there; he knows

rtive was glad enough to es-sk Dick. But he was better
t when Dick, a fellow with whose hand was always in told him that Mr. Wellgood bably be in for his mail in utes. "That is his buggy
efore the drug store on the de of the way."

ad netted Jones' quondam
he first cast! "Lucky!" was ld to himself. "Still lucky!"
ig to the door, he watched ner of that buggy. He had such fellows do, that there ret hue and cry after this
by the New York police;
as supposed by some to be
elf. In this way he would oking upon the very man
s he had followed through other house a few nights bethrough whose resolute ac-
d very nearly run the risk
ng death from starvation.
rous customer," thought he.
If my instinct will go so ake me recognize his pres-shouldn't wonder. It has almost as well as that many re."

ted to serve him now, for

STORIA

Infants and Children.

You Have Always Bought

of Chas. H. Fletcher

e Kill" powder is perfectly stock and poultry, but it lice. It needs no mixing
it to make it reach the skin.
er pound at the Medical
L. Hooper.

had just come home from New York,
where he had been for some articles needed in his manufactory. Sweetwater felt all his convictions confirmed and ended the colloquy with the final question:

"And where is his manufactory?
Might be worth visiting perhaps."

The other made a gesture, said something about northwest and rushed to help a customer. Sweetwater took the opportunity to slide away. More explicit directions could easily be got elsewhere, and he felt anxious to return to Mr. Grey and discover if possible whether it would prove as much a matter of surprise to him as to Sweetwater himself that the man who answered to the name of Wellgood

was the owner of a manufactory and a barrel or two of drugs, out of which he proposed to make a compound that would rob the doctors of their business and make himself and this little village rich.

Sweetwater made only one stop on his way to Mr. Grey's hotel rooms, and that was at the stables. Here he learned whatever else there was to know, and, armed with definite information, he appeared before Mr. Grey, who, to his astonishment, was dining
in his own room.

He had dismissed the waiter and was rather brooding than eating. He looked up eagerly, however, when Sweetwater entered and asked what news.

The detective, with some semblance of respect, answered that he had seen Wellgood, but that he had been unable to detain him or bring him within his employer's observation.

"He is a patent medicine man," he then explained, "and manufactures his own concoctions in a house he has rented here on a lonely road some half mile out of town."

"Wellgood does—the man named Wellgood?" Mr. Grey exclaimed, with all the astonishment the other secretly expected.

"Yes, Wellgood—James Wellgood.
There is no other in town."

"How long has this man been here?"
the statesman inquired after a moment of apparently great discomfiture.

"Just twenty-four hours this time.
He was here once before, when he rented the house and made all his plans."

"Ah!"

Mr. Grey rose precipitately. His manner had changed.

"I must see him. What you tell me makes it all the more necessary for me to see him. How can you bring it about?"

"Without his seeing you?" Sweetwater asked.

"Yes, yes; certainly without his seeing me. Couldn't you rap him up at his own door and hold him in talk a minute while I looked on from the carriage or whatever vehicle we can get to carry us there? The least glimpse of his face would satisfy me—that is, tonight."

"I'll try," said Sweetwater, not very sanguine as to the probable result of this effort.

Returning to the stables, he ordered the team. With the last ray of the sun they set out, the reins in Sweetwater's hands.

They headed for the coast road.

to the doory."

Mr. Grey seemed startled.

"It's darker than I thought," said he.

"But call the man and if I cannot see him plainly, I'll shout to the horse to stand, which you will take as a signal to bring this Wellgood nearer. But do not be surprised if I ride off before he reaches the buggy. I'll come back again and take you up farther down
the road."

"All right, sir," answered Sweetwater with a side glance at the speaker's inscrutable features. "It's a go!"
And leaping to the ground he advanced to the manufactory door and knocked loudly.

No one appeared.

He tried the latch; it lifted, but the door did not open; it was fastened from within.

"Stranger" he muttered, casting a glance at the waiting horse and buggy, then at the lighted window, which was on the second floor directly over his head. "Guess I'll sing out."

Here he shouted the man's name.

"Wellgood! I say, Wellgood!"

No response to this either.

"Looks bad!" he acknowledged to himself, and, taking a step back, he looked up at the window.

It was closed, but there was neither shade-net curtain to obstruct the view.

"Do you see anything?" he inquired of Mr. Grey, who sat with his eye at

He could see into every corner.

here all night. Shall we lie low and wait for him to come and unhitch this animal or do you prefer to return to the hotel?"

Mr. Grey was slow in answering.
Finally he said:

(To be Continued)

Shiloh's Cure

STOPS COUGHS HEALS THE LUNGS
PRICE, 25 CENTS

Your eyes tested free and satisfaction guaranteed. We sell the best in spectacle-ware, at The Medical Hall—Fred L. Hooper.

Hearing the new Edison

Blue Amberol Records

is more convincing than hearing about them

In tone production lies the real test of any record. The Blue Amberol is the clearest, sweetest, most lifelike record that has yet been made.

But it is more. It is practically unbreakable. A fall from the table won't smash it. And it is so sturdy that the results of the thousandth time you play it are as perfect as the first.

Ask your dealer to let you hear them.

Thomas A. Edison, Inc., 100 Lakeside Ave., Orange, N. J., U. S. A.

A complete line of Edison Phonographs and Records will be found at

R. B. ALLEN, - Market Square.

"I am all right now, thanks to Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy."

The same relief is ready for you. Are you sure you do not need it? If Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy helped Charles Holmes, why won't it help you?

"I was troubled with heart disease, and after reading about Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy, I got a bottle. Before I got the Heart Remedy I had to sit up most of the night, and felt very bad at my stomach. Whatever I would eat made me feel worse, and my heart beat very fast. But thanks to Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy, I am all right now. I eat good, sleep good, and feel like a new man, although I am almost 68 years old. I have been a soldier in the late war of the rebellion, and was badly wounded." CHARLES HOLMES,

Private Co, B, 54th N. Y. Infantry
Volunteers, Walton, Delaware Co., N. Y.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy

is kept in thousands of homes as a friend always to be relied upon in time of need.

Sold by all Druggists. If the first bottle fails to benefit, your money is returned. Ask any Druggist.

MILES MEDICAL CO., Toronto, Can.

VALUE OF BREED IN BEEF MAKING

Every person who has had a successful experience in cattle business knows that "blood tells" in beef making, says Farm Press. Centuries ago intelligent herdsmen recognized milk and beef as the two useful products that cattle might supply man. They began the selection of the most suitable types of animals to best supply these products and laid the foundation for the modern breeds of beef cattle that we have today.

The breeds especially adapted for the production of beef are the Hereford, Angus, Shorthorn, Polled Durham and Galloway. Each of these has its distinct breed characteristics, but the one excuse for its being is the fact that it will produce beef to the best advantage under certain environments. Many experiments have been conducted in this country to determine, if possible, what advantages are possessed by the beef type steer as compared with dairy bred or native steers.

The results of eight feeding experiments at five different stations failed to bear up the claim that you can produce more gain for a given amount of feed fed to beef bred cattle than on natives. As to the claim that pure bred animals eat less than natives or tween the fibers of the muscles, giving a tender, juicy, toothsome meat, while the native or dairy steer places his fat in masses above the body and especially in the body cavity. Slaughtering tests conducted on the above animals showed that, comparing the dressed carcass to the live animal, there was 3 per cent less waste in the beef breeds. The beef type steer yields cuts that are heavier, thicker, better covered with whiter fat, nicer in marbling and a little better in color of muscle. Thick fleshed cuts command a higher price per pound in market. The judgment of the market places from 2 to 6 cents a pound more on the thick fleshed carcasses than on the natives.

Improved cattle have the ability of putting their fat on at a young age. One of the reasons that the baby beef is so expensive is because it cannot be produced with common plain cattle. It costs more per pound to get the baby beef feeder, and then it does not give so good a market. No one can compare well fed beef bred steers with the dairy breeds or natives without measuring the above differences.

Treatment For Horse Eczema.

Horses are sometimes afflicted with an eczema due to overfeeding, lack of work or exercise, possibly lack of grooming and perhaps to insanitary stabling, says the Farm Journal. It is not a form of parasitic mange and could not be successfully treated with lime-sulphur wash or dip. Have the horse clipped; then wash affected parts of body with a one one-hundredth solution of coal tar dip, such as zenoleum, chloronaphtholeum, creolin, etc. When dry rub affected parts with a mixture of four ounces of sulphur and half an ounce of coal tar dip shaken up in a pint of sweet oil. Repeat the latter application every third day, but do not again wash the parts. Work or abundantly exercise the horse every day. Cut the grain ration down to not over one pound per 100 pounds of horse and feed a like amount of hay as a day's ration. Do not feed corn. Make sure that chicken lice are not getting on the horse, for they often cause symptoms similar to those of eczema.

Rickets In Pigs.

Worms, malnutrition, inadequate feeding, lack of lime salts in the feed, are common causes of rickets in pigs. Stop feeding corn and substitute slop of middlings, ground (screened) oats, flaxseed meal and milk and add one ounce of limewater to the quart of slop or give a dram of precipitated phosphate of lime in feed twice daily. If worms are seen in the droppings give sulphate of iron (copperas) in the slop for five mornings in succession at rate of one dram for each 100 pounds of pig and if necessary repeat the treatment in a couple of weeks. Every other day rub affected joints with iodine ointment.

IN THE DAIRY BARN.

In building or remodeling a cow stable remember the importance of plenty of sunshine, pure air, tight floors, walls that are easily kept clean and comfortable stalls.

The more grain there is in pounds. By the last of September all of our eight sows had farrowed, presenting a fine bunch of pigs to start operations on.

Now in regard to shelter, and we consider this as an important reason for our raising a thrifty bunch of hogs, we have a centralized hog house. It is built in a side hill with southern exposure. It is 20 by 100 feet in size and has two stories, the upper story being used for feed, straw, etc. Below are adjustable pens, with a central aisle, stove and feed cooker. Here during the entire winter we kept the pigs, allowing them access to outdoors, but always having a place of shelter and warmth. The pigs from the first were well bedded and thrived well in these sunshiny pens.

The first three weeks the pigs depended largely on the sows for feed. Then as they began to eat from the troughs we made a creep where they might eat at will. Here we fed them a thin buttermilk slop and a little shelled corn. We never gave them more than they could eat. When six weeks old we weaned them, having previously castrated the male pigs. By three months the bunch of fifty-five pigs were eating a barrel of slop each day, together with a half bushel of shelled corn.

For the next three months the pigs were fed two barrels of slop per day and five ears of corn apiece. The slop

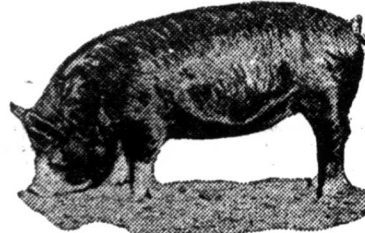

Photo by Oregon Agricultural college.

The Berkshires are supposed to be the only breed of swine of purity of type, pedigree and lineage of more than fifty years. The breed originated in Berkshire, England, about 150 years ago. In the hands of expert breeders they have steadily developed in size, good form and early maturity, gaining in flesh one or two pounds per day until they reach large size. It is doubtful if there be any pure breed of swine that is more certain of producing its good qualities when crossed with grades. The young Berkshire boar shown weighed 100 pounds at four months of age. He is from the herd of the Oregon Agricultural college.

was made of one-fourth sack of shorts to about forty gallons of buttermilk. To this was added hot water, thus making a steaming feed. We did our feeding at one end of the house where were arranged permanent troughs and a feeding floor. The corn was fed after slopping. We did not water the pigs, the slop taking its place. After feeding the doors were opened and the pigs driven out to exercise or lie in the sun on the south side of the barn. We kept tankage in a trough in easy access to the pigs and put a half pailful in each barrel of feed.

The pigs grew rapidly. The slop and tankage aided in growth, and the corn kept up a degree of fat. By the 1st of March the shoters weighed on the average 140 pounds. They were a uni-

The Above Piano $219.00

Size—4 ft. 9 in. high; 5 ft. 2 ft. 4 inches wide. Brand Made by a responsible guaranteed. If you are buying a piano it will pay you.

Having moved to Napanee, we have opened a fine Piano Show my residence, first corner Brisco Hotel, and first corner Post Office, where we have makes of Pianos.

Call any day or evening. We also sell Organs, S. chimes, Phonographs, Gramophones, Piano Stools, and Call solicited.

Two large Farms for sale.

VANLUVEN 1 Napanee an

and feeding extra with a foods until the system regains normal condition.

The cause of weak lamb can frequently be traced limited ration. Many flock carry the idea that sheep, dairy cow, can survive on a lower range of diet. This erroneous impression. In properly mature their unborn they need to be supplied with varying in its composition to an extent as any animal. composed of clover hay, corn straw and silage, if should constitute the range. The grain ration should be lected with care. Oats, bran and oilmeal make a good

Exposure to variable weather conditions during winter influence development of the fetus, and instances it is a cause of weakness at parturition. When ventrable pregnant ewes should be allowed to exercise in a large yard of exercise should never be allowed to drenching storms. When becomes thoroughly soaked or snow the wool fibers mat a cold blanket, which lowers temperature of the body and escape of waste matter from face. It requires an increase of food to maintain body temperature, thus increasing labor upon the digester, which sooner or later weakens activity and influence in the development of the fetus.

Those who desire to obtain best percentage of strong, lambs at birth can well afford special attention to the ewe

duce more gain for a given amount of feed fed to beef bred cattle than on natives. As to the claim that pure bred animals eat less than natives or

Admirers of Hereford cattle assert they are the best rustlers and most economical feeders of any of the beef breeds. On cheap roughage, such as straw and corn fodder, they thrive and do well where other breeds would fail. Herefords are also highly prepotent and impress their good qualities on other breeds in a remarkable degree. For use in grading up common cattle the Hereford bull is unsurpassed. The grand champion Hereford cow illustrated is Lady Fairfax IV. She is owned by Warren T. McCray, Kentland, Ind.

scrubs, we have yet no experiment which has ever conclusively proved that pure bred are small eaters. Both kinds of steers consume practically the same amount of food and give approximately the same gains, but the beef type steer yields a greater profit to the feeder.

Well bred animals, especially for beef production, put on their fat be-

In building or remodeling a cow stable remember the importance of plenty of sunshine, pure air, tight floors, walls that are easily kept clean and comfortable stalls.

The more grain there is in silage the better it will be. Silage can vary in quality as much as corn fodder, and this should be remembered when comparing results with some other feed.

Good bright corn fodder is worth more than timothy hay to feed the cows, but it won't bring as much on the market.

The good pasture fills the milk pail, and the silo does the same in the winter.

The silo is one of the fundamental necessities for profitable winter dairying.

PORK FROM FALL PIGS.

An Oklahoma Farmer's Successful Method of Feeding Shotes.

Last June we sold on the Chicago market forty-six head of hogs at an approximate profit of $580, or $12.50 a head, writes Hugh Webster of Oklahoma in Orange Judd Farmer. These were winter grown hogs, farrowed the middle of September and cared for under suitable conditions until turned off as nine months-old-shotes. They weighed on an average 290 pounds and brought the long price of $9.35 per 100

the pigs and put a half painful in each barrel of feed.

The pigs grew rapidly. The slop and tankage aided in growth, and the corn kept up a degree of fat. By the 1st of March the shotes weighed on the average 140 pounds. They were a uniform bunch and growthy. The weather was moderate, and they were out most of the time. We had to get them out of the house in order to make room for the early March litters that were coming on. At the same time the gilts that we wanted to keep were separated, leaving the bunch of forty-six shotes to be fitted for the early market. These were put in a small lot with an open shed. From this time on we fed the corn to them, keeping tankage on hand. By the time they were on full feed we were giving the bunch of forty-six about a bushel to each five head. They had all they could eat and grew fast.

We shipped the forty-six head on June 17, receiving choice prices and a total sum for the lot of $1,247.52, besides having nine fine gilts reserved for breeding.

THE HORSEMAN.

The shoeing of the farm horses should receive the same attention that is given the road horse or the trotter. Winter shoeing should be most carefully done.

To tie up a horse so short that he cannot comfortably lie down is a needless cruelty. The ideal stall is a box stall, and the space given to it pays in the greater comfort of the animal.

Unless a colt is properly and liberally fed during the first two years of its life it will never attain the size or perfect proportions that nature intended.

Along in February the fitting of all the farm teams should begin. The grain ration should be gradually increased and more exercise given every day to harden the muscles.

The development of the young horse requires the exercise of the best judgment in handling him.

CAUSES OF WEAK LAMBS.

Meager Rations and Exposure Reduce the Ewes' Vitality.

Weak lambs at birth are one of the most perplexing difficulties, the cause of which may be traced to various sources, writes W. H. Underwood in the Iowa Homestead. Lack of proper assimilative ability on the part of the female may weaken the growth of the fetus during the stage of development. This condition is more prevalent among old ewes which have lost their teeth. However, poor assimilation may be brought on in young ewes through weak digestive organs. Unthriftiness is one of the most apparent evidences of poor assimilative ability and can generally be remedied in the case of young animals by sorting out

Dr. de Van's Female Pills

A reliable French regulator; never fails. These pills are exceedingly powerful in regulating the generative portion of the female system. Refuse all cheap imitations. Dr. de Van's are sold at $5 a box, or three for $10. Mailed to any address. The Seebell Drug Co., St. Catharines, Ont.

Or at Hooper's Drug Store.

team, which sooner or later will activity and influence in the ment of the fetus.

Those who desire to obtain est percentage of strong, lambs at birth can well afford special attention to the ewe ing the period of pregnancy. tion should be regularly and ly supplied. It should possess nutrition to maintain the pai in a strong, vigorous condi also supply the fetus, which constant development, with nourishment.

The yard should be space and, if possible, with a sou posture. The shelter should good ventilation and plenty of and should be kept in such that the ewes will occupy choice rather than from com

The Boarder In the Dair

The "boarder" cow—that is, which does not pay for her k the dairyman like a milston his neck. The scrub is the has given dairying an unfavo utation. Just why the dair uses to give up his old v adopt such radical changes as ssary to convert an unprofit into a profitable herd has alw a mystery in dairying. We h known a man who expressed but the greatest satisfaction dairy operations when he k he was milking profitable c Kansas Farmer. On the ot we never knew a man to s of dairying when he knew cows were not paying. There dreds of men slaving year in out, working hard and long, keeping a bunch of "boarder"

Exercise For Brood Sows

See that the brood sows take and that they get succulent fo doubtful if any other factor raising has brought about such injury as the practice o brood sows in little pens, p them from getting juicy roots foods and cutting off their op for exercise entirely. The ru pasture field, or in the winte or wheat lots, or in fall of h peanuts, artichokes, cowpea cleaning up old meadows, all to the sows, largely wipe out of keep and increase the vital coming offspring.

Two Old Stand-bys.

Two of the old stand-bys House of Commons staff ha with the passing of Lucien D old "General" Williams, on of the opening of the session was house-keeper for a tern stretched back to the days John Macdonald, and "Gener liams was the outer guard Chamber door. The old and fellow was a Crimea veter could cover his breast with ev meda's than Col. Harry Sm Sergeant-at-arms. It was who stopped Rodolphe (now dolfhe) Forget from enter Chamber on one occasion. Th tier was paying one of his ra to the House and was passing the swinging doors when th eral" nabbed him. "You can there," he whispered, "no o member can enter the Ch And it was not until Robert dke identified his fellow Mc that old Williams relented.

NERVOUS, LIFELESS DEBILITATED MEN

YOUNG MEN AND MIDDLE-AGED MEN, the victims of early indiscretions and later excesses, who are failures in life—you are the ones we can restore to manhood and revive the spark of energy and vitality. Don't give up in despair because you have treated with other doctors, used electric belts and tried various drug-store nostrums.

Our New Method Treatment has snatched hundreds from the brink of despair, has restored happiness to hundreds of homes and has made successful men of those who were "down and out." We prescribe specific remedies for each individual case according to the symptoms and complications—we have no patent medicines. This is one of the secrets of our wonderful success as our treatment cannot fail, for we prescribe remedies adapted to each individual case. Only curable cases accepted. We have done business throughout Canada for over 20 Years.

CURABLE CASES GUARANTEED OR NO PAY

READER Are you a victim? Have you lost hope? Are you intending to marry? Has your blood been diseased? Have you any weakness? Our New Method Treatment will cure you. What it has done for others it will do for you. Consultation Free. No matter who has treated you, write for an honest opinion. Free of Charge. Books Free—"Boyhood, Manhood, Fatherhood." (Illustrated) on Diseases of Men.

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT. No names on boxes or envelopes. Everything Confidential. Question List and Cost of Treatment FREE FOR HOME TREATMENT.

DRS. KENNEDY & KENNEDY

Cor. Michigan Ave. and Griswold St., Detroit, Mich.

NOTICE

All letters from Canada must be addressed to our Canadian Correspondence Department in Windsor, Ont. If you desire to see us personally call at our Medical Institute in Detroit as we see and treat no patients in our Windsor offices which are for Correspondence and Laboratory for Canadian business only. Address all letters as follows:

DRS. KENNEDY & KENNEDY, Windsor, Ont.

Write for our private address.

The Laundry Bag.
Every bedroom should be equipped the old stand-bys of the Commons staff have gone passing of Lucien Dube, and "General" Williams, on the evening of the session. Dube, keeper for a term which took him back to the days of Sir Donald, and "General" Williams, the outer guard at the door. The old and kindly soldier, a Crimea veteran, and his breast with even more than a Col. Harry Smith, the terms. It was Williams, and Rodolphe (now Sir Robert) forget from entering the on one occasion. The financially one of his rare visits, and was passing through the doors when the "General" him. "You can't go in," he whispered, "no one but a member can enter the Chamber." It was not until Robert Bickerstaff his fellow Montrealese Williams relented.

For Cleaning Dress Clothes.
Now that the gay social season is in full swing he of the black broad-cloth evening suit may like to know how to remove the frequently occurring cream or ice cream stain from dress coat or trousers. If such a spot is immediately rubbed with a napkin dipped in strong black coffee it will disappear at once and never more return.

There are few small gifts which will give so much pleasure to dainty women as the little boxes of gown sachets which are now so attractive and which may be bought at many of the shops and also made at very little cost of the maker's time. A great many women who do not care to go in for making elaborate birthday gifts enjoy devoting a little time to turning out the Phosphonol restores every nerve in the body to its proper tension; restores vim and vitality. Premature decay and all sexual weakness averted at once. Phosphonol will make you a new man. Price $8 a box, or two for $5. Mailed to any address. The Sobell Drug Co., St. Catharines, Ont.

Or at Hooper's Drug Store.

Apply this mixture with a sponge and rub well.

New Footwear for Ladies.

We have just placed in stock our first shipment of New Spring Boots for Ladies. The styles are exceptionally smart, and the values are unexcelled.

Our $3.00 Lines.

Made of Gunmetal Calf, Tan Calf, Patent Coltskin and Vici Kid, Button or Blucher Style with the popular round toe and short vamp or the new receding toe.

TRAVELLING BAGS.

A great assortment of Club Bags, Suit Cases, Trunks, etc. Black Walrus Grain Club Bags, leather lined and leather covered frame, size 18 inches. Our Special $6.50. Other lines of Leather Club Bags from $3.00 to $20.00.

Suit Cases 98c. to $15.00.

THE J. J. HAINES SHOE HOUSES, Napanee, Belleville, and Trenton.
Largest Dealers in this Section of Canada.

Eradicate Hair

is the most satisfactory depilatory I have ever used, and I have used all that I've seen advertised. Everything in connection with Eradicate Hair is treated confidentially so that we cannot tell you who said this but we can tell you that the statement was made by a customer for Eradicate Hair. We guarantee it absolutely harmless. It does the work by gradually killing the roots. It leaves the skin as smooth and healthy as a baby's.

E. E. JESSOP, Phm. B.

WE HAVE NOW

New Rolled Oats
New Granulated Oatmeal
New Package Oats
New Rolled Wheat
New Granulated Wheat
New Cream of Wheat
Also Cranberries at 10c a quart

FRANK H. PERRY.

Phone 130.

JOHN T. GRANGE
ISSUER OF MARRIAGE LICENSES
Grange Block, John Street,
Strictly Private and Confidential.

FRED CHINNECK
ISSUER OF MARRIAGE LICENSES
Chinneck's Jewellery Store
Next Wallace's Drug Store
Napanee
Strictly Private and Confidential. 39

F. W. SMITH,
ISSUER OF MARRIAGE LICENSES.
Strictly Private and Confidential.

WHIST CLUBS

and other social gatherings

Don't you think it would be a good idea to have the Club come here for

A Group Photograph

It may recall many happy memories, many a clever or exciting play.

Our Group Pictures are Especially Good.

GRACE METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. J. P. Wilson, Pastor.

Sunday, February 16th.

Cla-sses—9.30 am and 11.30 a.m.

Sunday School—11.45

Prayer meeting Monday 7.45.

Public Service—10.30 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Rev. W. Kettlewell, of Toronto, will preach in the morning in the interest of Dominion Alliance.

Rev. Dr. A. L. Howard, of Presbyter-ian, will preach in evening. Everyone welcome.

The Ladies of Trinity Church intend holding a bazaar on Thursday, March 13th, 1913. Full particulars later.

For cattle and all stock on the farm you get that good quality of salts and sulphur at The Medical Hall—Fred L. Hooper.

Mr. R. H. McGuiness will start a milk delivery rig in service in Napanee in a few days, selling milk from his dairy farm on the Belleville Road.

Kingston City Champions and Napanee Seniors will play a game of hockey at the Napanee skating rink on Saturday evening. Game called at 8.30.

This evening Enterprise will visit Napanee in their return game with the N. C. I. Enterprise has a strong team and should give the N. C. I. boys a close argument for honors.

Hear Prof. L. Caesar lecture on "Injurious Insects", Historical Hall, Wednesday evening, Feb.
19th, at 8 o'clock.

On Monday in Grace Church, under the direction of the league, Mrs. Thos. Symington will give a paper on Balkan War. Mrs. Symington is an extensive traveller—she has been at the seat of the war—conversed with the Bulgarian people and knows so well their means of Empire. Mrs. Symington describes as an eye witness the points of interest, Adrianople, Constantinople, Dardanelles, etc. All are welcome.

Jas. Gordon wishes to thank his many customers for their generous patronage during the past two months. He purposes remaining in his store on Centre street, a few doors north of the Campbell House, the rest of the winter and extends a hearty invitation to all to come again. He is selling at reduced prices to reduce his stock before starting on the road again. A number of those second hand books from a retired ministers library still on hand, selling cheap, also Mr. Albert Close's new book which is taking well in the old land. 9-b-p

A very pretty wedding took place on Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock, Feb. 4th 1913, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Rendell, of Richmond, when their second daughter, Ethel May, was united in marriage to Arnold Vandewater, of Hallowell, Prince Edward. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Burns, Ph. B., of Deseronto. The bride, who was unattended and looked charming in a handsome white gown, was given away by her father, while her sister, Mrs. Frank Loyst, played the Wedding March. After the ceremony and the usual congratulations, the party sat down to a daintily served wedding breakfast. Mr. and Mrs. Vandewater left on the afternoon train for Toronto and other western points. On their return they will reside at Hallowell.

Washing Machines, Clothes Wring-ers, Clothes Baskets, Clothes Lines.

NEW SPRING SUITING

Now Arriv-
in the Latest Weav-

and Pat

It will pay to make selection and leave order early, as the delay due usual spring work.

JAMES WALTER

Merchant Tailoring, - N

East End Barber Shop.

Everything neat; first class men; cigars and tobacco. (C call.

J. N. OSBOR

Notice.

All accounts due Mr. J. B. I must be paid by March 1st.
the books owing to change
Blanchard & Hudgins.

Tax Notice—Township of Rich

All unpaid taxes for the due the Municipality of H
must be paid in at Norther Bank, Napanee, before the fi
March, 1913.

Z. A. Grooms, Co

Napanee Ladies' Musical Club.

The fifth regular meeting Ladies' Musical Club, (Stude
will be held in the town afternoon, (Friday) Feb. 14
p. m. The programme being by Mrs. C. M. Stratton and H. Boyle.

Lennox and Addington Historic

The regular February m
the Lennox and Addington Society will be held in Histo on Friday evening, Feb. 2
p. m. Rev. Canon G. L. I Kingston, will deliver a le
"The Story of old St. George meeting is open for the gener
the entrance free and everyo welcome.

Hockey.

On Wednesday night, the the N. C. I. boys went to I to play the return game of th League Series with the D. H boys were beaten but no one for a cleaner game of hocke were under great disadvant night, three of the regular pl being with them. The score and the line ups were as follo
Napanee—Bogert Wilso
George Grange, Harry Sche
Archie Babcock, Harry Babco
Kenneth Cambridge, Ambros
Deseronto—Jim Cole, cap
Malley, Sid Horace Thompson

F. W. SMITH,
ISSUER OF MARRIAGE LICENSES.
Strictly Private and Confidential.
Smith's Jewellery Store,
Napanee.

30 3-m

ROYAL HOTEL BARBER SHOP

HARRY SCOTT, Proprietor.

Everything Neat and Sanitary.
Best of Service Guaranteed.

GIVE US A CALL.

THE PLAZA BARBER SHOP and TOBACCO STORE.

We think we can please you.
TRY US.

Cigars, Tobaccos, Pipes, Etc.

PAUL KILLORIN, - Proprietor.

Especially Good.

The Berkley Studio,

Phone 161.

Next Post Office.
201f

Good fountain pens, $1.50 at Wallace's Drug Store. Every pen a 14 kt. solid point.

A. S. Kimmerly--Just to hand 3 cars bran, $21.00 per ton. Also shorts at reduced prices. Sugars are down again. Try our potatoes, $1.20 per bag of 90 lbs. New laid eggs 30c doz. Try our celebrated 25c tea. $1.00 bottle Burdock Blood Bitters, 75c. Gin Pills, 35c.

SPECIAL SALE OF SUITS AND COATS

COAT SPECIAL

40 coats in all the latest styles and makes of cloth.
Regular $15.00 and $20.00

To Clear at $10.98

40 Tweed and Fancy Mixed Coats

in Misses sizes.
Regular $10.00 and $15.00

To Clear at $7.98

SUIT SPECIAL

A limited quantity of Suits laid out to be cleared, plain tailored and Norfolk styles, in fine Serges and Tweed Mixtures.

All new and up-to-date styles in Navy, Black, Gray and Tweed mixtures.

To Clear at $13.75

F. SIMMONS, - - Napanee, Ont.

left on the afternoon train for Toronto and other western points. On their return they will reside at Hallowell.

Washing Machines, Clothes Wringers, Clothes Baskets, Clothes Lines. BOYLE & SON.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Thompson, 305 Twelfth Avenue West, Vancouver, B. C., was the scene of a very pleasant gathering on Tuesday, Jan. 28th, the occasion being the golden anniversary of the wedding of Mrs. Thompson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Pringle, recently of Napanee, Ontario, who were married January 28, 1863, at Wilton, Ont., by the Rev. Wm. Ames. About thirty-five guests were present and the bride and groom of fifty years received many handsome gifts and the best wishes of their numerous friends. During the day a number of telegrams arrived from friends and relatives in Ontario and Chicago. After some time had been spent in conversation, music and songs, a supper was served, the table being decorated with smilax and pink carnations. A novel centerpiece was the brides cake, ornamented with fifty lighted wax tapers. The guests departed at the close of a most enjoyable evening, expressing sincere wishes that Mr. and Mrs. Pringle would enjoy many more years of wedded happiness.

Old Newspapers.

The Gibbard Furniture Co., are prepared to buy newspapers for a limited time. 10-a Cockerels.

A nice bunch of white Leghorn Cockerels from same stock as my winners at the shows. Prices reasonable.

F. D. MARSH,

10-b-p R. M. D. No. 1, Napanee.

Deseronto Hockey Team.

The Hockey Match advertised for Wednesday night between Deseronto and Napanee, did not come off as arranged. For some reason the Deseronto team failed to put in their appearance, and they also failed to send any word that they were not coming. The Officers of the Napanee Hockey Club were not greatly surprised at receiving such treatment from Deseronto, as they have been known to do such things before. What can be the reason? Surely the Deseronto Hockey Enthusiasts are not afraid to send their team to Napanee. They would at least receive gentlemanly treatment, even if they were defeated. "Fine bunch of sports."

The Carnival.

On Tuesday night the Napanee people saw one of the best and largest carnivals of the season. The rink was very picturesque, being decorated with bunting, flags of all kinds and welcome signs. The three strings of numerous electric light globes were tastefully covered with tissue papers of various colors which produced a delightful effect. The costumes of the many skaters were all very pretty. Down in one corner his Satanic Majesty amused the crowd with his antics, the lady from Virginia and her two friends with their beauty spots attracted the attention of every young man on the ice. The band played several classy pieces which kept the skaters going all the time. On the whole it was a very interesting event and we extend our united thanks to Manager Richardson for the pleasant evening and it is hoped that he will put on many more such carnivals during the skating season.

Maiden Hair Ferns, good healthy plants, fresh from Dale Estate florists, at Hooper's--Napanee's Largest Drug Store.

Napanee -- Bogert Wilso George Grange, Harry Sch Archie Babcock, Harry Bab Kenneth Cambridge, Ambro Deseronto--Jim Cole, ca Malley, Sid Horace Thompson Durand, goal, Leo Therrier Malley.

Mr. Chas. P. Fitzpatrick i his usual style, both tea pleased with his impartiality ness.

Agricultural Class.

The students of the Ag Class are taking keen intere work. Fifty bushels of a sup of O. A. C. No. 21 barley purchased by the boys. Th who produces the biggest n from an acre of barley during son of 1913 will be given a t free trip to the Short Cours Stock and Seed Judging at tario Agricultural College ne Two handsome silver me been donated by F. Chinne boys doing the best work in Dairy Cattle and Heavy Samples of new and superior of early and late potatoes, s and oats are being distribute student for testing and pre In this way new and better will be introduced. The co continue till February, and Friday the 28th, with a class

3 lantern globes for 25 Wallace's.

"SHOW ME"

That's the very type of are after--the one v "Show me," when we claim the finest men's garments i the 20th Century Brand ma can show you if you but giv opportunity. Fall styles no

THE GRAHAM

Napanee Ont

Handsome Style Book sh New Suit and 20 New Overco free on request.

N SPRING SUITINGS

Now Arriving
in the Latest Weaves
and Patterns

It will pay to make your selection and leave your order early, avoiding the delay due to the usual spring rush of work.

JAMES WALTERS,
at Tailoring, Napanee.

Barber Shop.
ing neat; first class work-ars and tobacco. Give me a J. N. OSBORNE.

ounts due Mr. J. B. Blanchard aid by March 1st. Closing owing to change of firm to l & Hudgins. 10-a-p

—Township of Richmond.
aid taxes for the year 1912, Municipality of Richmond,
aid in at Northern Crown
panee, before the first day of 13.
Z. A. Grooms, Collector.

adies' Musical Club.
h regular meeting of the ical Club, (Students' Day)
ld in the town hall this , (Friday) Feb. 14th, at 4 15
e programme being arranged
M. Stratton and Mrs. W.

d Addington Historical Society.
ular February meeting of x and Addington Historical ill be held in Historical Hall
evening, Feb. 25th, at 8
z. Canon G. L. Starr, of will deliver a lecture on y of old St. George's." The open for the general public, ce free and everyone will be nesday night, the 5th inst.,

l. boys went to Deseronto
e return game of the Quinte ries with the D. H. S. Our beaten but no one could ask er game of hockey. They r great disadvantage that e of the regular players not them. The score was 8-2 ie ups were as follows:
— Bogert Wilson, capt.,
ange, Harry Schermehorn, beock, Harry Babcock, goal, Ambridge, Ambrose Devine.
to—Jim Cole, capt., Clare
d Horace Thompson, Arthur
oal, Leo Therrien, Arthur

TRINITY METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. S. Sellery, M. A. B. D., Pastor
Sunday, Feb. 16th.
9.45—Class meeting.
10.30—Rev. Mr. Hamilton, of the Dominion Alliance, will preach.
11.45—Sunday School and Bible Classes.
7 p.m.—The Pastor.
Subject: "What is the purpose of your life."
Young People's Association Monday evening at 8 o'clock.
Topic: "An evening with Livingstone", Mrs. Milsap.
Prayer meeting on Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock.
A cordial welcome to these services.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Gouinlock, Toronto, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. G. P. Reiffenstein.
Miss Jessie Clark, Kingston, who has been visiting Mrs. Sidney Warner left on Tuesday to visit friends in Chicago.

Mrs. Leyroid, Ottawa, is the guest of Mrs. Alice Gibson.

Dr. J. P. Vrooman spent Sunday in Toronto.

Miss Amelia Miller, Ernestown, has been visiting friends in Deseronto for a week.

Rev. J. P. Wilson, of Grace Church, preaches Educational Sermons in Lindsay on Sunday.

Mr. Alfred Joyce, of Hamilton, is visiting in town, the guest of his father-in-law, Mr. Nicholas Vanalstine, Mill street. Mr. Joyce is recovering from an illness which confined him to the hospital in Hamilton
for the past seven weeks.

The Humboldt Journal last week
contained the following: "At the service in Westminster church on Sunday evening, Miss Alice Paul, of Napanee, Ont., rendered the solo, "Lead Kindly Light", to a very appreciative audience. Miss Paul possesses a rich, mellow, flexible voice of remarkable sweetness and brilliancy."

BIRTHS.

SCRIMSHAW—At Gretna, on Wednesday, January 12th, 1913, to Mr. and Mrs. Almond Scrimshaw, a son.

RED RHEUMATISM REMEDY cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Headache, Lumbago and Sciatica. It acts directly on the blood and purifies it.
ELIMINATES THE URIC ACID AND CURES RHEUMATISM BY ERADICAT-ING THE CAUSE. If you cannot call at the store for it we will send it to you by mail 25c. package, postage paid. Money refunded if not satisfactory. E. E. Jessop, Phm. B., Napanee, Ont.

HOCKEY MATCH

Saturday Night
Feb. 15th

Kingston City Champions

Napanee Seniors

Admission 25c. Children 10c.

Notice.

All rate-payers and property-holders in the town of Napanee who desire to form a property-holders and rate-payers association for the town are respectfully requested to attend a meeting called for that purpose in the Town Hall, on Feb. 14th, at 8 o'clock
p. m.

Napanee, Feb. 6th, 1913. 9-b

Sunday, February 16th.

Services at S. Mary Magdalene Church:

10.30 a.m.—Holy Communion.

7 p.m.—Evensong.

At the evening service on Sunday in St. Mary Magdalene Church, Rev.
Prof. Hallam, of Wycliffe College,
Toronto, will be the preacher.

W. E. KIDD, M. A., Vicar.

Balm of Gilead Dairy and Poultry Farm.

Having been solicited by a goodly number of townspeople and having, as we all know, one of the best natural dairy farms in the vicinity of Napanee, with a strictly up-to-date, sanitary dairy barn, Mr. Robert H. McGinness, Belleville Road, has decided to put a delivery outfit in the town every morning with pure milk and cream. 10-a

Hogs Wanted.

Messrs. J. W. Hall and C. W.
Hambly will ship hogs on Monday,
Feb. 17th., 1913. Highest market prices will be paid for hogs weighing 150lbs. and over, under that weight not wanted. All hogs must be delivered before 1 o'clock.

C. W. HAMBLY.
J. W. HALL.

Trinity Church Notes.

Rev. Arthur B. Ransom, of Albert College, Belleville, preached two able sermons last Sunday. The pastor was preaching in Dublin St. Church, Guelph. Rev. J. P. Wilson gave an interesting address on Monday evening to the Young People's Association
on the subject of character. Rev. Mr.
Hamilton, who represents the Dominion Alliance, will preach on the Temperance question. The Pastor will preach in the evening. The choir is preparing a splendid programme of music for the church anniversary
which will be held on Sunday, March 2nd.

Free.

Prof. Lawson Caesar, B. S. A., of the Ontario Agricultural College staff, will give an illustrated lecture on "Insects injurious to the garden and orchard," in the Historical Hall, Napanee, on Wednesday evening, Feb. 19th, at 8 o'clock. Prof. Caesar has over 100 slides in colors illustrating the life histories of insects, and he will give a practical talk on each insect as the slides are put through. All up-to-date information on spraying will be given by Prof. Caesar, who has been conducting experiments in spraying over Ontario the last three years to test the efficiency of various sprays. At present Prof. Caesar is investigating the life-history and remedy for the Railroad Worm or Apple Maggot, which is troublesome in Lennox County. All interested in spraying and injurious insects are cordially invited to be present Wednesday evening, Feb. 19th, at 8 o'clock sharp. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Napanee Horticultural Society. Admission free.

BIG SNAPS

We have a lot of "High Grade" Goods, best in their
class.

See them before you buy.

Sweater Coats
Motor Scarfs
Mufflers,
Gloves and Mitts
Aviation Caps
Toques
Socks
Handkerchiefs
Suspenders
Arm Bands
Garters, etc.

—0—

A. E. LAZIER

RURAL DEANERY OF LENNOX AND ADDINGTON.

Official Visit of the Right Reverend W.
L. Mills, D. D., Lord Bishop of Ontario.

Sunday, April 20—11 a. m., Odessa ;
3 p. m., Morven ; 7 p. m., Napanee.

Monday, April 21—8 p. m., Deseronto.

Tuesday, April 22—11 a. m., Kingsford ; 3 p. m., Selby ; 7 p. m., Strathcona.

Sndday, April 27—11 a. m., Camden
East ; 3 p. m., Newburgh ; 7 p. m., Yarker.

Wednesday, April 30—8 p. m., Amherst Island, Stella.

Thursday, May 1—11 a. m., Emerald ;
8 p. m., Bath.

Friday, May 2—11 a. m., Fredericksburgh ; 8 p. m., Adolphustown.

Saturday, May 3—11 a. m., Hav Bay.

Tuesday, May 20—10 a. m., Enterprise ; 7.30 p. m., Tamworth.

Wednesday, May 21—10.30 a. m., Marlbank.

Wednesday, May 28—8 p. m., Flinton.

Thursday, May 29—11 a. m., Cloyne ;
3 p. m., Harlowe.

J. W. Jones, Rural Dean,

Flashlights.

Fresh stock of Tungsten Batteries, flashlights, and Osram lamps at BOYLE & SON'S.

George Wilson, capt.,
 range, Harry Schermehorn,
 cock, Harry Babcock, goal, Cambridge, Ambrose Devine,
 to—Jim Cole, capt., Clare
 d Horace Thompson, Arthur
 oal, Leo Therrien, Arthur

s. P. Fitzpatrick refereed in style, both teams being ith his impartiality and fair-

Class.

idents of the Agricultural aking keen interest in the ty bushels of a superior grade
 . No. 21 barley has been by the boys. The student ices the biggest net return
 re of barley during the seal will be given a two weeks
 o the Short Course in Live Seed Judging at the On-cultural College next winter.
 Some silver medals have ted by F. Chinneck to the
 ; the best work in Judging
 ttle and Heavy Horses.
 f new and superior varieties
 id late potatoes, seed corn
 re being distributed to each
 r testing and propagation.
 y new and better varieties roduced. The course will ill February, and will close 28th, with a class banquet.

on globes for 25 cents at HOW ME "

he very type of man we after—the one who says
 ," when we claim to offer
 men's garments in town—Century Brand make. We you if you but give us the
 y. Fall styles now ready.

GRAHAM CO.'S.

Napanee Ont.

ne Style Book showing 20
 and 20 New Overcoat Models
 quest.

Napanee Seniors

Admission 25c. Children 10c.

Morven Concert.

A twenty century concert will be held in the brick church, Morven, on Friday, Feb. 21st. A programme of high class quality, consisting of dialogues, readings, drills and choruses.
 If you want to give your lady friend a treat, come. Admission 20c. 10-a Parish of Tamworth.

Sunday, February 16th.

10.30 a.m., Tamworth.

2.30 p. m., Enterprise.

7 p. m., Marlbank.

The Rev. Lyman Cotton, B. A., of Toronto, will give a temperance address at each service on behalf of the Dominion Alliance work. Visitors cordially welcome.

Lutheran.

The Rev. Dr. R. H. Abraham, representing the Dominion Alliance, will preach in the Lutheran Church
 next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock and will probably visit the Sunday School the same day at two o'clock.

Messrs. W. J. Cummings and John Curl have been elected by the Lutheran congregation to represent them at the Temperance Convention to be held in the Town Hall, Napanee, next Monday at 2 p.m., and 8 p.m.

Morven.

At the Brick Church, Morven, at 10.30 a.m., and at the White Church
 at 7 p. m., next Sunday, the Rev. Dr.
 Abraham in the former and Rev. Wm.
 Kettlewell, in the latter, representatives of the Dominion Alliance, will preach.

Messrs. D. R. Hicks, Byron Jackson,
 A. V. Doller and J. F. Lake have been appointed delegates to the Temperance Convention to be held in the Town Hall, Napanee, on Monday, Feb.
 17th, at 2 p.m., and 8 p. m., representing the White and Brick Churches.

Illustrated lecture on
 "Insect Pests" by Prof. L.
 Caesar, Ontario Agricultural College Staff, 100 colored lantern slides, Historical Hall, Wednesday
 evening, Feb. 19th, at 8 o'clock. Admission free.

NO REASON FOR DOUBT

A Statment of Facts Backed by a Strong Guarantee.

We guarantee complete relief to all sufferers from constipation. In every case where we fail we will supply the medicine free.

Rexall Orderlies are a gentle, effective dependable and safe bowel regulator, strengthener and tonic. They re-establish nature's functions in a quiet, easy way. They do not cause any inconvenience, griping or nausea.
 They are so pleasant to take and work
 so easily that they may be taken by anyone at any time. They thoroughly tone up the whole system to healthy activity.

Rexall Orderlies are unsurpassable
 and ideal for the use of children, old folks and delicate persons. We cannot too highly recommend them to all sufferers from any form of constipation and its attendant evils. Two sizes, 10c. and 25c. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. T. B. Wallace, druggist.

ing held under the auspices of the Fresh stock of Tungssten Batteries, Napanee Horticultural Society. Ad- flashlights, and Osram lamps at mission free. BOYLE & SON'S.

By the winter's fire—think this over: One-third of all the cars on the highway are Ford cars.
 Could this remarkable condition be possible—did not the Ford indisputably excel in economy and real worth? Think it over—by the winter's fire.

See the new models on exhibition at
 The Napanee Bicycle and Automobile Works.

The balance of our Hockey Skates, Sticks and Pucks will be sold at cost to make room for new goods.

Your skates ground and concaved
 while you wait.

W. J. NORMILE.

You Can Get Neilson's Ice Cream and Ice Cream Sodas, also Hot
 Cocoa Tea, Oyster Bisque, Chocolate, Beef Tea, (Bovril or Oxo) at Jessop's Ice Cream Parlor

after the rink or any time.

For Ice Cream!
 Bricks phone 58.

Jessop's Pharmacy

The Napanee Granite and Marble Works.

We Want Your Orders

WHY?

The class of work we will give you will PLEASE YOU in every way.

Our guarantee of this is the amount of work we are turning out, and the satisfaction we are giving on every job.

Let us figure on your work and show you something in the Marble and Granite Work new in Napanee.

THE NAPANEE MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,
 Opposite Campbell House.
M. PIZZARIELLO, Prop.